FRACTURES TWO RIBS

Mr. Ireton Severin, section foreman on the Bancroft section, sustained a painful injury while at work on the track a few days ago. Making use of a lining bar, the tool slipped, the end of which struck Mr. Severin a blow in the breast, fracturing two ribs. Receiving medical attention, he is now recuperating at his home. It will be some time before he is able to resume supervision of his section.—Bancroft Times.

MISSIONARY SPEAKS

AT ST. PETER'S CHURCH

On Wednesday evening, Rev. Allen Reoch, returned missionary, gave a very interesting and informative address in St. Peter's Church. He has spent twenty years in Manchuria and is now crossing Canada on a lecture tour. He is the successor to Dr. Jonathan Goforth. Mr. Reoch refuted the remark that "The heathen has its own religion and it's good enough." He said where there is sin there is need of a Saviour. Six years ago there were 200 converts but today there are nearly 4000 and the number increasing daily.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

Pausing a brief time in a busy session members of the Women's Institute in convention in Belleville last week to recall the memory of those who had been present at previous annual meetings, but who had been called to a higher service during the past year, Mrs. T. L. Nickle of Madoc, conducted an impressive memorial service in their memory during which the hymn "Face to Face" was sung. Feeling tribute was paid by various speakers to Institute workers who had passed away. Special reference was made by Mrs. Nickle to Mr. George N. Putnam, superintendent of Women's Institutes for many years, a great leader, a true standard bearer and to many members, an intimate friend. He will long be remembered for his enthusiasm and sincere interest in the development of Women's Institutes.

Mrs. Nickle also spoke of the keen loss suffered in the death of Mrs. Colliott, formerly president of the Federated Women's Institutes of Ontario, whose vision, understanding and charm had great influence in the development of the Institutes during her term of office.

As names of the members who had died last year were read and a brief reference to their achievements made by associates present a white blossom was placed in a basket, the flower of a useful life courageously lived.

Mr. German Barager and Mrs. Bertha Blackburn of Coe Hill, had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith on Wednesday last.

AT TRINITY CHURCH

Anniversary services were held in Trinity United Church on Sunday last with Rev. John Glover of Claremont, formerly of Queensboro village, in charge. The text for the morning sermon was taken from Hebrews, tenth chapter, 15th verse: "Forget not the assembling of yourselves together. The choir sang a beautiful anthem, "The Heavens Rejoice," and Mrs. George White sang a solo, "The Lord is My Refuge."

St. Peter's congregation joined with Trinity congregation at the evening service, with Rev. Mr. Hunter assisting in the service by leading in prayer and reading the scripture lesson from 1st Corinthians, 27th verse, "Ye are the body of Christ and members in particular." Mr. and Mrs. Jones sang a duet, "There's a Beautiful Place called Heaven." Suitable hymns were chosen for the day concluding with "The Day Thou Gavest, Lord is Ended." Rev. Mr. Hunter closed with the benediction.

Rev. I. E. Kennedy was preaching in Claremont on Sunday.

OFFICIAL VISIT

Rt. Ex-Comp. Wilfred Smith, of Madoc, Grand Superintendent for Prince Edward District, made his official visit to Mount Sinai Lodge, Royal Arch Masons, on Wednesday night and was most cordially welcomed by a splendid attendance of the members. The Grand Superintendent was accompanied by the District Secretary, Ex-Comp. A. A. Pigden of Madoc. Following the chapter session a banquet was held in the assembly hall, after which the usual toasts were proposed. During the banquet hour orchestral music was given which was much enjoyed.—Napanee Express.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of the late Mrs. M. W. Connor wish to express their sincere and deep appreciation of the many kindnesses shown during the illness and death of a beloved wife and mother, also for expressions of sympathy and the many beautiful floral tributes.

GILLESPIE TALC SOLD

TO CANADA TALC CO.

Negotiations which have been under way for some time were brought to a close on Saturday, October 30th, when the Canada Talc Company took over the George H. Gillespie Company talc mine and mill. For the past thirty-one years the name of George H. Gillespie has been well known to the mining world, during which time he mined, milled and shipped talc from Madoc and his decision to retire from business will be a loss to this village. While various rumors have been in circulation regarding the purchasing of the property, Mr. Gillespie emphatically stated that he was absolutely out of the talc business and had no intention of ever getting into it again. In the deal, which was a cash one, Mr. Gillespie refused an offer for his home as he stated if one was going to live in Canada there was no better place than Madoc. As to Mr. Gillespie's plans for the future, he informed us that it was impossible to make definite plans at this time, but he intended spending the cold weather in California and to do considerable travelling in Europe.

For the present the Canada Talc Company will operate both mines and nearly all those employed by both companies will be kept on by the Canada Talc Company, which will continue the business practically the same as in the past.

MEETING OF MADOC

VILLAGE COUNCIL

Madoc Village Council met in the Council chambers on Monday evening with all members present. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

Communication from the Bell Telephone Company was received and placed on the table.

On motion of Councillors West and Henderson, the following accounts were ordered to be paid: John Burkitt, work, $15.90; William Revoxy, work, $2.70; M. Quinlin, work, $2.75; S. J. Danford, work, $5.40; N. H. Review, printing, $11.55; B. B. Tanner, work, $3.50; Municipal World, supplies, $1.38; Rex Tailoring Company, police supplies, $9.50; Thomas Belcher, special police duty, $2.00; Belleville Pottery Company, tile, $62.25; Mrs. M. Blue, relief supplies, $15.00; Norman Whytock, relief supplies, $2.50.

A by-law re Bell Telephone Company was introduced, passed, signed and sealed and numbered.

Council adjourned to meet at call of the Reeve.

A. S. Cochran, Clerk.

TWEED YOUTH IS

RELEASED ON BAIL

Vincent Prout, 17-year-old Tweed delivery boy, who was arrested at his home on Monday evening on a charge of criminal negligence following the death of Mrs. Alice MacAvoy, 70-year-old Tweed resident, was subsequently released on bail Tuesday. Crown Attorney B. C. Donnan, K.C., revealed on Wednesday.

Prout is alleged by authorities to have been riding a bicycle on the pedestrian path of a bridge in Tweed on Saturday last at which time his bicycle is reported to have struck the late Mrs. MacAvoy, knocking her down. He was arrested by Chief Hayes of Tweed, upon instructions issued by Mr. Donnan.

The adjourned inquest looking into the death of Mrs. MacAvoy continues at the Belleville police court rooms Wednesday evening.

FALL OF ROCK

INJURES MAN

A very serious accident took place at the rock quarry in Harold, when a large rock falling forty feet struck George Vilneff of Marmora, on the back. Mr. Vilneff was rushed to the Belleville General Hospital where he was examined. Two bones in the spine were broken and he was badly bruised. He was placed in a plaster cast where he must remain until February. Mr. Vilneff was removed to the home of his sister, Mrs. Joseph Lyde, Springbrook, on Friday night.

MARMORA DEFEATS

MADOC 12 TO 11

Marmora High School rugby team defeated Madoc in a thrilling game at Deloro Monday. Marmora had already beaten Madoc in a disputed game a week ago to win the C.H.S. title but to keep good feeling among the schools, consented to play Madoc again and to prove their superiority.

In the first quarter Madoc proved to be the aggressor and by continued plunging by their star full-back, Embury, were able to gain yards repeatedly. The Marmora team was not in there fighting as hard as they usually are and made many foolish blunders. Near the end of the quarter on an exchange of fumbles, Madoc with a beautiful forward pass were able to get a touchdown. They failed to convert. Marmora had made a point before this on a kick by Hart.

In the second quarter Marmora again seemed spellbound as Madoc made yards after yards. Marmora with very tricky plays would likely have scored a few touchdowns this quarter, but owing to the slippery ground fumbled incessantly. Madoc with another wonderful forward again scored a touchdown and also converted for the extra point. At half-time the score was Madoc 11, Marmora 1.

With a biting pep talk by Coach Fraser, under their belts the Marmora boys came out for the last half determined to win or die for their Alma Mater. The cheer leader with his "mob" led yell after yell for their inspired team. Marmora then marched down the field to their awaited touchdown No. 1. They failed to convert, however.

In the fourth quarter Marmora were still trailing by five points. The period progressed rapidly with Madoc fighting to keep their lead. Five minutes were left. The Marmora rooters were imploring their team for a touch. Madoc had the ball at their own 20-yard line. They kicked to Marmora's 36-yard line where Hollingsworth, the smart quarter for Marmora, received the ball and after eluding the entire enemy team ran for a touch. Marmora rooters broke loose in a volley of cheers. Even Madoc cheered the magnificent broken field run. The score was tied. Marmora lined up for the play and tried for the extra point. The crowd was silent, the ball was snapped, Hollingsworth received the ball, and set it up. Hart kicked... it was over. If the crowd yelled before you should have heard them then. The final score: Marmora 12, Madoc 11.

Marmora now plays Albert College for the C.O.S.S.A. championship and these games should prove interesting as they both have smart teams.

Madoc—Quarter, Munro; halves, Irwin, Keller and Reeves; outsides, Stewart and Naylor; middles, Bristol and Foster; insides, Hawthorne and Bassett; flying wing, Heyworth; snapt, Moon.

Marmora—Quarter, Hollingsworth; halves, Hart, J. Gray and Leonard; outsides, Bertrand and W. Reynolds; middles, Regan and E. Reynolds; insides, C. Reynolds and R. Gray; flying wing, Haack; snap, Nobes; subs, R. Lumsden, W. Gray, and M. McInroy.—Ontario-Intelligencer.

HERE AND THERE

If all who take pleasure in hunting would remember four little words—Stop! Look! Make sure!—there would be none of these hunting fatalities which disgrace the newspapers of British Columbia every time the hunting season comes around. There is not one of these accidents but could have been prevented. In every case human carelessness is the prime cause of a hunter being killed, maimed or injured to some degree or other. The prevention is simple. It requires only that those carrying lethal weapons should always remember to Stop, Look and Make Sure. Don't walk behind a companion with a cocked gun pointing toward him; don't grab a gun by the muzzle and pull it toward you when getting out of a car, boat, or when crawling under a fence; don't guess, be sure it is not a human being at which you are shooting and don't forget to unload your gun.—Kamloops Sentinel.

When an individual comes into possession of money, it always causes discussion. It is so in London, Ont., where a teacher in one of the secondary schools has inherited $695,000. People want to know what she intends to do. Actually it is not necessary for her to teach school any more in order to earn a living. But she intends to keep on teaching. We learn that teaching school has meant a good deal to this lady. She has found in her classes now and then pupils whom she was certain had unusual ability, but they were not able to go far forward higher education because they had no financial backing. On several occasions we find this teacher has supplied the funds from her own earnings. When it came to the matter of repaying the loan her attitude was this: "I don't want you to worry about paying it back, but when you are in a position where you have some extra money, pay some other person's expenses." So there is nothing to worry about because that school teacher in London has inherited $695,000 or say other amount! She knows how to use money.—Forest Standard.

OVERDOING IT

The danger of overdoing an argument is illustrated by Mark Twain's experience at a meeting to raise funds for foreign missions. "When the speaker had talked ten minutes," Twain said, "I was so impressed that I decided to give every cent I had with me. After another ten minutes, I concluded that I'd throw into the treasury all the silver I had about me. Ten minutes later I decided I wouldn't give anything, and at the end of the talk, still ten minutes later, as the contribution plate came around I was so utterly exhausted by the arguments that I extracted $2. for my own use.—The Lookout, London.

UNITY IS EMPIRE'S NEED

Right Hon. R. B. Bennett, Federal Conservative leader, warned last week that the British Empire cannot hope to remain intact unless a greater amount of co-operation and a stronger sense of unity is developed. "Where there are hundreds of millions of people in the world clamoring for land where you have one-seventy-fifth of the world's people occupying one-seventh of the land, you have danger," he pointed out. "We must learn to co-ordinate our efforts as a united people." As it is now, Canada knows little, for example, about Australia, and its problems. Australia may know less about us; but it is our business to get to know each other.

NO MORE "WAR RISK" POLICIES

Lloyd's of London last week dropped writing "war risk" policies, not only for China and Japan, but for anywhere on earth. Joined by all other British insurance firms of consequence, they announced that "the writing of war risk insurance on land has become in fact little more than a gamble, which plays no part in insurance, where rates are based on scientific application of the law of averages as ascertained through experience."

The British insurers believe that they have made "a substantial contribution to the cause of world peace," explaining that property owners unable to take out war risk policies will be forced to start "working for peace."

THE GREATEST DANGER

When you examine 700 highway accidents and find that 255 of them occurred on straightaway stretches and only 125 at admittedly dangerous curves, you do not have to go far to find the only possible explanation, which is excessive speed. Barring a few plain lunatics, the very great majority of drivers take such hazards as bad curves, hill crests, etc., with a certain degree of caution. But the wide-open modern road, properly surfaced, marked and banked, is too much of a temptation for a multitude of people who are in too much of a hurry even to think. That is why the majority of accidents happen where there is least excuse for them.—Montreal Star.

PUNCTUAL MEETINGS

Now that meetings are starting again, we are back to the old way of wasting time waiting for them to begin. Choir practices, bridge games, concerts and meetings of every description, they are all alike, seldom start on time. You who are responsible for the conduct of these meetings could change all that. You say, you can't start when there is nobody there. If there is no one there at the appointed time, start with the first person who comes. I guarantee it will only take three meetings to get people there on time. The first few may be on time; the second, several more will be there and by the third, you will have few late comers. Your meetings will be disturbed with those latecomers but isn't it worth while to put up with it for a couple of meetings for the sake of getting started on time? Of course, Madam President, to start on time, you and your officers must be there yourselves. We all know how it goes. We are late when we could just as well be on time, but we think, what is the use, they never start on time anyhow. If we knew the meeting would start to the moment, we would be there. Try it and see if three meetings started on time will not bring results.—Trenton Courier-Advocate.

IT'S HOT FOWL SUPPER TIME

This is the season of pumpkin pie, cider and hot fowl suppers, and while one is likely to get plenty of the first two mentioned palatable dishes at home, the third and big item is left for the various organizations throughout the towns and smaller centres to provide. And yearly these bounteous repasts provided by the good housewives of our country are becoming more and more popular, with price a secondary consideration. An individual who picks and chooses, scowls and frowns at home when the food is passed for his inspection, becomes a ravenous, uncouth, devouring monster, two or three helpings of white and dark meat, accompanying helpings of potatoes, gravy, salads, jellies and pickles, a piece each of the several kinds of tempting pie, two cups of tea, a piece of chocolate and white cake and a few tarts are taken on board with apparent little effort, when he attends such a supper as this. Yes, there is no doubt that the general public enjoy a church or society hot fowl supper, not alone for the joy of seeing how much food they can consume, but for the spirit of happiness and good fellowship which permeates the atmosphere, and while this editorial is not an advertising stunt, we would advise our readers to scan the local columns and correspondence for announcements of these functions.—Express-Herald, Newmarket.

ENGLISH'S SCHOOL LOG, S. S. NO. 8, MADOC

Settlement began in this section at least as early as 1801. Pioneer settlers at that time were William Lough, William Hopson, James Brown, William Phillips, William Nickle, James Nickle, James Robinson, Patrick Carman, Charles English, Thomas Robinson, John Wannamaker, John Nickle, Sam Nelson, Mark Runnett, John Cook and Wm. McGinnis.

The nationality consisted of English, Irish and Scotch.

The first school that served the community was built of logs and was situated on the farm of Mr. Thomas Robinson, a few feet south of the present site. This was rather a low spot and the ground was covered with water in the spring. Hence a board walk was necessary in order to enter the school. It was built by different members in the section. The seats consisted of benches arranged about the class room.

The present school, erected in 1874, is a white frame building built on a higher tract of ground north of the old one. It is a medium sized school with two windows each on the south and north sides, while the two on the west face the road.

A lobby or hall six feet wide reaches across the west side. At the east end or back of the school is a woodshed.

Heat is supplied by a box stove (cordwood length) not entirely situated in the centre of the room. The old blackboards were formerly constructed of heavy painted paper. These have gradually been replaced by slate. In 1928 single seats were added to replace the older type which were three feet long and double. There are five rows of seats in all.

In 1929 music was introduced as a special subject with Miss Ramsay as supervisor, but since her death in 1931 the work has been continued by Mrs. Alexander for one year.

In 1931 a planetarium was added to the equipment. A First Aid kit was provided for the school by the Women's Institute of Bannockburn and Eldorado in the year 1930. In the year 1937 a mirror was obtained from the funds of Christmas concert. A well was dug south of the school in the year 1935.

The school is equipped with maps and a globe. It has a fairly good library which is replenished by the addition of new books.

Men from this section who served in the Great War are: James Coats, Beryl Carman and Robert Nickle, the last of whom made the supreme sacrifice.

Those who served as secretary-treasurer are: John Pack, James Nickle, John Chambers and Beryl Carman. The present trustees for the year 1937 are: Mr. J. Chambers, Mr. Mac Cann and Mr. Albert Nickle.

The inspectors have been: Mr. W. Mackintosh, Mr. Minns, and the present inspector, Mr. A. W. McGuire.

Some of the teachers in the old schools as remembered by older residents are, Miss Canniff and Miss Bond.

1879—Maggie Watson.
1880—Amelia North.
1881—Mary Coyle.
1882—M. A. Thompson.
1883-84—J. McKimmell.

TRUCK DRIVER WITH

BROKEN LEGS DIGS SELF

OUT OF GRAVEL PIT

Showing remarkable coolness and presence of mind, although suffering intense pain from a broken leg, digging himself out inch by inch from a pile of earth and stones which had buried him to the neck when it fell on him in a gravel pit on the farm of his father-in-law, Horace Calnan, near Mountain View, Luther Alyea, truck driver residing on the second concession of Ameliasburg, calmly dragged himself to his waiting truck clambered in the cab and drove to his home for help Thursday afternoon.

Dr. Vanluven of Coneseon, was summoned and after preliminary examination ordered the injured man to Belleville General Hospital where the fracture was reduced and other injuries treated.

Alyea was loading his truck with gravel in the pit about one-quarter mile from the home of Calnan, when without warning a large overhanging lip of earth and stones fell on him, fracturing his right leg.

Buried in the loose earth, Alyea yelled for help. The strong wind blowing carried his voice in the opposite direction. An hour passed and no response was made to his frantic cries. Wriggling his arms and body, suffering excruciating pain, Alyea managed to free his arms from the dirt and pushed and pulled away the remainder of the earth until he was free.

Dragging himself along the ground he crawled to the cab of his truck standing a few feet away, managed to crawl in the cab and drove the vehicle to the home of his father-in-law where he received medical attention.

No internal injuries were suffered by Alyea, and at present he is resting comfortably in hospital.

OLD-TIME BOOM TOWN

LOSES LONE SURVIVOR

Bent with the passage of years and eyes blurred by near-blindness, Joseph Smith, 95-year-old prospector, last survivor of the one-time booming Silver City in the Rockies, has left his half-century-old cabin for the comfort of an old folks' home.

For fifty years Joseph Smith has lived at the foot of Castle Mountain, his cabin and storehouse all that is left of the one-time boom mining town. He came there bright with the hope of fortune and adventure, saw Silver City, twenty miles west of Banff, grow into a thriving town, saw dreams of wealth fade, and all others leave, but still held on in the blind faith of "prospectors' luck" in his mountain home.

To one who was a man of wealth when he himself contributed handsomely to the Lacombe Home near Midnapore, founded by his one-time priest friend, the revered pioneer priest, Father Lacombe, where he henceforth will live in comfort. But through recent years he has known hardship and loneliness, disappointments, and the increasing loss of his sight, stubbornly, however, he held on, and only the insistent intercession of friends finally induced him to leave his cabin.

DR. DAFOE PLAYS CUPID TO COUPLE

A New York girl and a Toronto boy met in the front yard of Dr. A. R. Dafeo while on a visit to Callander to see the Dionne quintuplets. Now Dr. Dafeo plans to accept an invitation to be the guest of honor at the wedding.

On November 7th Annette Glnold and Sydney Marcus will be married. In a letter to Dr. Dafeo she tells about the "love at first sight" meeting in Callander. She and her mother came in the summer of 1936 to see the quintuplets and Dr. Dafeo. Sydney arrived at the same time to pay his respects to Dr. Dafeo. Love bloomed.

"You have changed the whole course of my life," Miss Glnold assured Dr. Dafeo. "Thus the quintuplets proved to be our five little cupids. May I thank you for the happiness I found through them and you."

About two hundred and fifty pupils have attended the present school since its erection. One of the former teachers, Mr. Wood, who taught in the year 1887 has become an outstanding evangelist. He, accompanied by Rev. Mr. Adamson, visited the school on the 24th of October, 1928, and spoke to the children for fifteen minutes. Maude and William Nickle, who attended the school adopted the teaching profession. They also served as teachers in the section.

On October 28, 1928, the school was visited by the Medical Health Officer. Any information which may have been omitted would be appreciated greatly for a permanent record to be placed in the register.

CHEESE PATRONS DECIDE TO WITHDRAW REPRESENTATIVE TO ENGLAND

John A. Bell, Reeve of Marmora and Lake Township, and president of Marmora Cheese Factory for almost twenty years, was the representative chosen by the Hastings County Cheese Patrons' Association to attend a special meeting of the Provincial body which was held in Ottawa on Wednesday of last week.

At this meeting the advisability of retaining the special representative in England was considered. Due to the fact that better prices for cheese have been obtainable in Canada this year, than have been procured in England, it was unanimously decided to withdraw the representative in England.

Every county in the province was represented at this meeting.

U. S. MOTORISTS REPORT HEAVY SNOW STORM SUNDAY AT SYRACUSE

Evidence of a severe snowstorm experienced by residents of the northern part of New York State was seen in three inches of snow that covered the running boards and fenders of the car of friends of Everett Scott, Picton farmer, when they paid him a visit on Sunday.

During one part of the journey the travellers were forced to stop, borrow a shovel and clear away snow before continuing on their journey from Syracuse to Picton via Cape Vincent, Mr. Scott said.

NEWS AND INFORMATION FOR THE BUSY FARMER

Canadian Apple Exports

The 1937 seasonal movement of Canadian apples to the United Kingdom markets up to October 7th amounted to 336,180 barrels and 211,455 boxes, compared with 140,335 barrels and 207,140 boxes during the previous season. This represents an increase of 140 per cent in barrels and two per cent in boxes. A large increase is also noted in the export of apples from the United States to the British markets, this season's export consisting of 131,211 barrels and 160,161 boxes, compared with 30,603 barrels and 222,378 boxes. Although the United States exports are considerably smaller in bulk than the Canadian, the increase amounts to 329 per cent in barrels, but a decrease of 28 per cent in boxes.

Current Crop Report

Fall wheat generally looks reasonably good. Fall plowing is in full swing, made easier by recent rains in most districts. Halton County reports an excellent crop of roots this year. Huron County also reports mangels and turnips a very good crop. The field bean crop there has yielded exceptionally well and the average will be 20 to 21 bushels per acre. Live stock in Brant is in most other areas is in good condition, due to unusually good pasture conditions. The corn crop in Wentworth more than filled the silos this year. Prince Edward had the largest tomato crop in the county's history this year. Reports of 500 to 600 bushels per acre were quite common. The quality of buckwheat in Frontenac is very good. Sudbury district reports that one car load of purebred Ayrshires were brought into that area recently. These cattle were purchased in Old Ontario at an average cost of $200.

National Cheese Week

For the purpose of calling attention to the advantages of cheese as an item of food, and at the same time to give information about the many ways of serving this very fine concentrated form of milk, National Cheese Week was instituted in Canada in 1934 by the Dairy Industry of Canada. This year (1937) National Cheese Week will be held from October 29th to November 6th, inclusive. Apart from its high value as a food cheese has a peculiar interest to Canadians for more than one reason. The development of the cheese industry in Canada is practically the history of the development of the dairy industry of the country, and cheese was among the first of the farm products to advance the name of Canada among other nations as a producer of food. Further, at the present time, seventeen per cent of the total population of Canada is directly dependent on the dairy industry for a living, there being over 316,000 farmers in Canada producing milk for market, seven per cent of this production being utilized for cheese.

Timothy Seed Supply

The amount of timothy seed sown in Canada annually is estimated at from 8,000,000 to 12,000,000 pounds. Naturally, in years of high prices, the demand is less than when the seed is reasonably cheap.

Present indications are that domestic supplies will go far in meeting demand in Canada in 1938. The carry-over in Canada was about 3 1/4 million pounds from 1936 and production this year should be about 4,250,000 pounds. In the United States there is a large supply of timothy seed which is selling reasonably cheap and is estimated to be sufficient for three years' requirements. Present prices on track at Chicago are from $2.25 to $2.75 per cwt. for country-run seed, which is about half the price in that market a year ago. Incidentally, timothy seed prices in Canada are influenced by Chicago prices, but imported seed is of course, subjected to the added cost of duty of about one cent per pound and increased freight and other incidental changes which amount to around another four cents per pound.

The bulk of the production of timothy seed in Canada this year is in Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia.

CUTTING THE FUELWOOD (By I. C. Marritt)

The farmer who owns a 10-15 acre woodlot is envied by his neighbor in the sections where many farms have the entire acreage cleared for cropping and pasture, as he has a supply of fuelwood and timber close to hand and he does not have to make a cash outlay. Due to the increasing scarcity of fuelwood in many of the better agricultural districts, more owners of woodland are giving attention to their woodlots in order that they may be preserved and that they will give larger financial returns over a period of years.

The annual cutting of fuelwood may be made the starting point in a more efficient scheme of management. In many cases the fuelwood may be secured from a woodlot and it will be more valuable in better condition for future growth, and present a more pleasing appearance. The method and care that is taken today will make a difference of hundreds of dollars in the value of the woodlot 15, 20 and 50 years hence. Rather than considering only the present; that is securing the best wood in the shortest time and with the least work, the owner should cut the trees that will improve future growing conditions.

Examples

1. Thin a second growth stand rather than clean-cut a small area.
2. Cut the large trees that have to be worked up with cross-cut rather than take the 5"-10" diameter trees that may be sawn with buzz-saw and split easily.

The following rules might well be used as a rough guide in selecting trees to be cut and saved in a fuelwood operation.

Cut

1. Dead trees.
2. Unsound and rotting trees.
3. Crooked trees.
4. Poor species of timber trees.
5. Short bushy crowned trees.
6. Some trees where stand is too thick (thinning).
7. Trees that are shading and interfering with the growth of others beneath them.

Save

1. Straight trees.
2. Sound trees.
3. Tall, well-crowned trees.
4. Better species of trees.
5. Enough trees to make a full stand.

Trees 2"-10" in diameter of the more valuable species should be saved from breakage if possible when large trees are felled. The large tree should be felled in the direction where least damage will result. This may be done by wedging, pulling it with a rope, cutting off large limbs before felling, or bending the small trees over with a rope until large tree is felled.

Farmers who have not fenced their woodlot from stock would be well advised to consider fencing part at least as protection from stock now will mean that there will be a woodlot on the farm 25, 50 and 75 years hence, because small trees always start in a woodlot that is not pastured by stock. A cultivated field or pasture may be squared by taking in a corner of the woodlot. The fuelwood could be cut from the part in with pasture of cultivated field. The woodland area could be increased by including the cleared corner with the woodlot and planting it with forest trees next spring.

SHOKE SENTENCED TO HANG JANUARY 22

A drama of the North country neared its end on Tuesday, its chief actor awaiting the fall of the curtain in a death cell in Sudbury jail.

Next Jan. 22 Tom Pornomarenko, will die for the murder of Sergeant Fred Davidson of the Sudbury police force, shot down July 11 while questioning Pornomarenko and Victor Gray about stolen license plates in an automobile. At least seven bullets from a revolver were fired by Gray as the other lay helpless upon the ground.

An Assize Court jury Monday found Pornomarenko guilty of murder as charged by the Crown and Mr. Justice G. F. McFarland immediately sentenced him to death. During the three-day trial Pornomarenko contended he had been forced by Gray into joining him in a trail of crime through Northern Ontario.

The greatest manhunt in Northern Ontario's history ended in a Spanish River rock cut 25 miles west of Sudbury last July 22 when a police posse trapped Pornomarenko and Gray. Gray was killed by police bullets and Pornomarenko, seriously wounded, was captured. He recovered to stand trial for Sgt. Davidson's murder.

McQUESTEN DECLARES PRESS MOST POTENT SAFETY FORCE

The press of Ontario is the most important single factor in the war being waged against highway deaths and accidents, according to an opinion expressed last week by Hon. T. B. McQuesten, Minister of Highways for the province.

"Although conclusive statistics have not yet been completed," said Mr. McQuesten, "there can be no question that the 'fear' campaign which the Highways Department has conducted during the past several months has had a definite effect on the reduction of the horrible carnage and needless waste which has been stalking our highways."

"It is quite evident," he declared, "that whatever success this campaign has achieved is due in great measure to the whole-hearted co-operation which has been extended to the Department of Highways by editors in every Ontario community, and I wish through the medium of the press to extend to them this department's warmest gratitude for the public-spirited way in which they have used their news and editorial columns to save human lives and prevent misery and destruction."

Comments have been pouring into his office every day, the Minister said both from motorists and pedestrians concerning the effectiveness of the department's campaign. The most significant, he maintained, came from scores of travelling salesmen and truck drivers.

"These men," said Mr. McQuesten, "are driving on the highways every hour of the day and each day in the week. They, perhaps more than any other groups, are more quick to observe changes in the driving habits of the motorists of the province, and they have been almost unanimous in commenting on the general improvement in highway motoring. They report less cutting in, less passing on hills and curves, and a noticeable reduction in all the bad, careless, thoughtless habits which result in death and destruction on the highway."

But there is still much work to be done, pointed out the minister. People are still being slaughtered on the roads of the province, and automobiles are still piling themselves up in twisted heaps of wreckage. The war against thoughtlessness, recklessness and stupidity on the highways must be carried on until people can travel in complete safety and pleasure.

To this end, he called for the unceasing aid of Ontario editors and every pedestrian and motorist in the province.

"The Department of Highways," stated Mr. McQuesten, "is doing everything it can to design and construct highways which will be as accident-proof as engineering science can make them, but this can be of little effect unless the human beings who travel the highways take upon themselves the responsibility of controlling the ever-present 'human factor' in accident prevention. Engineers can mold concrete and steel to the ends of safety, but no force more potent than the press has been found which can mold human minds into paths of life-saving thoughtfulness."

AVERAGE AGE OF CABINET MINISTERS IS ONLY FORTY YEARS

With the average age of its fourteen ministers approximately 47 years Premier Hepburn's second Liberal administration may lay claim to being the youngest government on record in Canada. Mr. Hepburn himself is 41.

Two ministers are still in their thirties, eight in the forties, two in the fifties and two in the sixties.

Hon. Eric W. Cross, Minister of Municipal Affairs and Welfare, is the youngest at 32 and Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Lands and Forests, is the oldest at 62.

The ages of the other Hepburn ministers are: Colin Campbell, Public Works, 38; Harold J. Kirby, health, 42; W. L. Houck, no portfolio, 44; P. M. Dewar, agriculture, 46; H. C. Nixon, provincial secretary and game and fisheries, 46; Paul Leduc, mines, 48; T. B. McQuesten, highways, 55; L. J. Simpson, education, 55; M. M. MacBride, labor, 60; Gordon Conant, Attorney-General, about 45, and A. St. Clair Gordon, no portfolio, about 42.

Norman Hipel, re-named speaker of the new legislature, is 47; James H. Clark, deputy speaker is 49; Ian T. Strachan, new party whip, is only 39; and Dr. M. T. Armstrong, deputy whip, is 50 years of age.

eration is being performed at the County Hospital in an effort to save the sight of the eye. Howard was driving some cows on the Fraser farm carrying a stick which unfortunately struck him in the eye, puncturing the eyelid.

FUTILE ATTEMPT TO ROB PREMISES MADE IN PICTON

Disturbed in their depredations by 15-year-old Louie Yong, who was sleeping in the rear of the building, burglars who had dragged a large safe to the front door made a hurried getaway shortly after three o'clock Monday morning after a futile attempt to rob the premises of Shannon Brothers, Picton, barbers and tobacconists. The men who coolly circled two business blocks after being disturbed and stopped their car near the Royal Hotel became alarmed when police put in an appearance and drove rapidly in the direction of Belleville early Monday.

Chief of Police Bert Biddle, who was notified immediately, got in touch with Belleville authorities. Police Constables Evans and Arnot were dispatched to the Bay Bridge but the alleged bandit car roared past them and disappeared in an easterly direction. Napanee police were warned of their approach.

GAS POISONING PROVES FATAL

R. W. Swain, 91-year-old resident of Valenteia Village, 12 miles south of Lindsay, died from gas poisoning early Monday. His wife is in a critical condition.

Dr. G. C. R. Hall, Little Britain, is administering oxygen to the elderly woman in an attempt to overcome the effects of the coal gas, which escaped from the stove when the lid was left partly off.

The house was filled with gas early Monday morning and the couple, pioneers of Victoria County, were overcome in their beds. Mrs. Thomas Chambers, daughter, and Emerson Swain choking. The elderly man died before medical aid could be summoned while Mrs. Swain was taken to Lindsay Hospital for treatment.

Besides Mrs. Chambers, Mrs. G. Joblin of Sonys and Arthur Swain of Valenteia are children of the aged couple.

KINGSTON WANTS SHARE OF GASOLINE TAX

Session of the Royal Commission on transportation in Kingston is being asked by the City Council. The decision of the council was made with a view to getting a portion of the gasoline tax for the upkeep of Provincial Highway No. 2, which passes through Kingston.

It is likely that Belleville, Napanee, Gananoque and Brockville will be asked to join Kingston in the request.

WOMAN STATES PRAYER ANSWERED

Thirty-year-old Leona Villeneuve, of Cornwall, paralytic who owns a "weeping" statuette of Christ, said Sunday she had received an answer to her prayer of nine days ago and felt convinced she would recover from an illness that has kept her in bed for the last 13 years.

The woman said she was able to eat solid food Sunday for the first time in four months, after being told she would never do so again. She said she was able to move her paralyzed left arm and leg which had previously felt "heavy and cold." The limbs, she said, seem lighter and warmer. "It feels as if the blood is circulating."

PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS

On Monday evening, October 25th, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Elliott, Rawdon, was the scene of a large gathering when over one hundred and fifty friends and neighbors of Bethel community gathered to honor their daughter, Mildred, and her husband, Mr. Harry Morrow.

During the evening Rev. J. E. Beckel gave the happy couple seats of honour and briefly addressed the gathering. All joined in a round of community singing. Miss Laurene Scott, A.T.C.M., contributing a piano solo and a humorous reading. Master Bobby Elliott sang a solo with his mother, Mrs. Harold Elliott, as accompanist. The Misses Blanche and Eida McMullen delighted with a vocal duet with guitar accompaniment.

Miss Irene Tucker sang a comic number with her sister, Laura, as accompanist. Little Misses Ruth and Vivian Welbourne sang a cute song and their mother accompanied them. Brief addresses were given by Messrs. John Scott, B. C. Tucker and George Bailey.

Miss Mona Barron read an address of appreciation, Mildred and Harry both graciously replying thanking their friends for all the kind words and large array of beautiful gifts. They also invited one and all to visit them in their home at River Valley.

At the close a dainty lunch was served. The young people were the recipients of many beautiful gifts, both useful and ornamental. The address follows:

Bethel, October 25, 1937.

Dear Mildred and Harry:

With mingled feelings of admiration and good will, we, your Bethel and community friends, have assembled this evening to extend our congratulations and best wishes for a very happy wedded life and to wish you all happiness as you begin life's greatest career together.

No words, Mildred, can adequately express our appreciation for the services you have rendered our community, especially in the church your talent and co-operation have been indispensable as organist, as officer in our Young People's Society, as unity class member, and C.G.I.T. leader, we feel sure that the same qualities which have endeared you to Bethel will win a place for you in your new church and community. May the best joy and happiness the world has to offer be yours.

Although rather a stranger to many of us as yet Harry, we congratulate you on your choice of a bride and on the other hand admire Mildred's choice of a husband. We heartily welcome you to our midst and wish for you and Mildred the best of everything.

As a token of our sincere esteem and regard we ask you to accept these gifts and as you use them may they remind you of days and friends of Bethel.

Signed on behalf of the community: Betty Sine, Ella Sutherland, Evelyn Bailey, Laura Tucker, Mae Johnson, Mona Barron.

The bride is another of Rawdon's popular girls and has been the very efficient organist at Bethel United Church.

YEAR SENTENCE

Found not guilty on a charge of manslaughter but guilty on a charge of criminal negligence by a Supreme Court jury at Cobourg on Wednesday afternoon of last week, Russell Abernethy was on Friday sentenced to two years less one day, in the Reformatory at Guelph. The Court was presided over by His Lordship Mr. Justice Jeffrey.

The charge of manslaughter was laid following the death in May, 1937, by drowning, of Miss Florence Watt, when a car driven by the accused ran off the canal drive to the south of the town and plunged into the waters of the Trent Canal. Miss Watt was a passenger in the automobile.

The case occupied part of two days, commencing on Tuesday of last week when eleven witnesses for the Crown testified.

When the sessions were resumed on Wednesday morning, G. N. Gordon, K.C., counsel for the accused, made a motion for non-suit, submitting that the Crown had not definitely shown that the accused was the driver of the automobile in which Miss Watt was riding. Mr. Gordon claimed there was not evidence of excessive speed nor of gross negligence. The motion was denied by His Lordship and Mr. Gordon announced that no evidence would be adduced for the defendant.

The Dominion Archives has received a photostatic copy of the original British North America Act, it was announced Thursday by J. F. Kenney, Archivist. It is a copy of the printed bill, certified by the Clerk of the British House of Commons.

MAKE SURVEY OF MOIRA RIVER

A survey of the course of the Moira River through Belleville to the Bay of Quinte, has been made by District Engineer J. L. Bisson, of the Dominion Department of Public Works, with a view to formulating a scheme of flood control. Mr. Bisson was in the city as a result of efforts of a special committee of the city council named to investigate the flood conditions there.

In March, 1936, damage estimated at more than $100,000 was caused in the worst flood in the city's history. Hundreds of residents of the lower part of the city were homeless for more than ten days before the waters subsided.

By following a definite plan of action, council hopes to lessen materially the danger of another property-wrecking flood. Suggestion that the river mouth be narrowed by construction of two retaining walls, and dredging deeper, has been laid over for the time being pending the report of the department engineer.

MOTHER HELPLESS TO SAVE CHILDREN

Cause of a house fire that claimed the lives of two young children of Mr. and Mrs. John Mason of Bracebridge, was under investigation on Friday. Mrs. Mason stood helpless while flames gutted the frame farm house and Gordon, five, and Ivan, two, perished.

The children were left alone for a few minutes while Mrs. Mason went to a neighboring farm for milk. They are believed to have knocked over a small wood stove left burning in the house.

Finding the house ablaze on her return, Mrs. Mason smashed windows with her hands, but the fire compelled her to stand back and watch her home destroyed. Mrs. Doran, a neighbor, heard her screams but was unable to help.

John Mason, grandfather of the children, drove the mile and a half from Bracebridge, when he noted smoke from the burning house. In the wreckage he and another searcher found the burned bodies, unidentified. An inquest was ordered.

WINFIELD ROSS IS SENTENCED TO SIX MONTHS' TERM

Winfield H. Ross of Belleville, found guilty by a jury of criminal negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle, which resulted in the death of Mrs. Emma Root on Tweed highway on May 2 last, was Friday afternoon sentenced by the Hon. Mr. Justice Nicol Jeffrey to a term of six months in the Ontario Reformatory at Friday's sittings of the Fall Assize Court.

Previous to the delivery of sentence counsel for the accused pointed out that no one more than his client felt the death of the victim.

"No one has suffered more keenly. He has had a complete nervous breakdown," defence counsel pleaded.

Mr. Payne told of the numerous persons willing to testify to the high character of the accused in court.

"If my client had been more skillful in the operation of a motor car, this unfortunate accident would never have occurred," he explained.

ONTARIO BACON
WINS AWARDS

Ontario hog-raisers stepped into the limelight at the Empire Dairy Show just held in London, England, when Ontario bacon stole the show with first and second prizes for the best bacon exhibited. This is a real triumph for Canadian bacon for the United Kingdom is the most critical bacon market in the world, as well as the Empire's biggest consumer.

For years the Canadian hog raisers and packers have been knocking on the door but could not out Danish bacon. And flavour was the stumbling block.

Now in Ontario we are raising Wiltshire hogs which produce the type of bacon the Englishman insists upon.

CASA LOMA CLOSES
FOR WINTER: 131,172
VISITORS DURING SUMMER

Casa Loma definitely closed its doors on Sunday, October 31st for the winter, it was announced by W. C. Davidson, K.C., Chairman of the Casa Loma Committee of the Kiwanis Club of West Toronto.

A total of 131,172 people have visited the castle since it was opened by the Kiwanis Club, Mr. Davidson stated. The city's share of the proceeds will be around $7,500 he stated.

Many of the valuable European fireplaces were lit for the enjoyment of week-end visitors to Casa Loma.

NOMINATIONS FOR BOYS' PARLIAMENT

The Ontario Older Boys' Parliament is to meet for the seventeenth time on December 27th to 31st. About 100 boys from all parts of Ontario will meet and using Parliamentary forms and rules of procedure, will discuss not such questions as tariff and highway, but matters concerning boys' work.

The Parliament is fostered by six denominations and the Y.M.C.A. working through the Boys' Work Board of the Religious Education Council.

Boys who have passed their sixteenth but not their twenty-first birthday by December 1st are eligible as candidates, provided they meet other character qualifications. Nominations close November 8th. The voters list closes November 22nd and Election Day is November 27th. The Returning Officer for this constituency is Mr. Fred Elgie, who will be glad to supply further information.

AT WEST HUNTINGDON

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, West Huntingdon, held their anniversary services on Sunday, October 24. Rev. W. A. Hunter, of St. Peter's Presbyterian Church, Madoc, was the special minister for both morning and evening services and gave two excellent and instructive addresses. The choir of fifteen voices rendered special music. Mrs. Milton Shaw, in her usual fine manner, gave a solo, "Two Roads."

In the morning Messrs. William Dermody and Duncan of Stirling, gave as a duet "My Father Knows," and in the evening Mr. Duncan gave a solo, "The Holy City," which was exceptionally well received. Large congregations attended both services. The thank offering amounted to nearly two hundred dollars. Mrs. (Rev.) J. A. Koffend presided over the music for both services.

SHOOTING OF GIRL
IN HUNTING CAMP
NOW UNDER PROBE

The body of Helen Grier, pretty 28-year-old Pontiac, Michigan, stenographer, was taken to Sault Ste. Marie on Saturday while police held Vernon Spencer, 40, Wixson, Mich., former centre fielder for the New York Giants, for questioning in the mystery shooting in a hunting cottage 38 miles north of Sault Ste. Marie.

Spencer was held as a material witness while arrangements were made for a post mortem. Crown Attorney J. L. O'Flynn will return to Sault Ste. Marie to make arrangements for a complete police investigation. No date has been fixed for the investigation.

WILLIAM LUCAS
KILLED BY TRAIN

William Lucas, 43, of Belleville, was killed when his automobile collided with a Canadian National Railways passenger train at a level crossing at Cobourg early Thursday. The car was carried 150 yards along the tracks.

Hurled from the machine, Lucas' body was found beneath the second coach. The left arm had been torn away and the body otherwise mutilated. Identification was made through his driver's permit.

An inquest will be held.

HUNTERS BLAZE NEAR SCHOOL, PARENTS KEEP CHILDREN HOME

Several children of school section No. 7, Trafalgar Township, were kept home Friday because their parents were fearful of mishap with city huntersmen banging away at pheasants on the second day of the two-day shoot.

"Hunters were firing their guns only a few yards from the school all day long and I was afraid some of the children would be hurt," Mrs. F. C. Shipp, who lives on an adjoining farm, said.

A hole was found Saturday in one of the windows in the school and some thought a bullet may have caused it.

TO RUN FOR COUNCIL

Mrs. W. A. Graham, well known Smiths Falls woman, will be a candidate for a town council position in the next municipal election it was stated in Smiths Falls. Mrs. Graham will be supported by the Local Council of Women. She has been prominent in women's organizations and community work in Smiths Falls for the past several years.

DEATH TOLL OF EIGHT AN AFTERMATH OF WEEK-END MISHAPS

A death toll of eight was counted in Ontario Monday, aftermath of week-end mishaps. Four persons were killed in traffic accidents, one by a train, one was shot to death and a baby died of injuries suffered in a fall down a well. One man was burned to death.

The baby was 18-months-old Gordon Romp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Romp, who died in a Sarnia hospital Saturday. Two weeks ago he fell down an 18-foot well while playing in the yard of his parents' home. Mrs. Romp rescued the tot and he was believed recovering when Meningitis developed.

In Scarborough, a Toronto suburb, Harry Flanagan, 42, was burned to death when fire destroyed his isolated frame home. He was trapped after collapsing in a doorway. Lack of water facilities hampered firemen in fighting the fire.

Winston Woyer, 21, was killed near Caledon, 35 miles northwest of Toronto, when a truck struck the automobile he was driving. Alexander Carmichael, 28, was arrested later in Toronto as the driver of the truck, which did not stop. He was charged with manslaughter.

Twelve year old Milton (Mickey) Corner died in an automobile collision near Dresden Saturday night. He suffered a fractured neck. Edward Young, 54, was killed four miles north of Bracebridge when two cars collided. Mrs. D. Anderson, 60, the fourth traffic fatality, was killed near Smiths Falls in another automobile collision. Five other persons were hurt in the crash, two seriously.

A gunshot wound in the side, the body of Arthur E. Dick, 52, was found on the outskirts of Ottawa on Saturday. His death was termed accidental as the result of discharge of a shotgun while hunting. The ninth violent death was that of John Sinclair at Windsor. The 64-year-old man was killed by a shunting freight train while en route to work in the railway yards.

Two other deaths, apparently from natural causes, were under investigation. William G. Thorndyke, old age pensioner was found dead in his home at Sudbury. He was last seen Saturday night and police broke into his shack when no sign of life was seen about the place Sunday.

The body of Nick Mozuk was found 100 feet from his farm home near Chelmsford, 40 miles northwest of Sudbury on Sunday. He had not been seen for ten days and police believe he had died from natural causes a week before his body was found.

CANADA 1937 BROADCASTS

It was announced today that the radio series "Canada 1937" which scored such success last season is to be renewed starting November 5th. This season, this most spectacular of Canadian broadcasts will be heard Friday evenings at 10 P.M., E.S.T.

Outstanding commentators under the guidance of Vernon Bartlett will again speak from Europe—an interviewer in Canada probing for answers to the questions of the "man in the street."

Lionel Shapiro, Canadian correspondent in New York, will speak from N.B.C. Studios, relaying such latest happenings of the Gay White Way as are of interest to Canadian listeners.

A new technique will be introduced in the talks on Canada to make the listeners throughout the country. Mr. listeners throughout the country. Mr. Walter Bowles will broadcast from a different locality each week, telling of that district's contribution to Canada's progress and interviewing "nation builders" who make that progress possible.

Yet another outstanding feature of the program will be the music—every selection will be specially arranged for the large orchestra and choir that is now in rehearsal.

In sponsoring these broadcasts—to be again produced by Victor George—Imperial Tobacco Company of Canada, Limited, is bringing a new experience to Canadian listeners. These Friday evening programs are live demonstrations of the fact that the Canadian Broadcasting is equal to the challenge for something new and spectacular.

Tears welled in the eyes of Pope Pius XI Monday when, on his first day back at the Vatican after his Castel Gandolfo vacation, he blessed a record-breaking crowd of 3,500 newly-married couples. Four Chamberlains of the Cape and Sword distributed the Pontiff's gifts—rosary beads and prayer books—to the pilgrims for more than an hour.

DUCK HUNTER'S BAG IS TRIFLE HEAVY; SHOOT
WOLF ON BANK OF RIVER

Nelson Speers of Keene Village, twelve miles southeast of Peterboro, went duck hunting and came back with a wolf. He met this animal—a stranger in those parts—as he was trudging along the bank of the Indian River. He did some quick thinking, decided he wouldn't ruin the pelt by filling it with shot, and crept up within a few feet.

His first shot hit the wolf's hind leg and crippled it. Speers moved closer, and a shot in the wolf's head finished the job. The skin measured a little more than five feet from the tip of the nose to the tail. Wolves are rarely seen or heard as far south as this district. Farmers believe they are coming from the bush up beyond Stoney Lake and fear for their stock.

BELLEVILLE MARKET SATURDAY

With typical Autumn weather prevailing and incidentally the first sunshine that has been in evidence for over a week insofar as they are concerned, a good representation of farmers and gardeners displayed a variable display of farm and garden products at the Belleville market on Saturday. While the offerings consisted mainly of staple vegetables and fruits there was a smattering of Autumn flowers in evidence that added a touch of color in the morning sunshine.

Prices generally were firm with vegetable levels showing no inclination to change to any marked degree. Autumn fruits showed little change over the previous week's quotations, while dairy produce in the inside market remained at approximately the same levels as those of the previous week.

Potatoes showed a marked increase in quantity over that of the previous week with a good quality selling at ninety cents per ninety pound bag. Bushels were quoted at sixty and seventy cents. Beets, onions, carrots and parsnips were offered at prices ranging from fifty to seventy-five cents per bushel, while onions were quoted at $1.50 per bushel.

Celery at ten cents per bunch, pumpkin and squash from ten cents up, a few tomatoes cellar-ripened at twenty-five cents per basket rounded out a fairly good display.

Highlighting the entire market on Saturday was the fine exhibit of Autumn apples, with Mackintosh Reds heading a variable display. This popular fruit, well-sized and highly colored sold well to a brisk market with hamper lots or ring-packed fruit demanding $2.00. Slightly inferior quality sold at $1.50, while grounders were offered at $1.00. Talman Sweeties were also fairly plentiful and commanded $2.00 for each hamper. Canada Reds and Snows sold at prevailing prices.

Grapes, reported to be the last of the season's crop, were offered at 20 cents per basket. A few peaches were available at fifty-five cents. Blue Damsons shot upward with baskets selling at forty cents, while frost plums were quoted at thirty-five cents per basket.

One of the largest crowds of the season thronged the inside market where a splendid offering of dairy produce was available. Eggs remained at the same level of the previous week, with "A" selects selling at forty cents generally while "mediums" were offered at thirty-three to thirty-seven cents per dozen. Pullet eggs were quoted at from thirty-three to thirty-seven cents per dozen. Farmers' butter maintained its level with two-pound rolls quoted at sixty-five cents, although a small quantity was offered at a few cents less.

Chickens were plentiful with some excellent birds being offered at good prices. Sixty cents bought one fair quality chicken while fowl was offered from fifty-five cents upwards. Ducks were scarce with the few offered selling at one dollar each.

Honey in tin lots sold at ten cents per pound in varying quantities, while the comb product sold at fifteen cents. Homecoking booths were well patronized with many fair marketers taking advantage of the many fine edibles offered.

Fish lovers found plenty to enthuse over with whitefish at 22 cents, salmon at the same price, mud cats at two pounds for twenty five cents, mullets at four for twenty five cents and fresh lake herring at twenty-five cents per half dozen, rounding out a varied exhibit.

"MYSTERY BOX" HOLDS FIRST GRAMOPHONE

Sealed and hidden away in the secret archives of the Smithsonian Institute for fifty-six years, three mysterious boxes placed with the Institute in 1881 by Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, Canadian inventor of the telephone, were opened at Washington, D. C. They were found to contain the original working model of the first "graphophone"—an early form of the modern machine which magnified the sound. The machine's wax record was found to contain the following message: "There are more things in Heaven and earth, Horatio, than are dreamed of in our modern philosophy. I am a graphophone. My mother was a phonograph."

MRS. A. MacAVOY, DIES FROM INJURIES

Mrs. Alice MacAvoy, 70-year-old resident of Tweed, is in an unconscious condition in the Belleville General Hospital Monday after having been knocked down by a passing bicycle in Tweed on Saturday. Her condition is reported poorly.

Chief Constable Clare Hayes, who investigated the accident, reported Mrs. MacAvoy had been knocked down by a bicycle ridden by Vincent Prout, 17-year-old Tweed delivery boy on a bridge in Tweed. The cyclist was riding on the pedestrian portion of the bridge and did not see the elderly woman walking in front of him, he reported to Chief Hayes.

Mrs. MacAvoy was found in an unconscious condition after having been knocked down. She was immediately removed to the Belleville General Hospital where her condition was reported to be unchanged Monday. Dr. G. H. Stobie is in attendance to the injured woman.

Young Prout is reported to have informed Chief Hayes he was riding on the pedestrian portion of the bridge for the purpose of gaining time and added he did not see the elderly lady until she was struck by his bicycle.

Chief Hayes convened with Crown Attorney B. C. Donnan, K. C., Monday regarding possible charges. The question is still pending, it was announced Monday afternoon, awaiting further developments.

Mrs. MacAvoy died in Belleville General Hospital on Tuesday.

QUERY

A pair of soldiers who'd "Passed On" some twenty years before, sat talking as we goldiers do about the things of yore. One was a tall and gaunt boy, he'd "got it" at Fleur Bay. The other short and pudgy had his at Pitts of Clay. "Know just what I'd like to do?" said the one called Pat. The one called Slim just grinned at him and said, "You want to chat. You'd like to call the Earth up and see what's doing there. Go ask St. Pete to use his phone, it's on the Golden Stair." "Til do that very thing," says Pat, and soared o'er to the Gate. He found the keeper there, looking quite sedate. "St. Pete, I'd like to use your phone to call a real old friend. Slim and me gave up our lives just so that war could end. We left the earth so suddenly, no chance to say good-bye. We paid for Peace quite cheerfully—although our folks did cry." St. Pete he listened gravely and then he shook his head. "Gave all you had for Peace, by gad—and now they've war instead. They're tearing at each other's throats, the poor deluded fools. When they could live so peacefully by those Golden Rules. Go back to your Heaven and thank the Lord you're here. Don't waste your time by phoning those folks on Crazy Sphere. They use a word called Happiness, in poem and song and phrase, but next they shoot and stab and hack in bloody fiendish craze." Poor Pat he shuffled back to Slim, his chin upon his chest. "They've broken faith with us, me lad, and now we can't rest. We've got to go back down there and try to teach them sense. Why can't they let us rest somehow—we've earned our recompense."

"Al Pat." (Ex-Sergt. Al Joseph, First Battalion, C.E.F.)

MEETING OF BEULAH W. M. S.

The W. M. S. of Beulah United Church spent a profitable day on Tuesday, October 18th, at the home of Mrs. Sam Twiddy. A pot-luck dinner was served by the ladies and a quilt was quilted for Mrs. Frank Palmer. The afternoon meeting was in charge of Mrs. Goldie McInroy, group leader.

After singing the hymn "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," all repeated the Lord's prayer. The scripture was read by Mrs. A. Wood. The roll call and minutes of the previous meeting were attended to by the secretary, Mrs. Charles Mitz. Phyllis Twiddy then favored with an instrumental. Mrs. Wickens and Mrs. Prest were heralds of the Watch Tower. Mrs. Palmer read a poem entitled "The Church." Mrs. Clements introduced the Study Book. Mrs. Lovibond gave a reading on Temperance. After singing the hymn, "Go Labor on, Spend and be Spent," Mrs. Mitz closed the meeting with prayer.

Proceeds of the day amounted to $14.22.

SEVEN MINERS RESCUED

Seven miners, trapped sixty feet underground by a cave-in, were rescued Saturday by comrades and volunteer rescue workers who labored all through the night to dig them out. The seven were caught Thursday by the tunnel collapse.

PRESBYTERIAN YOUNG PEOPLE OF DISTRICT MEET IN MADOC

Gathering from all parts of the western section of the Kingston Presbytery of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, delegates from many societies were in attendance at the annual rally held in St. Peter's Church, Madoc, Wednesday, October 27th. Mr. Arthur Duncan of Stirling, president of the organization, acted as chairman for the evening and the guest speaker was Rev. Chas. Dougan, Ph. D., of Trenton, convener of the Young People's Work in the Kingston Presbytery. Other prominent men of the Presbyterian church included, Rev. W. J. Walker, B.A., B.D., of St. Andrew's Church, Belleville; Rev. Mr. MacMillen, of Burnbrae; Rev. Mr. MacDonald, of Roslin, and Rev. Mr. Hunter, of Madoc.

In the brief devotional exercises Miss Hazel Beaumont of Belleville, read the selected passages of scripture from 1st Thes. 4:7-18, followed by a hymn and prayer by Rev. MacDonald. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Frank Haig, of Burnbrae, Miss Marion Hunter was appointed secretary pro tem. Following a detailed report of the previous meeting a letter of greeting from Rev. J. A. Koffend, Moderator of the Kingston Presbytery, was read by the secretary expressing his regret at being unable to attend the gathering. Roll call revealed the attendance of delegates representing the following societies:

Burnbrae, Madoc, Roslin, Stirling, Belleville, Trenton, West Huntingdon, Mr. Connell Leslie of Latta, presented the Treasurer's report.

Mr. William Dermody of Stirling, gave a very complete report on the Provincial convention of Presbyterian Y.P.G. held in Ottawa.

The main speaker of the evening was Rev. Charles Dougan of Trenton, newly appointed convener of Young People's Work in the Kingston Presbytery, who delivered a most inspiring address on the subject, "The Heritage of Present Day Youth." "The responsibility of leadership in Young People's Work today is equal to the opportunity given to leaders," he declared. Those of us who are placed in responsible positions in this work must never grow careless fulfilling our duties. "For though elected by the young people as their leader our service is God." Acceptance of such duties demands our devotion to the work in spite of all other ties and only when leaders combine efforts in the work can a forward movement be established. This splendid address inspired enthusiasm on the part of those present to greater activity in the coming year.

At this time the retirement of the executive was announced and the following officers resigned their office to make way for the new officers about to be elected.

President—Arthur Duncan, Stirling.
First Vice-President—Edith Wallace, Burnbrae.
Second Vice-President—Miss Hazel Beaumont, Belleville.
Third Vice-President—Miss Lenora Ward, Stirling.
Secretary—Mrs. Frank Haig, Burnbrae.
Treasurer—Mr. Connell Leslie, Roslin.

A nominating committee was appointed and the following slate of officers selected to direct the activities for the coming year:

Hon. President—Rev. Charles Dougan, Ph.D.
President—Arthur Duncan, Stirling.

First Vice-President—Miss Clara Thain, Burnbrae.
Second Vice-President—Miss Bernice Blue, Belleville.

Third Vice-President—Mr. Fred Benson, West Huntingdon.
Secretary—Miss Marion Hunter, Madoc.

Treasurer—Mr. Connell Leslie, of Roslin.

The convention accepted an invitation to hold their next rally at Burnbrae in October, 1938. Following a reading presented by Mr. Charles Carter of Burnbrae, the meeting closed with a hymn and Rev. Mr. MacMillen pronounced the benediction.

Luncheon was served by the members of the St. Peter's Young People's Society and a social half hour enjoyed by all.

PAGE SHERLOCK HOLMES

Hundreds of police in New York State are looking for a forger who turned the tables on his captors as they were taking him to gaol. The man, named Derrick, was on his way to prison, when he suddenly produced a revolver and disarmed his captors. Using them as protective hostages, he forced them to drive through a succession of police traps. At a barn he tied up the police and then vanished into the blue in his car.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Turnbull and children, Paula and Harold, of Madoc, were Sunday guests of Mrs. T. P. Lancaster, Havelock.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Reid were in Kingston recently to visit Mrs. Reid's sister who is a patient in Kingston General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCaffrey of Lethbridge, Alta., and Mrs. Tombs, of Vancouver, B.C., spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. John McCaffrey recently.

The Madoc friends of Dr. George S. Young of Toronto, will be pleased to learn that he has been elected President of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Vollick wish to announce the marriage of their only daughter, Annie Helen, to Melville Edgar Plane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Plane, of Madoc. Rev. W. G. Hope Swayne officiated at the Rectory in Tweed on Saturday, October 30th.

SCOTTISH HOTEL NAMES INTRIGUE CANADIANS

In Canada, the word "Hydro" usually refers to one of the country's most vital assets, hydro-electric power. It's a different story in Britain, where the people always think of a hotel when "Hydro" is mentioned. The term is short for "Hydrophatic." English and Scottish Hydros are usually temperance hotels where water cures are the thing.

Canadians learned something about them during the visit of 22 Scottish hotelkeepers and their wives. The party, organized under the joint auspices of the Scottish Travel Association and the Hotels and Restaurants' Association of Great Britain, spent a day at Ottawa, seeing the Parliament Buildings and other aspects of the Capital, and making a thorough inspection tour of The Chateau Laurier, where they were entertained to dinner by the Canadian National Railways hotel department.

Two Hydros were represented in the group—one at Peebles and the other at Skelmorlie. Hotel names in the list that seemed particularly romantic to Canadian ears were the Ugdale Arms of Machrihanish, the Duke of Gordon Hotel of Kinrossie, and the Balie Nicol Jarvie of Aberfoyle. The last is named after a popular Walter Scott character, the magistrate in "Rob Roy."

OBITUARY

WESLEY WICKENS

The death occurred on Saturday afternoon, October 23rd, of Mr. Wesley Wickens at his late residence, Huntingdon Township, after a lengthy illness of five years' duration. The late Mr. Wickens was in his 60th year, being born in Crookston the son of the late Hannah and John Wickens. He spent his younger days in Crookston, being employed in the stone quarry for sixteen years. He later left for Beamswell, where he worked in a stone quarry for a short time. In 1907 he was married to Miss Agness Sampson of Lindsay, and moved to the farm where they now reside. He was a member of White Lake United Church and will be greatly missed throughout the community for his kind and cheerful disposition. In politics he was a staunch Conservative.

The funeral service was held from his late home and interment was made at White Lake cemetery, where Rev. Mr. Lackey of Ivanhoe, officiated at both the house and graveside. Surviving to mourn his passing are his wife, Agness; one daughter, Sadie, and one son, John Wesley, both at home; three sisters and three brothers: (Mary) Mrs. Wesley McKnight of New Liskeard; Misses Elizabeth and Mabel, of Toronto; Charlie, of Frankford; Sam and Tom of Crookston. Predeceased him some years ago were two sisters and four brothers.

The pallbearers were Ward Holland, Elisha Ashe, Ernie Tummon, Harry Mullett, Vein Mitts, Charlie Morlan.

The flowers were: Pillow, from the family; spray from Wickens nieces and nephews and Stafford; broken circle from Lindsay brothers-in-law and sisters-in-law; spray from Lindsay nieces and nephews; spray from Miss Latta; spray from Mr. and Mrs. Fred Keller and family; spray from Mr. and Mrs. George Horton, Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. John Bruckner and Mr. and Mrs. George Brucker of Brighton.

Mrs. Isobel Stillingfleet of Kelowna, B.C., won the apple packing contest at the Imperial Fruit Show which has just ending at Birmingham, England, according to word received recently at the Department of Agriculture.

CHARLES F. VARTY DIED IN WINNIPEG

News was received here on Wednesday of the sudden death in Winnipeg on Tuesday, October 26th, of Charles F. Varty. Although he had been bothered with a heart condition for some time, his death was quite unexpected. Fifty-two years of age, he was born at Bogart, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter Varty. Thirty-two years ago he went to Winnipeg where he has since been continuously residing. Eighteen years ago he was married to Miss Beatrice O'Riordan of Madoc, who survives. The late Mr. Varty was a member of the United Church and fraternally was a prominent official in the I.O.O.F. in the west. Remaining besides his wife, are two brothers: Hiram Varty, Bogart, and W. J. Varty of Demorestville, and two sisters, Mrs. C. W. Thompson, Frankford, and Mrs. Edgar R. Tibble, London, Eng. The late Mr. Varty visited his brother in Bogart, and also Madoc relatives only a few weeks ago and he had many friends in this district who will regret to learn of his sudden demise. The remains were shipped to Tweed for interment.

The funeral was held from the home of Charles R. Porritt on Saturday afternoon of last week, to Tweed United Church, at 3.30 p.m. Interment was made in Victoria cemetery.

STRUCK BY CAR FIVE-YEAR-OLD GIRL DIES OF INJURIES

Running from behind a parked truck and directly into the path of an oncoming automobile, Alice Joan Stollker, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Stollker, Cannifton Road, sustained fatal injuries when knocked to the pavement, after being struck by an automobile driven by Harry Smith of Thomasburg, shortly after 5 p.m. Monday evening. The little girl was rushed to the Belleville General Hospital where X-rays disclosed she was suffering from a fractured skull and she succumbed without regaining consciousness at 4.15 a.m. Tuesday.

An inquest looking into the death was ordered by Crown Attorney B. C. Donnan, K.C., before Chief Coroner Dr. J. J. Robertson Tuesday morning.

MINERALS NEEDED BY FARM ANIMALS

The patriarch Moses knew whereof he spoke when he said that "the life of the flesh is in the blood," that vital cleansing stream which transports nutriment to the body cells, tissues and organs and carries away poisonous waste. Water, a compound of hydrogen and oxygen, preponderates in food and in the body structure. Blood is 90 per cent water; living bone is half water, and the whole animal body is two-thirds water. The rest may be reduced to dust, or to a handful of ashes, if burned. The ash contains the important minerals which are essential to life. They are chiefly calcium, phosphorus, magnesium, potassium, iron, sulphur, chlorine and iodine. Inorganic salts of these elements are carried by the blood, and the invigorating properties of the blood may be impaired by an inadequate supply of some of these minerals when the food ration of the animal is deficient in them.

Functions of Minerals

Calcium and phosphorus are needed in considerable quantities for bone building. The metabolism of fat and carbohydrates is dependent on phosphorus, the substance in which most soils, and consequently the crops grown thereon, are deficient. Chlorine goes to make hydrochloric acid in gastric juice. Lack of iron in the blood results in anaemia, a disease so prevalent in young pigs, while lack of iodine is often a cause of hairlessness in these, goitre in calves and lambs, and joint-ill of foals. All the minerals noted are essential to animal health and productiveness.

though the functions of some are imperfectly understood as yet. Other symptoms of mineral deficiency are rickets, stiff joints and bone malformations, sterility, loss of appetite, depraved appetite and unthriftiness generally.

Mineral Sales Control

Since investigations have disclosed a serious mineral deficiency in many Canadian soils and crops and the need for a mineral supplement to the animal ration, many a mineral mixture has appeared on the market. Too many of them, says B. Leslie Emslie, are unbalanced, lack some of the essential ingredients and are a money-making enterprise for the vendor only. It would seem that the more worthless the product the more extravagant are the claims made for it, such as that it will end the bellyache "and thousand natural shocks that flesh is heir to." That the farmer must not be exploited in this way is the decision reached by the Department of Agriculture in Ottawa, and the regulations in the revised Feeding Stuffs Act, drawn up by W. R. White, Chief of the Feeds Division, required the registration of all mineral supplements offered for sale in Canada and a guarantee of their constituents in minimum and maximum percentages. This legislation is now enacted and became effective on October 1. This new measure of governmental parental control will achieve its purpose fully only with the cooperation of the farmer who is urged to protect himself by insisting on seeing the guarantee before buying a mineral supplement and making sure that it is the product of a reputable manufacturer.

RUMBLINGS OF ELECTION HEARD

Prime Minister Mackenzie King was expected to name Monday Canada's delegates to the nine-power Sino-Japanese Conference scheduled to open October 30th. It was generally believed he would name Senator Raoul Dandurand and Hon. Vincent Massey.

The Senator, Government leader in the Upper House, was Canada's representative at the recent League of Nations Assembly in Geneva, while Mr. Massey, Canadian High Commissioner to the United Kingdom, is en route to London after visiting Canada.

Participation in the Brussels Conference is Canada's share of the world's worry over the Sino-Japanese conflict. Domestically three acts of the Alberta Social Credit Government provided the worry.

Some time this week, it was expected, Mr. Mackenzie King will indicate what advice his Government has given the Governor General on the Acts, referred to His Excellency by Lieutenant Governor J. C. Bowen after their passage at a special Legislative session. Mr. Bowen, who previously gave royal assent to three other bills only to have them disallowed by the Dominion Government, reserved his assent on the three new bills and asked the Governor-General-in-Council for advice.

The acts would permit a degree of Government control over banks and enforce newspaper publication within the province of certain Governmental information. Dominion Government legal experts have been studying all three for more than a week.

Elsewhere on political fronts were seen moves indicating to some that preparations were being launched for a general election. When it would be held none appeared ready to guess, though many corridor soothsayers suggested not before next summer.

Two years ago last Saturday Prime Minister Mackenzie King assumed office for the third time as leader of the nation's government. Since then his Cabinet has remained intact, though reports have been current recently Postmaster General Elliott may go to the Bench, Works Minister Cardin to the Senate.

Meanwhile in the West, Conservative Leader Bennett, absent from platforms almost ever since a Liberal avalanche in 1935 buried a large part of his House following, has taken to the field.

He opened a speaking tour through the West last week with a Brandon address in which he criticized the Government's appointment of the Rowell Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial relations to recommend possible changes in the Constitution.

ALL HUNTING DOGS MUST BE LICENSED

The well equipped deer hunter in Ontario will carry two distinguishing buttons on his cap or coat label this year, it was revealed by a shipment of the buttons and licenses received at the Belleville office of the issuer, Geo. Finch, Monday morning.

Non-resident deer hunters' licenses this year will be $25.75. A yellow badge will also be provided with the license with special registration numbers. Resident licenses have been set at $4 and will also be issued with a red button or badge, also serially numbered.

This year another new innovation has also been instituted. All dogs accompanying deer hunters into the woods must be licensed at a fee of $2.00. Neither police dogs or cross-bred dogs will be permitted in the woods.

A camp license which is only allowable a party of four or more, this year costs $4.00. Non-resident licenses for the hunting of wild ducks and small game have been set at $15.50.

LICENSE MARKERS AROUSE CURIOSITY OF AMERICANS

Ontario's new license plates for cars and trucks have been attracting considerable attention on the part of residents south of the border, it is reported by Wilfred Mehan, Belleville salesman who has returned to the city after a brief tour through the State of New York.

While the average run of residents are frankly intrigued by the color blending of the licenses, law enforcement officers of the various municipalities look askance at the plates, though officially they have reserved any comment upon them, it is reported by the Belleville man.

"It was not unusual in the larger cities to see a group of three or four persons, standing on the sidewalk when the car was parked, curiously investigating the plates to see where I am from," he stated.

The thrill of seeing a fine, well conditioned buck rise up within thirty feet of him came to William McCay when prospecting lately. He was crossing the line between Lots 17 and 18 in the 7th concession of Lake Township east of Burnt Lake. After the animal had completed about two thirds of a circle at the same range from his spectator, he took sudden fright and vanished from view. Mr. McCay estimated its weight at being around two hundred pounds. Asked if he had seen much trace of bear in the locality, the prospector said he had seen marks on several beech trees caused by climbing bears.

NEW COACHES BRING LUXURY TO "HEAD-END" PASSENGERS

First of fifty which will soon go into regular service on Canadian National trains, two new air-conditioned coaches have been delivered to the Railway by the Canada Car and Foundry Company, Limited. The other 48 will be out of the shops before the end of the year.

"The purpose of this new equipment is to extend the comfort and luxury of the most modern car design to the passengers at the 'head-end' of the train," C. W. Johnston, General Passenger Traffic Manager of the Canadian National Railways, said in discussing the coaches from the point of view of the travelling public. "It is in keeping with our policy to remain abreast of the times and give the passengers the advantages of the latest improvements. The cars are made of light alloy steels and are air-conditioned; the seats, built to rotate and to be adjusted in three positions, are cushioned in Dunlopillo, the new latex material which moulds itself to the body; and in lighting and other appointments the coaches are designed for both comfort and smart appearance.

Recently returned from a visit to Chicago, where he made an inspection of new equipment of United States railroads, Mr. Johnston said: "Our new coaches will compare with any of the latest type of coach equipment on any line in North America."

He went on to emphasize the fact that they were designed by Canadian National engineers and architects and built by Canadian workmen.

The wide, clear windows, sealed tight to keep out dust, noise and draughts, and trimmed with aluminum "turtle-back" roofs, and the light green color give the coaches a strikingly new appearance as compared with the older style of passenger car. The interiors are also noticeably modern in comfort and smart appointments. The 64 seats—48 in the main part of the cars and 16 in the smoking compartment—are of the latest type. The smoking compartment, not enclosed as formerly, is divided from the rest of the coach by a glass partition.

A new feature, Mr. Johnston pointed out, is the ladies' lounge, equipped with a leather-covered sofa and wing mirrors.

Three color schemes are used. One series of cars will have blue wainscotings with grey walls, a marbleum floor covering of mottled brown with grey borders on the aisle, and brown mohair seat-coverings. In another series the wainscoting will be dark tan with walls of lighter tan, mottled black floor-covering with brown borders, and green seats. The third scheme consists of brown, beige, blue floor with brown trim, and blue seats. Ceilings in all cars are of cream. Parcel racks are of aluminum, with satin brushed finish. Over each seat is installed a shadowless lens light at an angle to provide the greatest comfort in reading. Similar lights are set in the ceiling down the centre of the car. "While the new lights are not glaring," Mr. Johnston said, "they provide a much better illumination than the former type."

Washing fixtures in the men's room and in the ladies' lounge are of porcelain. In the latter—some of which are finished in blue and some in green—the wash-basin is recessed. Longer than the old type cars, the new coaches are 82 feet five inches over the buffers. They are six inches wider—practically 10 feet in all.

The structure in Corton and Mantel steels, the use of which enabled the builders to reduce the weight of the car body by approximately 13 tons without sacrificing strength or safety.

The ice system is used for cooling and the iceboxes under the cars have a capacity of 6,000 pounds. In winter, the cars, entirely air conditioned, are heated by steam. A large tank, also under the car, provides drinking water which is forced by air pressure through coils to a drinking tank surrounded by ice. It will not be necessary to fill cars at stations en route and there is no direct contact between water and ice.

The cars are equipped with six-wheel trucks—"for strength and super-period riding quality," as Mr. Johnston said; with unit brake-cylinders and clasp brakes. Half of them will have standard friction bearings and the other 25, Timken roller bearings.

With no criminal court cases in five years Peel County was congratulated Monday by Mr. Justice W. D. Roach for its good record as the Fall Assizes opened there.

His Lordship also was congratulated, Crown Attorney A. G. Davis, a former classmate, expressed the good wishes of the Bar for Mr. Justice Roach's recent elevation to the Bench.

POLICE CHIEFS OF WORLD PRESENT

Police chiefs of many countries met in Montreal on Tuesday to compare notes on crime and talk over ways of trapping the International criminal. More than 65 police executives from the world's largest cities sat down to the opening of the International World Police convention.

The two-day session aimed at fostering co-operation between police bodies for a deadlier war on crime. drew together directors of some of the world's most noted law enforcement groups. The G-Men of the United States, Canada's Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Vienna's scientifically minded force—all were represented with many others.

Tuesday and Wednesday, they heard the discussions on various aspects of crime detection from experts of nine countries in North America and Europe. Then they were to head for Washington and New York for two more days of inspecting federal and municipal police systems.

The chiefs were welcomed to the province by Quebec's Premier, Maurice Duplessis, and to the city by Adhemar Raynault.

BLINDED GIRL RECOVERS

Twenty-year-old Jeannette Pepin, of Quebec, who became blind after a lightning flash blazed before her eyes during a storm two weeks ago, will have "fully recovered her sight within a few days," her physician, Dr. J. V. Lavoie, said recently.

She has been under the eye specialist's care since October 7th when she saw the lightning stroke just a few feet from her home while she closed a window against the rain.

Miss Pepin fainted after witnessing the flash and was blind when she recovered consciousness. Dr. Lavoie, who said her loss of sight was due "mostly to surprise and shock," kept the girl in a dark room for more than ten days.

Sight returned as she rested and now she is ready to "go out for walks and able to move freely about her home, though she must wear protective glasses, for a while yet," according to the doctor.

Sixty-three inches in diameter and weighing seventy pounds, a pumpkin reported to be one of the largest ever grown in the district, has been harvested on the farm of David Lowder, Prince Edward County canning factory produce grower.

This mammoth vegetable dwarfs any grown in the district and has been viewed by a large crowd of admirers.

LOWER LICENSE FEES WILL NOT BRING OUT OLD CARS IS REPORT

Fears that the lowering of the license fee for automobiles to the cheapest price of $2.00 for smaller type of autos would lead to the resurrection of obsolete and worn out cars of ancient vintage from scrap heaps and wreckers' yards on the part of many, have not been borne out, it is observed by the Belleville office of the license bureau and police. Due to the restrictions placed on cars on the highways of late years, mobile "junk piles" have little chance of getting by traffic officers, unless proven in sound mechanical shape and with proper braking equipment, it is pointed out.

While the lowering of the fee has resulted in more licenses being sold there are few old cars that were not licensed last year. The majority of new registrations this year have been for new cars, it is stated.

Old fashioned colligate "flivvers" have almost completely passed from the picture, it is reported.

MISSING MAN IS FOUND IN SWAMP

The body of John Johnston, 80-year-old resident of Hartington, missing since October 12th, was found on Monday in the swamp at Hardwood Creek, about 25 miles north of Kingston. The body was found waist-deep in mud. Apparently Johnston had wandered into the creek and died from hunger and exposure.

The body was found by Russell Revell, a hunter of Bell Rock. On Monday approximately 200 men had scoured the district and found no trace of the missing man.

When the S.S. Delilian eased out of her berth at Montreal on Monday, bound for the British Isles, she carried in her hold a number of pure-bred and high grade cattle, bred and raised in the counties of Hastings and Prince Edward.

GIRL, 14, MARRIED; PAL, 17, WIDOW, ARE REMANDED

"I know it. I was born in Campbellford and will be 15 in February," was the startling answer Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., received from a girl who appeared before him to answer to vagrancy charges when he queried her as to her age following her statement that she was married and that her husband was supposed to be in Havelock.

Remanding her so that her parents may be notified under the Juvenile Offenders' Act, the occupant of the Bench turned to her companion, who looked little older, and remarked, "You're not married, too?"

"I was four years ago," answered the companion, giving her age as 17, "but I'm not now."

"Did you get a divorce or did your husband desert you?"

"Neither. My husband is dead," was the quiet reply, to the Magistrate's questioning. Recovering his composure the Magistrate remarked: "Married at 13, a widow at 17. You will also be remanded until Monday."

ANTI-FREEZE MIXTURE SETS CAR ON FIRE

At the risk of losing a new and expensive sedan automobile, Mrs. E. Bradley of Rochester, New York, this week learned that anti-freeze mixtures can be blended too high proof to suit the general run of car radiators.

Visiting her brother, Mr. George Gleason, Belleville, Mrs. Bradley and Mr. Gleason, driving a short distance north of Colborne on Wednesday were startled when flames suddenly burst from under the hood of their machine. Hastily exposing the motor, the fire which blazed furiously was extinguished through the prompt action of Mr. Gleason, but not before a considerable amount of ignition wiring had been burned. A leak had developed in the radiator hose, spraying the proof mixture over the hot engine.

SILK HOSE

WASHING—Silk hose should be washed after each wearing to prolong their life. Be sure to turn them inside out, and wash them in lukewarm water with a mild soap. Squeeze water through them, and rinse in water of the same temperature. Do not wring but squeeze as dry as possible, roll in a towel for a few moments and hang to dry in a warm place.

BUYING—Silk hose come in three weights—chiffon, service chiffon and service weight. Quality is important in buying hose, because cheap hose never really give satisfaction. One can buy various lengths and sizes, in hose, and therefore there is no excuse for poorly fitted hose. Watch for hose with "rings," imperfections and unevennesses. When buying, hold them up to the light and inspect them thoroughly.

REFORMS IN PRISON

PAROLE 'LONG OVERDUE' SAYS DRAPER

Far reaching reforms in Canada's prison parole system are "long overdue," Brig.-Gen. D. C. Draper, Chief Constable of Toronto Police, said in a paper Tuesday at the biennial convention of the International World Police.

Parole has been mishandled in Canada, the Toronto chief said, and perhaps in other countries, and this "glaring mishandling" was a "condemnation of administrative policies which permitted it, and should be ample proof that drastic reforms in the parole system are long overdue."

Draper warned against shedding of "crocodile tears for the criminal forgetting of the innocent victim of his lawless acts." It was "very doubtful" he said, whether it were advantageous to "foist" upon society repeat criminals who had not served their full term.

"They not only constitute a menace to society," the chief said, "but are an indictment against the penal system under which they served their initial term."

Genuine reform must be animated from within, Draper said. It was "absolutely impossible" to alter a man without changing his method of thinking.

"The strikes, the riots, the revolts within our penal institutions, which are occurring all too frequently are indicative of the fact that the criminal is imbued with the principle that the world owes him a living, which it is up to him to collect." So long as this attitude of mind continued, the problem of reform was an impossible one.

Through sentimental interference in many cases, the chief said, persons were let out on parole "when the facts clearly indicate such action is not justified, and not in the public interest." There had been cases where "individuals possessing some of the worst criminal records in the history of crime in Canada had been able to dupe very influential people into believing they were genuinely reformed."

"In some cases," the chief added, "innocent citizens and police officers were the victims of murder before these vicious characters were either shot resisting arrest or returned to prison."

Proper co-ordination between police and parole board would avoid such "mishandling," the Chief Constable said.

JURY RETURNS

A TRUE BILL

A true bill in the case of Winfield Hastings Ross of Belleville, charged with manslaughter as the result of the death of Mrs. Emma Root at Tweed, when she was allegedly struck and killed by a motor car driven by Ross on May 2 last, was returned by the Grand Jury at the opening of the Fall Assizes at the County Court House in Belleville, before the Hon. Mr. Justice Jeffrey, late Monday afternoon.

In his instructions to the Grand Jury in the case of Winfield Ross which named Fred Denyes foreman, the Hon. Mr. Justice Jeffrey pointed out it only dealt with a case of manslaughter, a "motor manslaughter" case. "The Crown alleges that by negligent driving or the operation of a motor car on the highway the accused did kill Emma Root."

"A motor car is a dangerous piece of machinery if the operator drives it dangerously, he is liable. The Crown, before he can order to convict, must prove that he drove it negligently, that he drove it in a culpable manner, and gross negligence. The duty of anyone with a car is not to drive it dangerously

PROF. G. J. MACKAY

Professor George James MacKay, professor of Metallurgy at Queen's University, died at Kingston Thursday.

Prof. MacKay was born in Arran Township, Bruce County, and was educated at Owen Sound Collegiate Institute and Queen's University. In 1905 he won the Chancellor's Scholarship in practical science. For three years after graduating in 1907 he carried on research work in connection with the extraction of silver from Cobalt ores. He joined the staff of the East Rand Proprietary Mine in Africa where he remained three years. He served as technical secretary to the Deputy Minister of Mines at Ottawa, the late Dr. R. W. Brock.

In 1918 he was appointed to Queen's University staff and has been in charge of the metallurgy department since.

INFANT SON OF

DEALER SOUGHT

With every available contrivance police sought to pierce the mystery blanketing whereabouts of Timothy Michael Heer, infant son of a furniture dealer of Jamestown, N. Y., who disappeared last week.

Mrs. Leo J. Heer made a motor tour of the fashionable suburb where the family lives, imploring her three-year-old son over a police patrol amplifier to "come home to mother."

Timothy Michael's father, secretary of the Jamestown Furniture Market Association, described the boy as "friendly with everybody."

He expressed doubt his son had either been drowned or kidnapped.

On white-capped Lake Chautauqua, state police divers went down to explore holes and snags in the lake bottom.

WHEAT KING OF

MANITOBA DIES

Samuel Larcombe, who came from an English farm to win fame for Manitoba in international grain shows, died Wednesday night of last week, aged 86.

Retired some years as an active farmer, the "grand old man" of Western Canada agriculture was injured several days ago in a fall. Pneumonia developed and he died in hospital.

Probably his greatest achievement was development of a rust-resistant wheat variety he gave to the world in 1912, naming it Axminster, for the Devonshire town near which he was born April 9, 1851.

Mr. Larcombe won 3,000 prizes for soil products in 43 years farming on the land he homesteaded in 1889 near Birtle, 180 miles west of Winnipeg. The climax was his victory as world wheat king in the International Grain exposition at Peoria, Ill., in 1917.

MRS. EMILY ROBERTSON COLLAPSES IN COURT AS MURDER CHARGE LAID

Dr. Charles Aylmer Cline, Sr., was committed for trial on a charge of murder by Magistrate Donald Menzies at London, Ont., Friday. The 70 year old doctor is charged in connection with the death of Mary Wilkinson, 37 year old London school teacher.

Her body was found in the Thames River early in September.

Third charge of murder in the case was laid Friday before preliminary hearing of Dr. Cline was resumed.

Mrs. Emily Robertson, whose husband Lauchlin is also charged with murder, and who was previously held as a material witness against Dr. Cline, was charged with the capital offence.

MESS BUILDING

FOR THE AIRPORT

The Department of National Defence announced recently award of two contracts.

One has been awarded to Frontenac Construction Company, Ltd., Toronto, at $184,312, for construction of a mess and recreational building at the Royal Canadian Air Force Station, at Trenton, Ont.

The other at $50,120, was awarded to W. G. Edge, Limited, Ottawa, supply and installation of mechanical equipment in the central heating plant building to be erected at the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals Training Station, Barriefield, Ont.

upon the highway.

"Manslaughter is often associated with a fight or a quarrel," warned the Hon. Mr. Justice Jeffrey in his address to the Grand Jury.

"The Grand Jury's duties are simple to enquire. You must find sufficient evidence to put the accused upon trial. He then has ample opportunity before another jury to prove his case," summed up Mr. Jeffrey in his address.

HALF A LOAF

IS A WHOLE LOT BETTER THAN

NONE

At this time when the year 1936 has passed we make an earnest request to those whose subscriptions are in arrears, and to others whose accounts who have been running for a long time to "render unto Caesar," as the Good Book puts it.

As time passes it becomes more and more evident that the depression has produced a most careless attitude on the part of many people toward obligations that they would have paid promptly in the days previous to 1929.

There is a tendency these days to say: "Well, no one is paying his debts, so why should I?" This is one of the most potent causes of the continued hard times. If you don't pay me, I can't pay the other fellow, and in the end it goes around the circle until he can't pay you. So nobody gets paid and business languishes.

Pay Something on Account

Some people who have let an account run for some time avoid making any payment because they feel obligated to pay the whole thing at once and can't afford the outlay. This is a wrong attitude. People who pay some on account are helping their creditor along and, at the same time, they are reducing their obligation and establishing a reputation for being "good pay."

The Review employs a staff and has a heavy overhead, like all other business concerns of the kind, and it must pay its help in dollar bills. We ask, therefore, that subscribers in arrears give this matter a little bit of thought and meet their obligation either in whole or in part.

The thing to do is pay something on account and keep the wheels of business moving.

Look at Your Label

Your label shows how you stand with The Review. If it reads "1933" that means you owe since 1933 and a few dollars would be most acceptable.

This appeal also applies to accounts for advertising and job printing that have been allowed to slide for some time. Loose credit is the curse of business today. If it could be eliminated, prices of everything could be reduced at least 25 per cent. The trouble is the man who pays promptly for everything, these days, is helping to carry some other fellow who is running a long overdue bill.

Prompt Payment of Accounts

Like Competition, is the Life of Trade.

"PAY AS YOU GO" HAS NEVER BEEN IMPROVED ON AS A MOTTO FOR DOING BUSINESS

For some years the While slanting sunshine touched bronzing leaves, a group of school children and civic notables in Toronto stood on Tuesday of last week beneath a maple tree and sang "The Maple Leaf Forever."

It was the tree which, according to legend, composer Alexander Muir, sat under many years ago when he wrote the loved refrain. Mr. Muir was then principal of Leslieville school, Toronto. One of his former pupils, the wife of Mayor W. D. Robbins, attached to the trunk of the tree a plaque on which the story is inscribed.

Underground highways will be the most notable feature of a 30-year plan to solve London's traffic problem, expected to be ready for approval by the end of this year, it was reported last week.

A GENEROUS GIFT

Marmora Agricultural Society is indebted to Mr. Sam. Rollins, the general treasurer of Madoc Agricultural Society for a donation of $20.00 to the funds of the Society. Mr. Rollins is an enthusiastic booster of the rural fall fairs and much of the credit for the growth and success of Madoc Fair is due to the generosity and support of Mr. Rollins. A number of Madoc's fine buildings were donated by Mr. Rollins and he is active in promoting the success of the Fair throughout the whole year. Mr. Rollins was the winner of the third prize at Marmora Fair. — Marmora Herald.

BADMINTON TOURNAMENT WON BY TRENTON

Twenty members of the Trenton Badminton Club were guests of the local club at a tournament held in the Armories on Thursday night of last week. Five men's doubles, five ladies' doubles and ten mixed doubles were played. Madoc was successful in winning four of the men's doubles and two of the ladies' doubles. In the mixed doubles the Trenton players outclassed the local pairs, winning eight of the ten matches. The final score was Trenton 12, Madoc 8.

Refreshments, which were served by the officers of the local company, brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

The return games will be played in Trenton on Wednesday evening, Nov. 17th.

The following local players took part in the tournament: K. Nicol, J. Watson, M. Caverly, C. Johnston, C. Wallbridge, D. Irwin, G. White, J. Irwin, N. Whytock, T. Rupert, R. Dazoe, Mrs. Beatty, Mrs. Nicol, Mrs. Rupert, Mrs. Caverly, Miss Ross, Miss Cochran, Mrs. Irwin, Miss Connor and Mrs. Cummings.

PRESENTED WITH GIFTS

Prior to their leaving for Bloomfield where they will reside, a large number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Simmons gathered in the hall in the village of Strathcona when several presentations were made.

An address was read by Harold Hoare and a silver key was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Simmons, which represented a key to every house in that village. In addition they were presented with a beautiful Gifford easy chair and the Strathcona Paper Company presented them with a splendid felt blanket. The address was signed by Dr. Mounce, W. J. Finlay, Joy Finlay, James Wilson, B. E. Finlay, W. A. Ballance and H. Morgan.

The hall was filled and there were expressions of regret that Mr. Simmons was leaving, having been transferred by the Canadian National Railways, with whom he has been employed for many years. Harold Morgan fulfilled the duties of chairman and during the evening community singing by Rev. J. E. Swayne of Newburgh, and delicious refreshments were served. Although taken completely by surprise Mr. Simmons, in a few well chosen words, thanked all for the kindly words and for the exquisite gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons resided in Nananee and the former went to Strathcona every morning to assume his duties and during the four years that he was connected with the local office, made a host of friends, and among his closest were W. J. Finlay and his two sons, George and Bruce Finlay, and the staff of the Strathcona Paper Company. Mr. Simmons will be greatly missed in Strathcona. — Nananee Express.

Mr. C. B. Simmons was formerly C. N. R. Agent at Bannockburn for 17 1-2 years.

Rev. C. W. Watch of Toronto, who was pastor of Holloway Street United Church in Belleville for some years, and is now on the superannuated list, and also at Queensboro charge, and is now on the superannuated list is seriously ill. His many friends will hope for his recovery.

FIVE DROWNED OVER WEEK-END

On Monday Ontario counted a week-end death toll of six but the list read more like mid-July with five of the deaths due to drowning. A traffic accident accounted for the other fatality.

Two of the five drownings were in Municipal reservoirs — at Rothwell and St. Thomas. An infant was drowned in the water of a cooling tank ten feet from a farm house near London.

Bobby Armes, 12-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Edward Armes, R. R. No. 2, Glanworth, drowned Saturday in about two feet of water in the farm cooling tank used for chilling cans of milk.

Peter Johnson, seven, drowned on Saturday in the village reservoir at Bothwell, near Chatham, while attempting to recover his hat which had blown into the water.

The body of Corbett Dostxator, 42-year-old Indian was found in the Civic Reservoir at St. Thomas early Sunday. Two persons found the body of Thomas McKay, 65, in Kingston harbor Sunday.

WEDDINGS

BLACKBURN—BLACKBURN

A very quiet wedding took place on Saturday, October 30th, in the United Church parsonage, Picton, by Rev. David Wren, when Lois Mildred Blackburn, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blackburn, Bon-gard's, became the bride of Gerald Nicholas Blackburn, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Blackburn of Eldorado.

The bride wore a Dresden blue trickleen crepe dress, navy hat and navy suede dress. They were unattended. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left by motor for Montreal and other points in Quebec, the bride travelling in a navy wool crepe coat and matching accessories. On their return they will reside at Eldorado.

Armistice Day, 1937

Nineteen years ago, on this day, the most fearful holocaust of modern times came to its termination, and scenes of carnage, sacrifice and disaster were again clothed in the vestments of peace.

There came into being the glorious prospect of international amity, the hope for universal brotherhood among men of all nations and creeds that had long been envisioned by the guides and leaders of humanity.

Much has been done in furtherance of this beautiful ideal, much remains to be accomplished. Never was man faced with a more difficult or more inspiring task.

As we voice our thanks for the peace and prosperity of our land, let us give a thought to the brave souls who passed on that we might live in security and comfort; and let us, too, unite in prayer for the realization of the noble ideals promulgated by those who are dedicating themselves to the Christlike task of promoting world harmony and mutual understanding.

HERE AND THERE

THE POWERFUL PUBLIC

Whatever timid governments may think of it, the general public in several lands is quite ready to apply sanctions to Japan. And the public makes and unmake governments. —Toronto Globe and Mail.

WORST IS YET TO COME

Mr. Justice McFarland says the slaughter on the highways is becoming appalling. With a 50-mile speed limit and markers that cannot be read it is to be feared that the worst has not yet been seen. —Peterborough Examiner.

The youth of today will be the sportsmen of tomorrow. They require guidance and direction from those of us who are competent to offer such instruction. The boys who are under the spell of your influence will respond to the knowledge which you, consciously or unconsciously impart to them through your actions. Every youth has an adult hero whom he worships and after whom he patterns his actions without much regard for the righteousness of such imitation. Where there is disregard for the law by the youth of today the cause reverts back to the ethics of some adult in the past. It is a serious responsibility which we ought to meet with due regard for the consequences thereof. —Norwood Register.

HITTING THE WRONG MAN

Perhaps municipalities are helpless because they have to shoulder their portion of the burden of relief, but that the small property owner should have to pay four or five extra mills on the tax rate after a life of effort and sacrifice indicates something wrong. He is being penalized because of the sins of others and through no fault of his own. That is where the system of social legislation is at fault. It is conceived on false premises and has a tendency to keep on the process of making people poorer. If there is any new found system in civilization which needs a thorough overhauling, it is the ways and means devised for the taxation for and the distribution of State charity. —Victoria Colonist.

THE NORTH HAS A FUTURE

Lord Tweedsmuir's notable and adventurous trip to the Far North of Canada, resulting in a great confidence in the importance of the development that lies ahead of it, will remain one of the experiences by which his term as Governor-General will always be remembered. He has certainly quickened the interest of the Canadian people in their north country. In the transformation that will inevitably take place and in the benefit to come from the development of northern resources. With Russia making great progress in the development of its northern regions, and with the richness of the resources in parts of the Canadian North already known, why should we not look to a great future for that part of Canada, long regarded as a permanent wilderness? —Winnipeg Free Press.

CAR DRIVER VERSUS BUGGY DRIVER

There are many angles to the Highway Traffic Act which most drivers think about, possibly because they have never been involved in some of the loopholes. Recently a court action was reported where a car driver sought redress from a farmer who was driving on the highway with a horse and buggy at night and failed to display a light. Coming onto the vehicle and rather than hit the unlighted buggy the motorist went into the ditch and damaged his car.

Why people will persist in driving vehicles without lights at night is hard to understand. If they could be brought to see it, the law was made for their protection. There is nothing harder to see on the highway at night than an unlighted buggy, an unlighted bicycle or a pedestrian in dark clothing. Every car driver has experienced this. But if a car hits a buggy and the buggy gets the worst of it, there is another loud complaint against the careless motorist.

So many people fail to understand that the owner of the horse-drawn vehicle was at fault because he failed to comply with the law by neglecting to display a light. The owner of the horse and buggy has an advantage in that he has no license by which he may be identified, whereas he can take the motorist's license number and find out his name and address; and he can defy the motorist and refuse to give him any information.

It will be a brave government which would license a buggy or wagon. But if more accidents occur in which they are involved some identification mark may be found necessary.

A WOMAN'S VIEW ON VOTES FOR WOMEN

Mrs. Mabel Duncan, who has been editing the "Warton Echo" since the death of her husband, made the following interesting observation relative to women voting and we wonder just how many of the fair sex feel the same way about it as Mrs. Duncan:

"Wednesday morning and we are thinking about the election. We wonder if, after all, it was worth while for women to get the vote. At the breakfast table we confessed that we had been brought up Tory but had turned with our marriage vows. Edith had been with us over night and she said that our mother's relatives were strong Conservatives but no one could live with dad and be a Tory. Then Claire confessed that mother and Dad held the Tory views, but on account of a certain gentleman she had decided that she just wouldn't vote at all. Daughter is too young to vote but we suppose will eventually fall for a U. F. O. or a Communist, and will sponsor the farmers' cause, of which she knows nothing or wave the Red Flag, just for the joy of being in the parade."

"So after all, why multiply the votes by bringing the women into it. We feel aggrieved at Mrs. Pankhurst or whoever it was started the business of women's rights."

BETTER NEXT YEAR

"Conditions will be better next year." That is what the farmers in the drought areas of the Prairies are saying, even in the face of almost complete disaster. They have said it before. "Next year" is the key phrase of the west. Some farmers have been saying it for the past eight years—without having their predictions once come true. Eight years of trying to maintain their establishments and their families! Eight years of nothing or next to nothing—and there may be only seventy years of life altogether!

The nature of the prairies, where the elements so overpoweringly intrude upon the plans and hopes of man, seems to develop, in all whose success or ruin are there involved, a particularly high type of courage. It is not a courage peculiar to any one generation, for those of the present generation have it to an extent at least equal to that of their forbears. It is not a courage peculiar to any one race, for all the various peoples are meeting their difficulties in much the same way. Finally, it is not a courage peculiar to any one occupation, for it is exhibited by townspeople as well as farmers, and in general by all those doing business in the West.

Woodstock is proud to share this spirit, in that Massey-Harris, whose plows were turning sod in the prairies even before the C.P.R. was built, is reopening its wagon and sleigh plant here—preparing in the midst of this year's Western catastrophe, for next year's business. Conditions will be better next year. —Woodstock Sentinel-Review.

MARX BROTHERS ASK PUBLIC TO BELIEVE THEY ARE INNOCENT

The Marx brothers, Groucho and Chico, pleaded Tuesday for public belief in their innocence while they appeal to a higher court fines of $1,000 each for copyright infringement.

In 28 years in the business, Groucho, in a public statement, "we have brought to our public entertainment and happiness," only to be "faced with the indignity of having been convicted of a misdemeanor. It is very humiliating."

The screen comics, convicted on Saturday, were fined $1,000 in Federal Court Monday. They said their attorneys would appeal. They were charged with broadcasting a skit which Carroll and Garrett Graham said they had tried to sell the Marxes a year before.

"It is a miscarriage of justice," Chico said after sentence was pronounced. "We never knowingly lifted any material from anybody."

Groucho commented: "Well, I was expecting the worst, so I'm well satisfied." Maximum penalty for the offense is a year in jail in addition to the fine.

DOUBLE SWING

ACROSS THE U. S.

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor are planning a double swing across the United States from New York to Hollywood and back to Miami, a close associate disclosed Tuesday.

The western trip would take the Duke along a northern route while the eastward journey would be through the south. This member of the Duke's suite emphasized exact itinerary of the five-week tour was still under discussion. The Duke and Duchess will sail November 6th in the liner Bremen.

After arrival in Florida they plan to visit a Caribbean Island not yet decided upon, a friend of the couple said Washington and Pittsburgh already were on the list of places likely to be visited.

He added some industrial areas of New England were almost certain to be included.

The Duke's retinue for the American tour will include his equerry, Dudley Richard Forwood, and his bodyguard, Inspector David Storier.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bedaux, hosts of the couple when they were married at Chateau de Cande last June, may accompany them part of the way after preparing a welcome for them in New York.

LINDSAY ARSENAL

TO AGAIN REOPEN

The Dominion arsenal at Lindsay, Ont., is to be fitted up for production of shell parts. Col. L. R. LaFleche, Deputy Minister of National Defence, said Tuesday.

Departmental engineers have been examining the wartime shell plant over a period of months. On the basis of their reports the department has decided to "proceed actively at once" with refitting part of the plant for the "production of certain metals required for shells," Col. LaFleche said. The balance of the plant is already being used for other purposes.

Extent of the work to be done in refitting the arsenal would depend on some detail reports to be made, he said. It was likely production would be under way in the spring of 1938.

Col. LaFleche explained that the number of artillery units had been increased in reorganization of the Canadian militia.

"In conjunction with the Dominion arsenal at Quebec, activities at the Lindsay arsenal will permit replacement of stocks fired at practice," he said, "and will make it possible to find modest reserve stocks."

FACE LACERATED

AS CAR DITCHES

Frank Simpson of Belleville, sustained severe facial lacerations when the automobile in which he was riding careened into the ditch and turned completely over seven miles east of Belleville on Highway No. 2 late Monday night. The vehicle that is alleged by Motorcycle Patrolman Sam Ervine to have been driven by Freeman Maracle, of Belleville, was proceeding easterly when for some unaccountable reason the car veered to the left, crashed into the north ditch and turned over. The car was a complete wreck when the officer arrived at scene of the accident shortly after 11 o'clock. The driver of the car was not at the scene of the accident when Patrolman Ervine arrived, he stated. Several stitches were required to close the nasty gashes which were suffered by Simpson, being struck by flying glass on the face and head.

DR. C. W. GORDON, WINNIPEG, DIES

Internationally known churchman, and author beloved to millions as Ralph Connor, Dr. Charles W. Gordon, 77, died Sunday in hospital at Winnipeg, fifteen hours after the death of his brother, Dr. H. F. Gordon, M.D.

As Ralph Connor the famous author gave more than a score of novels to the world, several of them, notably "The Sky Pilot," were best sellers. As Dr. Gordon he became Moderator of the Presbyterian church in Canada, highest honor of the General Assembly.

Retired since 1924 from the active ministry of St. Stephen's Church, Winnipeg, where he was pastor for 30 years, Dr. Gordon continued writing. His last novel, "The Gay Crusader," was published in 1936. He completed the manuscript of his reminiscences shortly before he was taken ill.

Stricken at his summer home on Lake of the Woods, Dr. Gordon entered hospital at Winnipeg on October 1 for an operation from which he failed to rally.

Charles and Henry Gordon, the latter 71, were the last surviving member of the family of Rev. Daniel Gordon, missionary sent to Ontario by the Free Church of Scotland. Henry died Saturday at his Winnipeg home, a retired physician whose life was marked by distinguished Great War service overseas as medical officer.

Scenes of several of Dr. Gordon's books were laid in his native Glenora County, Ont. After graduation from the University of Toronto and Knox College, Toronto, and post-graduate work in Edinburgh, he spent four years as missionary in Canada's Rocky Mountains and there, too, he found, through hard experience, material for subsequent novels.

He went overseas in 1915 and the next year became senior chaplain of Canadian forces in England. Major Gordon proceeded to France in 1916 as senior chaplain, 9th Brigade, British Expeditionary Force, Canada. He served with distinction and again his experiences were depicted in story form.

Dr. Gordon is survived by his widow, one son, Prof. King Gordon of Montreal, and six daughters, Mrs. Humphrey Carver, Toronto; Mrs. Arthur B. Browne, Toronto; Lois Gordon, Montreal; Allison and Ruth of Winnipeg, and Marjorie of Winnipeg, now on the Pacific Ocean, returning from a trip to Japan.

GROTESQUE APE SOUGHT IN CONGO, FACE MANE WHITE

Commander Attilio Gatti, the African explorer, expressed belief Monday a fifth anthropoid exists in the Belgian Congo—a grotesque ape unknown to science, but leering darkly through the legends of the pigmies.

He said the goal of his 1938 expedition into the steaming Kibali forest would be to obtain a specimen of the beast, dead or alive.

The natives call the animal the "Muluhu," Gatti said in an interview, and describe it as a beast much larger than the four known anthropoids—the gorillas, the chimpanzees, orang-outangs and Gibbons—walking erect, covered with long, dark hair except for the face, which is shielded by a white mane.

INDIA NO MORE ALLURING THAN EASTERN CANADA

Bob Davis, the raconteur who has been "covering the world" for the New York Sun and many other newspapers for a dozen years, says that he'd have to go far to find a country that pleases him more than Eastern Canada. And this after a five months' tour of India.

Interviewed at Montreal on his arrival Mr. Davis said that in the Maritimes and in Gaspe he got three times as many stories as he usually expects.

As the publishers of his latest book, "Canada Cavalcade" say, Bob Davis has been addicted to the Dominion for years and knows it intimately from the Yukon through Jasper National Park to Cape Breton.

GIRL DISCOVERS

HUSBAND LONG-

SEPARATED BROTHER

Mary Lee Williams of Warrensburg, Mo., resumed the routine of farm life Monday, her month-old secret marriage shattered by the discovery that the young farm worker she married was her brother, from whom she was separated in babyhood. The marriage was disclosed when Mrs. Ben Williams, the girl's foster mother, told the young couple she had investigated and found they were Ben and Mary Lee Ipock, orphaned when they were 4 and 2 years, respectively. Their marriage was immediately annulled.

MOTHER SHOOT'S FIVE OF HER CHILDREN THEN KILLS SELF

Neighbors aided a grief stricken father Monday in making funeral arrangements for a 35-year-old mother, who shot and killed five of her seven children and herself.

The mother, Mrs. G. R. McAninch, Norwalk, Ia., who fired a charge from a small bore shotgun into the forehead of each child, said in a note found beside an open Bible she apparently had been reading, that she did not have enough shells to take all their lives.

The two surviving children, Ray, 15, and Gail, 11, came upon the bodies Saturday night when they returned home from a Halloween celebration.

In a note addressed to them, the mother said: "You will find us dead this morning. Don't get excited."

The children slain were Cora Belle, 13; Geraldine, 10; Morris, 6; Max, 4; and Dickie, 2.

The 42-year-old father was in the Polk County jail when the tragedy occurred. He had been seized earlier in the day for investigation in a case of breaking and entering. Sunday he was released, however, to join his surviving sons.

A MINK ALMOST WHITE

Attracting much attention at Percy Noble's fur ranch, Shallow Lake, near Owen Sound, is a mink, the greater part of which is a pure, satiny white. It was born last May.

NEWS AND INFORMATION FOR THE BUSY FARMER

Current Crop Report

The weather during September and October was favourable for the development of late field crops and the yield of root crops and fodder corn is well up to average. Present estimates place the yield of grain crops in Ontario at 13 per cent above last year, hay and fodder crops also 13 per cent above, and root crops 10 per cent higher. In Northern Ontario, however, the hay crop was decidedly light and considerable quantities will have to be purchased, while in Eastern Ontario as well as in Manitoulin and Thunder Bay, grain yields were disappointing, and insufficient for winter feeding purposes. Farmers in Western and Central Ontario have purchased the largest number of Western feeder cattle on record in order to make use of plentiful supplies of grain, fodder and roots, a considerable portion of which is of inferior quality, and only suitable for feeding. In the three months, July, August and September, shipments of feeder cattle from Western Canada to Ontario totalled 120,143 head as compared with 42,128 in the same months of 1936.

Due to an increase both in acreage and yield per acre the production of potatoes in Ontario shows a gain of approximately 12 per cent, with production estimated at 9,780,000 cwt. this season as compared with 8,700,000 cwt. in 1936. The total Canadian crop will amount to 41,799,000 cwt. as against 39,034,000 cwt. last year. Recent prices have been quite low, but a firmer tendency is developing and it is realized that the supply situation in relation to demand is almost as favourable as last year, due to the fact that production in the Maritimes shows a decrease of 665,000 cwt. from last year.

Laying Contest Leaders

To Mr. W. S. Hall of Oakville, belongs the most creditable record ever made in the Ontario Western egg-laying contest at Harrow, Ontario. His pen of S. C. White Leghorns, No. 13, took the lead in the first week and maintained it throughout the entire 51 weeks of the contest, finishing with next to the highest record ever made in this contest, namely, 2,323 eggs and 2643.4 points.

Mr. Hall also had in this contest a pen of Barred Plymouth Rocks which was the most important runner-up. It never fell below third place during the year and finished second with 2240 eggs and 2469.1 points. Two S. C. White Leghorns of Mr. Hall's held the high records for individual performance, the leading bird No. 9 (Pen 13) having scored 289 eggs and 317.3 points for the year.

Another outstanding record was made in the contest this year by Mr. W. S. McCall's (Simcoe) pen of White Plymouth Rocks, which laid 2161 eggs with a score of 2392.2 points. This is the first pen of White Plymouth Rocks to gain this high rank in the Ontario Western contest during its seven years operation. Birds numbering 106, or 48.6 per cent of those completing the contest, were registered in the Canadian National Live Stock Records Association by meeting all the rigid qualifications.

This contest begins and terminates one month in advance of the other contests. Mr. H. F. Murwin is the superintendent and Mr. W. T. Scott is head poultryman at this centre. There were twelve Barred Rock pens, eight S. C. White Leghorns and three White Rocks in the contest.

New Minister and Deputy

Ontario's new Minister of Agriculture, Hon. P. W. Dewar, was born on a farm in Carleton County near Ottawa and spent his boyhood there. His college training began at Ottawa University, continued at St. Francis Xavier University at Antigonish, N.S., and was completed at the Ontario Agricultural College. In 1922 he joined the staff of Kemptville Agricultural School, specializing in poultry, animal husbandry and economics. Three years later he accepted a position as manager of the Oxford Farmers' Co-operative Produce Company at Woodstock. This is a country-wide organization which has grown to large proportions under his able direction. With a first-hand knowledge of marketing problems Hon. Mr. Dewar is well fitted to deal with the many problems of cooperative selling which confront the provincial government.

Mr. W. R. Reek, the new Deputy Minister of Agriculture, is already well-known throughout Western Ontario as Superintendent of the Experimental Farm at Ridgeway. Kent County claims the honour of his birthplace and has been the centre of his activities for the past 15 years.

After graduation from O.A.C., Mr. Reek was engaged as drainage surveyor for the Department of Agriculture, being one of the pioneers in this work in Ontario. He became secretary to the late Dr. C. C. James, who was then deputy minister of agriculture. Afterwards Mr. Reek was sent to England by the Ontario Government, where he became assistant to the Agent-General for Ontario in London. In 1914 he was back at the Ontario Agricultural College as associate professor of animal husbandry. In 1916 he was found in the employ of the P. E. I. Government as director of agricultural education. During the last fifteen years he has served as head of the Ridgeway Experimental Station, where he has made a notable contribution to the agricultural development of Western Ontario.

Guelph Winter Fair

The 55th Ontario Provincial Winter Fair at Guelph, otherwise known as the Guelph Winter Fair, promises to be the best in the history of this oldest of all winter shows. Guelph Winter Fair is known all over Ontario as "The Farmers' Show" where neighbors meet neighbor and friend meets friend. In other words it is a friendly show. The dates for 1937 are from November 30th to December 2nd inclusive.

Entries positively close November 10th. President George E. Teifer and the Secretary, L. E. O'Neill, are most enthusiastic over this year's fair. Entries from a number of prominent live stock, swine and sheep breeders have already been received, while poultry entries promise to be larger than ever. The entire prize list totals $20,000 in cash.

The Light Horse Show held every night of the fair is a feature that has grown rapidly in the past few years. Here you will find the pick of Ontario horseflesh in competition in the fair arena—hunters, jumpers, performance classes, inter-city hunt teams, high steppers, carriage and roadsters.

The seed show is another interesting feature of Guelph Winter Fair as is the Junior Agricultural Department open to Boys' Grain and Potato Clubs organized by the Ontario Department of Agriculture. There will be competitions for boys in judging grain and potatoes.

All entries close November 10th and should be sent to L. E. O'Neill, Parliament Buildings, Toronto. Write Mr. O'Neill immediately for the official premium list for horses, beef cattle, sheep, swine, poultry and seeds.

GETTING AWAY FOR CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR'S

Way back in the good old days when by means of will-power, whale-bone and steel, the ladies derived and survived sixteen inch waists, while the well-dressed man sported elastic-side boots and mutton-chop side-whiskers—the slogan was "Home for Christmas." In these more modern days, however, there is an understandable urge for travel during this festive season. There are thousands of people who find this travel period provides an extra thrill. The "Spirit of Christmas" prevails the ship—the personnel, their fellow passengers—and in the lovely islands of the West Indies it enhances the hospitality for which they are already famous.

The liner Lady Rodney of the Canadian National Steamships, sails from Boston on Christmas morning. This provides for a very nice little six-day sea trip to Bermuda, arriving back in Boston on the liner Lady Somers on December 30th, allowing New Year's Day to be spent at home. On the same steamer sailing of the Lady Rodney—one can also, of course, make the popular Jamaica trip—the "Round Voyage" of 19 days duration, with calls at Bermuda and the Bahamas en route, going and returning. The New Year's sailing will be the Lady Nelson from Boston on January 1, to British Guiana with calls at a dozen tropical ports en route both ways.

ASK WINESHOP CLOSED

Peterborough City Council on Monday night passed a resolution asking the government to close the wine shop there. A recent suicide has focussed the attention of the citizens on the wine shop which, according to evidence at the inquest had sold the man three bottles of wine the day he took his life.

NEW CHEVROLET IN THREE SERIES

The new Chevrolets are announced from Oshawa in three series—the Master, the Master Special, and the Master DeLuxe. An advance description of these "popular sixes" reveals many pleasing changes in appearance and performance. Principal improvements in mechanical improvements, said to be more numerous this year than in any year heretofore. Chief of these is marvelous new clutch, a radical departure from previous years, which will mean safer and more comfortable driving. Second only to the clutch in importance is the new starter mechanism, embodying new ease and certainty of starting in any weather. The Master and Master Special Chevrolets for 1938 come out with a new system of spring suspension which tremendously proves roadability, riding comfort and handling. The Master DeLuxe continues the fully-enclosed knee-action which has proved so successful.

Production of all series is now well under way at General Motors factories in Oshawa and Regina. It is announced, and the new models will shortly be in dealers' showrooms across Canada.

At a preview of the 1938 Chevrolets in Oshawa recently, there was unanimous agreement among automotive writers and engineers that the new "Tiptoe-matic" clutch must be considered a major contribution to the year's new developments. Among its many advantages over the previous clutch are lighter pedal pressure, which decreases during the stroke; softer engagement; and smoother operation. It is far more simple in construction, weighs less, is more durable and never has to be lubricated.

This type of clutch spring has been used before, chiefly in heavy duty mechanisms such as long-range artillery, hydraulic presses and railcar couplings, but its use was limited because of the lack of technical data. However, Chevrolet engineers investigated the possibilities of this type of spring determined it to be readily adaptable to clutch operation, modified and improved its basic design, and applied it, for the first time in any automobile, to the 1938 Chevrolet clutch.

Bodies, both interiors and exteriors, and chassis units reveal systematic refinement of features which already have been proved by Chevrolet owners. The public is already familiar with the 85-horsepower high-compression valve-in-head, six-cylinder engine. Widely acclaimed for its power, smoothness, economy and freedom from service interruptions, this power plant is to be found in both series.

Again offered on all the new models are features which have contributed to Chevrolet's sales leadership in the low-price field such as perfected hydraulic brakes, all-silent all-steel turret top bodies by Fisher and the trouble-free hypoid rear axles introduced in 1937.

Advanced styling which enhances the exterior appearance of the new cars, is emphasized at the front end. Sweeping forward from the cowl in a graceful curve, the top of the hood meets an almost vertical, flat-topped radiator and grille. The latter, which is an arresting departure from last year's design, consists of chromiump-lated horizontal bars, flowing back from the centre line of the grille to blend into the radiator shell. The attituded by the fact that every fifth bar tractiveness of these lines is accentuated by double width and pin-striped down the centre with vermilion enamel. Introduced in 1937, the streamline which imparts a racy dash to the style is again featured this year. The combined effect of these many refinements is one of greater length and racier, more graceful lines.

In the case of the engine, advances are principally in the nature of refinements. Engineers point out, however, that a new and lighter flywheel in conjunction with the new clutch, affords greater flexibility and quicker response to the controls, and valve-springs, valves and certain portions of the cooling system have been redesigned rather than simply refined. There is a faster transfer of heat from the combustion chambers, especially in the vicinity of the valves.

Departures related to units in the electrical system include the new starting mechanism similar to that featured on costlier General Motors cars. It has an overrunning clutch and automatic throttle advance, assuring easy, positive starts. There is also a new weather-tight, and accessible battery mounting.

Widening the rear tread from 57 9-16 inches to a full 59 inches has provided more body space and increased stability on the road. Quieter operation over any type of road has been achieved by an innovation in the method of attaching the rear springs to the rear axle housing. Bushings and washers of resilient rubber in conjunction with a new bracket welded to the front of the housing on each side provide complete insulation between the springs and the housing. Engineers have also given attention to the elimination of metal-to-metal contacts and the transfer of road noises to the interior of the car. Thus, there is no longer any necessity for adjustment, lubrication or service of any kind at this point.

The motoring public will note with interest the convenience and utility of the trunk model, providing greatly increased luggage space. Removal of the flat shelf under which the spare wheel formerly rested horizontally gives 6 7-8 inches greater height, while the compartment floor has been re-designed to include a well in which the spare wheel can be placed in an almost vertical position. A rubber mat covers an entirely flat floor and the top, sides and rear are insulated against heat and cold. Just inside the rear edge of the trunk is a convenient tool compartment.

The woman driver in particular will be interested in the more attractive instrument panel which is also easier to read. Refinements here include an illuminated ignition lock, sure-grip control knobs, flush-type locking knob on the glove compartment and firmer grip steering wheel, which can be adjusted to the spoke-position preferred by the driver.

An entirely new design in the backs of the front seats of five-passenger models in all three series marks an advance in both safety and convenience. In this connection, engineers state that the hard portion of the backs of front seats terminates several inches lower than on previous models, and the portion above it is softly cushioned, minimizing the possibility of injury to passengers in case of sudden stops. Greater ease of ingress and egress has been achieved also by this change.

Upholstery and trim are finest material and craftsmanship. Grey mohair velvet is used in the Master series, with grey cloth or blue grey mohair velvet in the Master Special series. Taupe cloth upholstery is supplied in the Master DeLuxe body interiors, with taupe plush available as an option.

Body styles are as numerous as usual. The Master and Master Special lines include all the Master DeLuxe styles except the sport coupe, and again offer cabriolet, sedan delivery, and seven-passenger sedan, which the Master DeLuxe line does not.

Miss Agnes C. Macphail, M.P., of Ceylon, leaves this week on a U.S.A. speaking tour, during which she will deliver ten addresses in western and southern cities on the subject: "The Good Neighbors."

Trans-Canada Airlines pilots are now being trained at Vancouver and Winnipeg in two new Lockheed Electra 10A's recently delivered. These big machines, which will ultimately go into service, have a capacity of 10 passengers, pilot and co-pilot. They are more than 39 feet long, have a wing span of 55 feet and weigh 10,500 pounds fully loaded. Maximum speed is 205 miles an hour, with cruising speed of 183. Fuel capacity is 207 gallons.

Installation of three ground radio stations for the Trans-Canada Airlines is proceeding at Winnipeg, Regina and Lethbridge, according to P. G. Johnson, Vice-President in charge of Operations. Equipped with ten-channel sets, 500-watt transmitters, they will provide two-way voice communication to keep the pilots in touch with the ground and enable them to receive weather reports and special directions.

LETTERS OF ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The enclosed letters
The following letters were written in acknowledgment of the cars of fruit and vegetables sent from Stirling and Madoc district to the dried-out districts of the West:

Riverhurst, Sask.,
October 29, 1937.

Rev. James Beckel,
Stirling, Ont.
Dear Sir:

Your letter of the 25th inst. to hand enquiring about the car of fruit and vegetables your people so kindly donated. It arrived in the best of shape and such a wonderful variety. Probably it would be of interest to you to know just how we handled the car here. As soon as we found out it was coming, out minister, the Rev. C. H.
Morrison, appointed a committee of three from the country and three from the village. This committee was called together and submitted a list in alphabetical order of the number of families, number in each, in their respective areas who were to receive allotments from the car. A chairman and secretary were appointed from the committee. All details and plans of action were decided upon. The car arrived at 3.15 p.m. on October 20th, and was placed at a large shed alongside the track. Fortunately the weather was fine and mild. The committee immediately unloaded the contents into the shed placing each variety in a separate pile. Then an allotment was recorded after the name of each family on the lists as near as we could estimate according to the contents of the car. We were not very far out at the end. Just ran out of a few potatoes. The participants were advised to call at one o'clock the next day. As fast as they arrived a card was made out with his name and allotment. This he took to the distributors and was made happy through your kind generosity. In cases where neighbours delivered for several families the card accompanied the allotment. By this method every one receives his share whether he is present or not and much confusion is avoided. We served something over 200 families about 700 people in about four hours. The fact that you listed the contents on the shipping bill and that the railway weighed the car enroute helped a lot in preparing for distribution.

The gardens and the potato crop were over 95 per cent a failure in this district this season so you can judge how those large golden pumpkins and other vegetables were appreciated.
We distributed them to the best of our ability and feel sure not one of them will be wasted. We appreciate the kind sentiments expressed in your letter. Many of the letters in the various bags will not doubt be answered individually. Am enclosing clippings from our local paper touching on this car also.

Kindly express to the donors our heartfelt appreciation and gratitude.
Yours very truly,

D. B. ANNIS,
Chairman United Church
Distribution Committee.
P.S.—The car weighed 61,600 lbs.

Following is a copy of comments made by the local press:

From Stirling and Madoc, Ont., a splendid carload of fruit and vegetables came to this district last Wednesday. It was an unusually large car —over 61,000 pounds, net weight—and contained a fine assortment of good things to eat. As gardens in the district have been almost non-existent these gifts from friends in the East are deeply appreciated by all who shared in them.

It was evident from the contents of the car and the way they were packed, as well as from the letters enclosed, that the people of Madoc and Stirling were prompted by genuine friendliness and sympathy when they responded in so fine a style to our need in this province. Many of the parcels were wrapped and arranged with evident care, and the quality of everything sent was uniformly good.

A number of people asked about conditions here, and requested letters.
There were many expressions of sympathy and wishes for better times in the near future. One lady enclosed a stamped return envelope, fearing, as she said, that the one who received the gift might not find it easy to buy a stamp. Another lady, who hadn't a stamp, enclosed ten cents. A boy wrote: "I hope you like turnips as well as I do. I helped pick the turnips and drew them up to the house with an old blind gray horse. I am 13 years old."

Sincere thanks are extended to the members of the Distribution Committee and other helpers, all of whom worked willingly and efficiently in unloading and distributing the contents of the car.

BRIDE AND GROOM ARE HONORED

A pleasant evening was spent at the home of John K. Homan, Corbyville, on Wednesday, October 27th, when his neighbors and friends gathered to tender a warm reception to his bride.

Among the hundred or more guests present were the brides' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wannamaker of West
Huntingdon and sisters and brothers.

A social hour was much enjoyed by all and at nine o'clock Mr. J. B.
Patterson called the meeting to order and the following program was given.
A vocal duet by Ruth and Joe Brintnell, a selection by Carmel orchestra, Evelyn Whitney, Willet Pitman, Olive Howes and Carman Dafeo, a solo by Carmen Dafeo and a reading by Marlon Waddell.

An address was read by Miss Mildred Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. John Homan.

Dear Leatha and John:
We, your friends and neighbours, have gathered in your home this evening to extend to you our heartiest congratulations and best wishes for a happy wedded life.

You, John, have lived here all your life and you have won the respect and esteem of everyone by your devotion to duty and uprightness of character.
We believe the same service will be rendered as you and Leatha set up your home amongst us.

You, Leatha, are not so well known by many of us, but as John's wife we extend to you the glad hand of friendship and welcome you. We wish you both a very happy and prosperous journey on your matrimonial voyage through life.

You will meet new opportunities that will demand of you your best.
You will face responsibilities.
That will put you to the test.
Never doubt, or fear, or falter.
If you find the way grows hard.
God has promised he will strengthen if His way you will regard.

As a slight token of the esteem in which you are both held and on behalf of the community and the merry charivari group who serenaded you, we ask you to accept these gifts.
May they always convey to our kindest wishes on this momentous and happy occasion.

Signed on behalf of Carmel community: Glen Patterson, Clare Horton, Fred Haynes.

Mr. and Mrs. Homan were then presented with an occasional chair, a three-tiered end table and a magazine rack.

The bride and groom both thanked their friends in a few words for the lovely gifts and then all sang "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

COOPER AND REMINGTON
MISSION BAND

On November 6th the meeting of the Silver Links Mission Band was held at the church in Cooper. The meeting was opened by quiet music by the pianist, followed by the hymn "Yield not to temptation." The collection was taken by June Holmes and Edeline McCoy. Edna Phillips gave an interesting reading. The minutes were read and adopted and business discussed. Phyllis Parks read the worship story, after which everyone joined in singing "Take Time to be Holy."

A prayer was given and the Study
Story given by the leader, Mrs. W. R.
Rollins. Fay Rollins read a poem and Jean Irwin gave an instrumental.
Earla Fox gave an interesting poem and a duet was nicely given by Fay Rollins and Edeline McCoy. A story was read by June Holmes followed by the hymn "What a Friend We Have in Jesus." "The Butler's Mistake" was read by Edeline McCoy. Dorothy Rollins and Mrs. W. R. Rollins led in games. The meeting was closed by a hymn.

They start the youngsters early in business in Baden. A five-year-old villager loaned his cat, an excellent mouser, to a neighbour for five cents one night recently and pussy responded by catching three rats. It was Prince Snowball's first paying job.
His young owner got the cat another date for another night and perhaps another nickel will roll in.

A car of vegetables and fruit arrived in town from Stirling and Madoc, Ont., last week and the contents were distributed by a committee of the local United Church. This car was loaded by the church petopete at Stirling the provisions being donated and the car was transported free by the railroads. The great majority in both town and district received their quota of potatoes, apples, carrots, turnips, preserved fruit, pumpkins, citrons, etc. A few butternuts and hickory nuts were also in the car. They were as old friends to former residents of Ontario, but new to those born in the west.

WEDDINGS

POTTS—WRIGHT

A very quiet and pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr.
and Mrs. Fred Wright, Eldorado, when their only daughter, Lilly Elizabeth, was united in marriage to Mr.
John Wilfrid Potts, of Cornwall, Ont., son of Mr. John Potts and the late Mrs. Potts of Blackhall, England.

The bride entered the parlor on the arm of her father, to the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, played by Miss Blanche Smith of Ma-doc, and took her place under an arch of evergreens and flowers and white bells. The bride was attired in a floor length frock of Royal Blue Satin Ro-mayne and carried a bouquet of baby mums and red roses, and was attended by her cousin, Miss Edith Hollands who wore a gown of Marina blue flat crepe and carried a bouquet of bronze mums. The groom was supported by Mr. Cecil Robinson.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Smith of the Standard church, Madoc, in the presence of about thirty relatives and friends, after which a reception was held and a dinner.

The dining room was tastefully decorated with pink and white streamers caught at the ceiling and fastened to the bride's cake. Those assisting in serving were: Mrs. C. Carman,
Mrs. H. McCoy, Misses A. Holmes, Iva
McCann, Grace Robinson and Gertie
Mavers, all friends of the bride.

The out-of-town guests were Mr.
and Mrs. Thomas Broadhurst and Dorothy of Toronto, Mrs. J. McAdams of Cooper.

The groom's gift to the bride was an aero-pack bag, to the bridesmaid, a rose ivory dresser set; to the groomsmen, a military brush set; to the organist, a purse.

The bride's travelling dress was of navy sheer chiffon and coat of blue with grey fur and matching accessories.

The happy couple left for a short wedding trip amid showers of confetti. They will reside at Cornwall.

MEETING OF
ST. PETER'S W. M. S.

The November meeting of the W.
M. S. of St. Peter's Presbyterian Church was held at the home of Mrs.
James Whytock with a splendid attendance of members and visitors.
The president, Mrs. McCaffrey, was in the chair. A hymn was sung and Mrs.
Sharpe read the 138th Psalm followed by prayer by Mrs. L. O'Hara. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed, followed by the roll call. The treasurer, Mrs. Curry, announced the September collection as $52.90. There were 13 visits made to sick and shut-ins. Mrs. Sharpe announced 26 subscriptions to the "Glad Tidings." Mrs. W. Miller was asked to write a letter of sympathy to the Allen family on the death of Robert Allen. Mrs. McCaffrey read an article from the Globe and Mail of Wednesday describing the systematic way in which the people of Saskatchewan handled the relief cars and how the people appreciated the gifts of fruit, vegetables, etc.

Mrs. O'Hara and Mrs. Sharpe had charge of the study period on Korea and the readings were greatly enjoyed. Mrs. Johnson followed with a fine article on Manchuria and quoted some interesting points on the address of Rev. Mr. Reoch, a missionary from Manchuria who had spoken in the church the evening before. The collection and the cent-a-week fund were taken up. A hymn was sung and the meeting closed with prayer by Mrs.
McCaffrey. The assistant hostesses were Mrs. W. Miller, Mrs. C. McCoy and Mrs. W. Whytock.

H. HARYETT RETIRES
FROM BUSINESS

In business at the same stand for a period extending over forty years,
Mr. Henry Haryett, veteran business man of Fort Stewart, relinquished his connections in that capacity the other day when he sold his holdings to Mr.
George Caldwell, former merchant of Mayo Township.

While severing his business relations with the people in Fort Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Haryett, will continue to reside in the place where he has been so well known for the past four decades.

PLANE CRASH FATAL TO GIRL AND PILOT

An inquest will be held into the deaths of Miss Della Parent, 24, and J. A. G. Vallerand, 32, killed when the biplane Vallerand was piloting crashed on the landing field at Quebec Airport.

No one saw the plane hurtle to earth Sunday but motorists who had watched it a few minutes before said it must have fallen from a height of 400 or 500 feet.

INQUEST VERDICT
IN TWEED DEATH

That Mrs. Alice MacAvoy, 70-year-old Tweed resident, came to her death in the Belleville General Hospital on November 1st as the result of injuries received at Tweed on October 30th when struck by a bicycle ridden by Vincent Prout, was the coroner's jury verdict looking into the death of the inquest held in the Belleville Police Court rooms Friday evening before the Chief Coroner, Dr. J. J. Robertson.

Dr. J. F. Doyle, Tweed physician, was the first witness called by B. C.
Donnan, County Crown Attorney, who conducted the investigation.
"Early last Saturday Vincent Prout came to my office and asked me to come to the village bridge where he said he had struck Mrs. MacAvoy while riding his bicycle.

"What condition did you find the woman in?" asked Mr. Donnan.
"She was unconscious and bleeding from the nose and face, this indicating a possible fracture. I ordered her to my office and later brought her to the Belleville Hospital. She never regained consciousness," concluded Dr.
Doyle.

Dr. S. R. McCreary of Belleville, testified that Mrs. MacAvoy had died as the result of a bilateral fracture of the skull at the preliminary inquest, following a post mortem taken.

Robert Rogers, Tweed, next witness called, said:

"Well, I was just approaching the bridge when I heard some person shout 'Oh, I looked up and saw a woman fall. She fell on the sidewalk portion of the bridge. I ran to the scene where Vincent Prout asked me to stay with the woman while he went after a doctor. He turned and said, 'I was not going fast when I hit her,' as he hurried away," stated Mr. Rogers as he added there was a high wind blowing at the time.

Chief J. C. Hayes of Tweed, testified that Vincent had personally reported the accident. "He told me he was riding on the sidewalk with his head down in order to keep his hat on, the wind was blowing hard, and he said he did not see Mrs. MacAvoy until he struck her," stated Chief Hayes.

"What reputation does this boy bear in Tweed?" asked Mr. Donnan.
"He is one of the best boys in our town," replied the witness.

"Is he likely and knowingly careless?" asked Mr. Donnan.
"No, sir. He is a very studious boy, helps to maintain his family and bears an excellent reputation in the community," concluded Chief Hayes.
The jury arrived at an exceptionally rapid verdict.

The coroner's jury empanelled by Sergeant Arthur Harman, consisted of
W. H. Panter, foreman; H. Abbott,
F. Gauthier, Thomas Jeffrey, Charles Cochrane, R. Arnett, George Ketch-eson and H. S. Alderman.

CHARLES COLE OF DESERONTO, GIVEN
$647.80 DAMAGES

Damages to the amount of $647.80 were rendered in favor of Charles Cole of Deseronto, at the closing session of the Fall Assizes Friday before Hon. Mr. Justice Jeffrey, by a jury, in an action brought by Cole against defendants William Hopping, driver, and the Cities Service Oil Company, as the result of a motor vehicle accident on Highway No. 2, three miles east of Belleville, on the night of March 10 last.

The jury found that the company and driver were negligent in the fact that no clearance lights, as prescribed by law, were on the tank truck at the time of the accident, that the accident had occurred on the south side of the road, and that plaintiff had suffered pain and shock and incurred hospital and medical service expenses as the result of the accident to the amount of the above sum mentioned.

The accident was one in which officer George Horan, of the Belleville detachment, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, was instantly killed. Plaintiff had been a passenger in the car at the time. Constable Horan was absolved of all negligence by the jury.

In assessing damages, the jury set the amounts at $140.00 for physician's services, $58.00 for hospital expenses, $150.00 for loss of time from occupation and $300.00 for "pain and shock."

Mr. George A. Welsh of Picton, lost his Masonic Past Master's Jewel in 1919 at Okotoks, Alberta. Now he has word that it has been recovered from the bottom of the Alouette River, near New Westminster, B.C. This is between five and six hundred miles from Okotoks, and how the jewel got there is a mystery to Mr. Welsh.

NATIONAL MOTOR SHOW IS OPENED

Garnished with mannequin parades, a girl ballet troupe, night club entertainers, a marionette drama and a variety of mechanical displays, the National Motor Show opened at Toronto on Saturday with a million dollars worth of goods on exhibit.

The show's one-week stand in the Automotive Building on the Canadian National Exhibition grounds was formally opened by Lieutenant-Governor Herbert Bruce of Ontario.

Parked at various angles on the main floor of the huge structure, mounted on revolving stages with indirect lighting, or on circular platforms surrounded by flower gardens, the many-hued, highly-polished automobiles were being inspected by opening day crowds. The show moves to Montreal for the week starting November 20th.

A few of the leading manufacturers instituted radical changes in design, and as one automotive expert expressed it the new slants make the cars
"look as if they're going places even when they're standing still."

One maker has completely redesigned his models, with the body lines and radiator "leaning into the wind."

Generally, however, the manufacturers have concentrated on refinement and development of previous designs, with further attention to comfort, increased passenger space, economy of operation and safety. Best engineering brains have been busy under the hood also, stepping up the power of motors without increasing oil and gas consumption.

A generous use of rubber mountings eliminates engine sound and vibration. Generators and batteries pack more power this year to take care of additional electrical equipment. Prices also in most instances are from five to ten percent higher, although some makers advanced their prices before introduction of the new models. Content of Canadian materials is generally higher.

TWIN SISTERS
96 YEARS OLD

Latest claimants to the title of oldest twins in North America are Mrs.
Thomas Brenton of Truro and Mrs.
Job Dartt of Brookfield, both 96 years old last Tuesday.

The Nova Scotian twins' claim tops that of Charles and William Wendoff of Hanover, Ont., by five years. The 91-year-old Wendoff brothers came to Canada in 1879.

Rhoda and Mehtabel were born at Brookfield, 50 miles from Halifax, daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs.
Samuel Marshall, and have lived in their lives in Nova Scotia. Their husbands, Brookfield men, died several years ago.

urday morning, and an object of extreme interest for a crowd of people was a large red-fin sucker or mullet as this variety is commonly called.
Weighing 11 1-2 pounds the large fish, which was caught in the Bay of Quinte was covered with scales about the size of a copper, of a reddish shade.

TELEPHONE TALKS IN THE WATSON FAMILY

"Yes, Mary... and Tom's fine, too."

Old Mrs. Watson lives with her son Tom. Yet her only daughter Mary, miles away, is with her too, for Mary, though old-fashioned in many ways, is definitely telephone minded and never fails to call her Mother on Long Distance at least once a week — an inexpensive and supreme pleasure for both of them.
As Tom Watson, puts it, "though our family's scattered, we're never really far apart — with the telephone."

Are you acquainted with the comfort, convenience and low cost of Long Distance?

BELLEVILLE MARKET SATURDAY

The clear, cold tang of Autumn with just a touch of typical Indian summer weather greeted residents of Belleville and district Saturday morning and resulted in one of the best displays of farm and garden produce of the fall season being exhibited for a large crowd of early morning shoppers at the Belleville market.

Featuring a high class of display of chickens, ducks, butter, and other products of the farm and dairy was the sudden skyrocketing in the price of eggs. Due, it was said, to the decrease in the production because of the moulting season prices soared to 45 and 47 cents in some cases for "A" selects. Offsetting this however, ungraded eggs were offered at from 40 to 45 cents per dozen with medium and pullets selling at 40 cents and 37 cents respectively. Farmers' prices remained steady showing no fluctuation from those of the previous past two months with two and rolls offered at 65 cents.

Lovers of chicken found little difficulty in obtaining birds to their liking Saturday as one of the best poultry displays seen on the market in months was offered to a briskly buying public. Birds of all weights were offered with some exceptionally fine quality hens displayed at fairly good prices. From 50 cents upwards to $1.50 the birds were offered in a splendid variety. A few ducks were in evidence with a fairly good quality bird being offered at from $1.10 to as high as $1.50.

In the inside market, where a large crowd availed themselves of the fine produce and prices available, home-cooking booths did a fine business with the delectable edibles, products of the city and farm kitchens being rapidly taken up at the attractive prices quoted. Honey was offered at 10 cents the pound in various quantities with the 'comb' variety selling at 15 cents.

Outside a plentiful display of fall and winter vegetables and fruit was offered, with staple vegetables being offered generally in bushel lots. Parsnips at 70 cents per bushel, carrots at 50 and 60 cents according to quality; beets at 60 cents; onions at $1.50 and $1.75; turnips at 55 cents and 60 cents rounded out an attractive display of these vegetables. Fresh radishes at five cents per bunch and celery hearts at ten cents and Brussels sprouts at 15 cents per box were also in evidence. Potatoes remained firm at 90 cents per ninety-pound bag.

Mushrooms grown in the district made their initial fall appearance with a good quality selling at 35 cents per pound. Mackintosh Reds, Talman Sweeties, and Snow apples headed a good exhibit of fall and early winter apples. Prices showed a slight decline from those of the previous week with tree-ripened fruit selling generally at $1.75 per hamper lot. Ground apples were quoted at from $1.00 per bushel upwards.

A wide variety of fish was offered to lovers of this food, with lake trout and fresh whitefish offered at 25 cents and 20 cents per pound respectively. Fresh herring were quoted at six for 25 cents, while mullets sold at three for the same price. Pike in various sizes was quoted at two pounds for 25 cents, with Pickerel, which was in good demand, selling at 15 cents per pound.

During the past season tourists visiting Canada spent approximately $300,000,000 for goods and services, an increase of 15 per cent over last year, according to C. K. Howard, Manager of the Tourist and Convention Bureau of the Canadian National Railways. In 1929, the tourist spending year, the amount was $309,000,000.

36th ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATED AT WEST HUNTINGDON CHURCH

The Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, West Huntingdon, celebrated their 36th anniversary in the church on Thursday, October 28th, with visitors present from Kenilworth, West Huntingdon and Salem United Churches and Foxboro Presbyterian churches. Seventy-six registered their names. The opening hymn was "Jesus Calls Us O'er the Tumult." Mrs. Hassell read the scripture lesson followed by prayer by Mrs. (Rev.) Tristram of West Huntingdon. A very happy address of welcome was given by Mrs. William Shaw and responded to by Mrs. H. Thompson, Mount Pleasant. Mrs. Shaw sang a beautiful solo entitled "Tell Me the Love of Jesus." The John Wallace, the president of the Auxiliary, then gave the names of missionaries who had visited the Auxiliary and in a very pleasing way introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. W. A. Hunter of Madoc, who with her husband, Rev. W. A. Hunter, was a missionary in British Guiana. Mrs. Hunter gave a delightful talk on the geography, climate, inhabitants, customs and schools of British Guiana. The collection of $10.00 was taken up and received by Mrs. Koffend and the hymn "Praise God From All Blessings Flow" was sung. The quartette composed of Mrs. Wm. Benson, Mrs. Milton Shaw, and Misses Annie and Bessie Fleming sang "Sing the Old Songs to Me." The Misses Fleming sang the duet part.

Mrs. McLeod moved a hearty vote of thanks to all who had helped with the program and Mrs. John Clement seconded it.

The hymn, "Forward Be Our Watchword," was sung and Mrs. Koffend closed a delightful program with prayer. Mrs. John Wallace then invited all to go down stairs for a cup of tea. In the tea room a table was arranged for the three-storey birthday cake made by Mrs. William Shaw and decorated with 36 candles also for beautiful bouquets of red roses presented by Miss Annie Fleming in memory of her mother, Mrs. John Fleming, a charter member, and also of other deceased members. The candles were lit by two charter members, Mrs. Hulsie Rollins and Mrs. George Post, Mrs. Rollins who has been a continuous member, also cut the cake. Two of the oldest members Mrs. Richard Haggerty and Miss Martha Horton poured tea. The assistants served a wonderful lunch and Mrs. Percy McMullen of Mount Pleasant moved a vote of thanks which was responded to by Mrs. S. Rollins of Tweed and Mrs. McCaffrey of Madoc. A generous portion of the cake was sent to Miss Helen Mackintosh, our "Glad Tidings" editor in Toronto for the ladies of our Missionary Board.

Miss Bessie Fleming prepared and read a delightful paper on "The Story of the Years," which is given here in full.

The W. F. M. S. of St. Andrew's Church was organized by Rev. S. S. Burns in the year 1901, in the month of October. Three meetings were held that year, the second Wednesday of each month at the church.

The officers appointed were: President, Mrs. Harvey Wallace; Vice-President, Mrs. George Post; Sec. Treas., Mrs. John Fleming; Organist, Miss Annie Fargy.

Reading from a 1902 church report the secretary, Mrs. John Fleming, reports: "The W. F. M. S. was organized last year and has proved a great benefit to the women who have been interested. The work cannot be measured by the amount of offerings (although that has been encouraging) but by knowledge gained concerning our own mission work at home and abroad, by the awakening of new thoughts and hopes in our hearts and the strong determination to go forward in the Master's work."

The charter members were: Mrs. Harvey Wallace, Mrs. George Post, Mrs. John Fleming, Mrs. James Dunlop, Mrs. Allan Wright, Mrs. Robert Roy, Mrs. Hulsie Rollins, Mrs. Samuel Shaw.

There were a number who, although unable to attend the meetings were glad to contribute: Mrs. James Haggerty, Sr.; Mrs. William Murray; Mrs. Arthur Wallace; Mrs. Peter Fargy; Mrs. Abram Wallace.

The vice-president serving at the time of the Society's organization remembers one meeting held at the home of Mrs. Robert Roy but for the most part the meetings were held at the church. The time set aside for W. F. M. S. meeting was spent in study and prayer. She also recalls Miss Eliza Donnan as being a very willing worker, one who took up and carried on her mother's work, a very lovely tribute to a daughter.

To facilitate its work the W. F. M. S. affiliated with the Ladies' Aid in 1902. The two Societies have continued to work together to the present. The one president served both societies but having a separate treasurer.

The presidents through the years were: Mrs. Harvey Wallace, 1901-1907; Mrs. George Post, 1907-1909; Mrs. Henry Wallace, 1909-1913; Mrs. George Post, 1913-1916; Mrs. John Fleming, 1916-1920; Mrs. Peter McInroy, 1920-1925; Mrs. William Shaw, 1925-1928; Mrs. Sam Donnan, 1928-1931; Mrs. James Haggerty, 1931-1932; Mrs. Richard Haggerty, 1932-1933; Mrs. William Shaw, 1933-1936; Mrs. John Wallace, 1936-1937.

Seven past presidents were present. With the exception of Mrs. J. Fleming, whose death occurred in 1921, the past presidents are all living.

Just here we would like to voice our appreciation to Mrs. Albert Duggan for so faithfully serving the Society as treasurer for sixteen years.

Those who were presented with Life Membership Certificates were: Mrs. Peter Fargy, Mrs. Samuel Shaw, Mrs. John Fleming, Mrs. Albert Duggan, Mrs. John Blue, Mrs. Richard Haggerty, Mrs. James Haggerty, Mrs. W. H. Rollins, Mrs. Henry Wallace, Mrs. William Gay, Mrs. Howard Ashley, Mrs. D. M. Reid, Miss Martha Horton, Mrs. William Shaw, and Miss Mary Jane Fleming.

On June 3, 1925, a meeting was held in the church for disbanding and re-organization of the Society. Two separate meetings were held the first for disbanding, the second for re-organization. At this time we lost valued members through their entry into the United Church. From time to time the Society suffered loss in membership through their removal from the community for business or other reasons.

While we regret the loss of their fellowship, we are confident that their presence in another body is its edification and to their own growth in grace and service.

In 1926 the 25th anniversary of the Society was celebrated at the church, sister societies participating in the program.

Total amount of money raised was $2,633.37, average of $73.15 per year. The Society has always reached its allocation and sent a bale of clothing each year.

Very seldom miss holding regular meeting. When they do they pay just the same. Each year as the books were closed perhaps we thought to have finished with them. But when the "Book of the Years" is opened up yonder may the Master say, "Well done!"

It is required of a Steward that he be found faithful, not necessarily successful. We are too much concerned about what we call success, let us think more of being faithful.

As an organized Christian body of women we must face the immortality of what we do, or fail to do. It is always from what has previously been dreamed, attempted and attained that a new onward and forward movement can be made, fresh in its opportunities but old in its foundations.

To the older women of the Society we pay high tribute this day. Only God and they know what it has meant to keep the Society growing and flourishing through the years. Their constant devotion to duty, and their godly example has ever been a source of inspiration to the younger women of the congregation. That they have been graciously spared through the years of service, we give thanks to God.

Thus as we look backward there is much to be thankful for, and as we look forward there is much to be hopeful for; among other things for which we are grateful is the fact that their Majesties King George and Queen Elizabeth are taking such an active and prominent place in the missionary work of the church at large.

"Wherefore labor on" said Old Mortality to the youth in the churchyard. "As one who knoweth not when his Master calleth." And if it be my lot to return to this village after ye are gone home to your ain place, these auld withered hands will frame a stane of memorial, so that your name shall not perish from among the people."

The members of our Society who have gone "home to their ain place" we hold this day in grateful and loving remembrance. Their spirit still lives.

We know there was something about their lives transcending earthly frailty. And so long as God gives us memory their names shall ever be held dear and shall not perish from among the people. To us they have thrown a torch. Let us keep the faith with them.

Dr. Stanley Jones tells a story of a Syrian church in which there was a lamp, from whose hundred arms the people, after the service, would light wicks to lighten the darkness on their way home. Jesus said: "I am the light, Christians are the torch bear-

GRANDMOTHERS' MEETING HELD BY BANNOCKBURN AND ELDORADO W. I.

The November meeting was held at the home of Mrs. J. Bailey on November 2nd with an attendance of 25 members and eight visitors. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. C. Pigden, with singing the Institute Ode and repeating the Lord's prayer. The minutes and cash report of last meeting were read by the secretary. The roll call was "Something My Grandmother Missed." Many humorous answers were given. The correspondence was read including an appeal for a donation to the crippled children fund. Mrs. B. Carman moved that we donate $5.00 to this fund, seconded by Mrs. J. Empey. Fees were paid bringing the membership up to 41. The Area Convention expenses were discussed and paid. Mrs. J. Empey and Mrs. J. Donly were asked to give numbers for the program at Cooper on November 3rd.

The annual banquet for the members and families was voted on, to be held at the home of Mrs. Hugh Empey. A music committee and lunch committee were appointed. Mrs. Arthur Franks will be hostess to the committee meeting on November 10, to plan the menu.

Mrs. Beryl Carman gave a splendid report of the Belleville Area Convention.

The topic for the program was Historical Research. Several antiques were exhibited with the histories told of each article. The song "When You and I Were Young, Maggie" was sung. Mrs. Nickle, chairman, in a short address, told remembrances of her grandmother. Mrs. Donly gave the history of St. Bartholomew's church at Bannockburn. Mrs. Strebe gave recollections of her grandparents, also Mrs. L. Robinson and Mrs. Martin exhibited a shawl years old belonging to her grandmother. Gladys Martin gave current events.

The National Anthem closed the meeting and an old fashioned lunch was served consisting of tarts, old fashioned biscuits and sponge cake.

TRINITY W. M. S.

The W. M. S. of Trinity United Church met on November 4th with a splendid attendance at the home of Miss A. Tumulty and Mrs. Mouncey. The leader, Mrs. Broad, introduced the devotional exercises, the theme of which was "The Worshipping Church" by singing the hymn "Breathe on Me Breath of God," following which a prayer was read responsively. Scripture readings on the subject were given by Mesdames L. Ashley, M. Fox, I. E. Kennedy, F. Fleming and S. S. Ashley. The hymn "God Reveals His Presence" was sung, after which Mrs. Pollard presented the devotional leaflet, based on Psalm 122:1. "I was glad when they said let us go into the house of the Lord." Prayer earnestly offered by Mrs. F. Dafeo concluded the opening exercises.

The assistant president, Mrs. A. H. Corrigan with the secretary, Mrs. W. Broad and the treasurer Mrs. S. S. Ashley assisting, conducted briefly the items of business. Reports were received from the peace secretary, Mrs. Fair, the christian stewardship convener, Mrs. Fox and the temperance convener, Mrs. J. Henderson, Sr.

The offering of prayer by Rev. I. E. Kennedy preceded the customary November task of electing officers for the coming year, who are as follows:

MEETING OF JUNIOR C. G. I. T.

The Junior C.G.I.T. met at the home of the Misses Richmond with sixteen members present. The meeting opened with five minutes of sing-song. The C.G.I.T. Purpose was then repeated followed by the roll call. Hymn No. 426 was sung. The scripture reading was from Isaiah and was read by Miss Garrett. Prayer was given by Laura Storrer. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Hymn No. 255 was then sung. Business matters were brought up and discussed. The next meeting will be held at the church. The collection was then taken. Hymn 168 was sung. The first chapter of the Study Book, "Landing Fields," was read by Margaret White, Laura Storrer and Madeline Bailey. Taps closed the meeting. Games were then played followed by a lunch.

Lord Harmsworth's Daily Mail Tuesday morning published a sketch of Premier Hepburn of Ontario, in which the nickname "Mitt" is deprecated as being too undignified and no longer fitting his "political stature." Hepburn is declared to be Canada's Lloyd George, and is described as a public man with the biggest chance of being "the man of the future for Canada, and perhaps the Empire."

SOILS ANALYSED BY NEW METHODS

The complete chemical analysis of a soil is a tedious and costly operation and seldom yields data on which fertilizer needs can be based with any degree of accuracy. True, the total amounts of plant food substances present can be determined with precision but the proportion of these available for extraction by the growing crop cannot be estimated very closely. Consequently the saying arose that the only way to gauge the fertilizer needs of a given soil was to try the fertilizers in the field and note the crop response. A short cut is represented by what is known as the Neubauer method in which rye plants are grown on the soil under test, removed while still in the seedling stage, or 17 days after planting, dried in the oven and analysed. The amounts of the plant food substances found in the dry matter indicate in a measure the deficiency, abundance or excess of the available supply of these in the soil. Equipment for the Neubauer test was installed recently in the soils laboratory of the Department of Chemistry, O.A.C., Guelph, Ont.

Knowledge of the Soil

The farmer's ability to judge his crop needs was conceded by Thomas Carlyle, a century ago, when he said, "The simple husbandman can tell his field and, by knowledge gained of its soil, plant it with the fit grain, though the deep rocks and central fires are unknown to him. His little crop hangs under and over the firmament of stars and sails through whole untracked celestial spaces, between Aries and Libra; nevertheless it ripens for him in due time, and he gathers it safe into his barn." In Carlyle's day the only fertilizer known was barnyard manure, and soils were just beginning to show symptoms of phosphate deficiency. Since then the general use of commercial fertilizers has become established in the United Kingdom! In Canada the need is now widely recognized, and the farmer is seeking expert advice on the subject.

Rapid Soil Tests

Concerning the rapid soil test methods which have come into prominence lately, B. Leslie Emslie, speaking at the O.A.C., Guelph, recently said the apparent simplicity and comparatively low cost of small kits containing equipment for the purpose have led, unfortunately, to their acquisition and abuse by some who are incompetent to interpret the results correctly. There are several of these rapid test methods, each with its limitations, but serviceable in the hands of a qualified operator who must take into consideration the history of the field whence the soil sample came, its record of cropping, manuring and fertilizing, during the past four or five years, and the prevalence of lime, carbonates and organic matter in the soil. Correct methods of sampling are very important, and a composite sample should be drawn from a mixture of the topsoil taken at about ten places in the field. The farmer should regard suspiciously the salesman with the soil test kit, who merely goes through the motions in waving the magic wand!

NEWSPAPER COSTS OF PRODUCTION RAPIDLY RISING

Prediction that many newspapers may be forced to raise their circulation rates because of rising newspaper and other production costs, came from W. G. Chandler, Chairman of the Newspaper Committee of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association.

Chandler has already asked publishers to protest to newspaper manufacturers over prospective price increases for 1938. Newspapers in more than fifty cities of the United States have been forced to raise their rates recently because of increased costs, he said.

Costs of newspaper publishing, according to statistics tabulated, have been advancing recently far out of proportion to increased receipts from advertising and circulation. Payrolls, it was stated, have jumped ahead of even the 1929 level, both through wage increases and from additional employees taken on, while receipts generally are still well below the 1929 total.

Every commodity going into manufacturing a newspaper, with one or two minor exceptions, has advanced in price over the previous year, according to A.N.P.A. statistics. Publishers are paying more for metal, fuel, services, newsprint, and all the numerous requisites to producing a newspaper.

In one instance, in one group of newspapers, payrolls in nine months this year increased 9 per cent, according to statistics reported, over the already sharp increases of 1936. Taxes, especially for social security, are cutting into receipts, the reports indicate.

The largest item of cost in producing a newspaper, next to payrolls, is newsprint paper, Chandler explained. Newspapers have not only been paying an increased price on this product this year, except a few having long-term contracts at lower than current rates, but in 1935 they will generally face an even greater advance, up to 17 per cent in most cases he said.

Even at the $49 average price for 1938, announced by the Great Northern Paper Company, which may govern the price of other United States mills, American publishers next year will be obliged to pay $25,000,000 more for paper than in 1937, Chandler said.

In an effort to make outgoing dollars match incoming dollars, many publishers are said to be faced with the problem of cutting down the total amount of newspaper given the reader, or advancing the retail sales price.

"Most publishers," Chandler said, "believe that their readers prefer the newspaper of today, which gives the greatest amount of information, educational and entertainment value in the history of newspaper publishing."

15,000 PHEASANTS BROUGHT DOWN IN TWO-DAY BARRAGE

Pheasant dinners were in store for lucky Ontario families on Saturday as hundreds returned home from the annual two-day shoot that centred on Pelee Island in Lake Erie 15 miles off the mainland and 40 miles south-east of Windsor.

Island residents estimated more than 15,000 pheasants were brought down on Pelee in the two-day barrage that ended Friday night. The total was swelled by hunters elsewhere in Ontario. Altogether pheasant shooting took place in 24 townships and two counties—Essex and Kent.

While the bag limit on Pelee was five birds—four cocks and a hen—each day of the shoot, there was no fear of extinction of pheasants. They multiply rapidly and next season, game authorities said, would be as plentiful as ever.

The season ended without one fatality in the actual shooting. There was one, however, prior to the season opening when Roy Cadwell, 35, of Preston, formerly of Toronto, slipped from the deck of a fishing tug on Wednesday night and was drowned.

Last season's record of no accidents was not duplicated this year due to three minor hunting mishaps. Most seriously injured, Leonard Wellington, of Windsor, was shot accidentally in the right leg and hand and had to be taken by airplane to hospital in Windsor.

Two Ontario Townships—Stamford, near Niagara Falls, and Westminster in the London district—missed the scheduled shoots. In the London area farmers protested. Signs allowing the shoot in Stamford were posted by the Ontario Department of Game and Fisheries but were torn down by unidentified individuals.

The Kaufman Rubber Company employees at Kitchener, their five-weeks' strike ended when they accepted the company's settlement offer, planned a back-to-work movement Saturday and looked forward to a promised province-wide wage investigation of competitive factories in the industry.

At one time most big cities newspapers sold for one cent a copy. That was when most big city newspapers contained six, eight and ten pages. At two, and, in many cases, three cents, he said, the sum paid by the readers does not reimburse the publication for white paper in twenty, thirty, or forty-page newspapers, not considering the news-gathering, manufacturing and distribution costs.

For this reason newspapers in many cities recently have had to increase circulation rates, in some cases up to five cents a copy, and in more cases increase subscription costs.

The reports generally have indicated that circulation has not been greatly affected by the increases.

CANADA'S PROSPERITY CANNOT EVEN END BY WAR SAYS ILSEY

Canada is forging ahead, a "revitalized" nation whose prosperity cannot be ended even by war, Hon. J. L. Ilsey, Federal Revenue Minister, told the Nova Scotia Liberal Association Monday night.

Indications of the upheaval in the Dominion's Industrial, Commercial and financial life have been shown during the past two years in physical volume of business, in production, employment, merchandising, wholesale prices, banking revenues and by every other test that can be applied," Mr. Ilsey said. He spoke at a banquet tendered in his honor by the Association.

The Minister said he believed cessation of the country's rearmament program would not cause trade to collapse, and as Britain's rearmament program progressed international conflict on a large scale would become increasingly improbable.

Saying Canada's total external trade had increased 46 per cent, he cited as a more important subject that of "fashioning a nation." He hit out at "sectionalism," particularly in Alberta where the federal jurisdiction has been challenged by the government of the province.

Mr. Ilsey said he believed the Rowell Commission could be respected in its efforts to probe Dominion-Provincial relations, despite the criticisms of Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader.

309 M.P.H. UNOFFICIAL RECORD OF EYSTON'S TRIAL IN UTAH

Capt. George E. T. Eyston roared down the saline straightaway at Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah at a 309 mile an hour pace Tuesday, but mechanical trouble forced him to cancel an official assault on the world land speed record of 301.1292 miles per hour.

Eyston's 24-cylinder, streamlined monster automobile frayed a tire while passing through the measured mile, forcing him to "cut-out" the motors.

Official requirements call for runs each way over the course and since the Briton was unable to make the return trip, his mark—the fastest ever achieved in an automobile—did not count.

Despite handicaps, his mechanical powerhouse flashed through a glaring dawn at 309.6 M.P.H., exceeding Sir Malcolm Campbell's speed over the same course in the same direction when he established the present mark in 1935.

Campbell's mark for the first run was 304.311 and for the return trip 298.013.

"The car ran fine until I was almost ready to enter the mile. It guided splendidly. I think it is capable of speeds miles an hour faster than I did today," Eyston said with a smile.

Since the car has proven itself capable of breaking the record, we'll pull it down and have a jolly good look around.

"It will take a few days before I'll be able to go after the record again." When another run will be made is problematic.

Eyston, pending an overhauling of the car, had not determined whether it will be necessary to obtain new parts for the transmission. Then, too, the weather in western Utah desert, once a dry lake bed, is uncertain at this time of year.

WINDSOR PLANS TO STAY 36 HOURS IN WASHINGTON

Sir Ronald Lindsay, British Ambassador to the United States, conferred with Sumner Welles, acting Secretary of State, on Tuesday on arrangements for the forthcoming visit to the United States of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor.

Although the envoy said afterward that plans still are subject to change, it was learned the Duke plans a 36-hour stay in Washington.

During this time they will be received by President Roosevelt. The British Ambassador and Lady Lindsay will entertain them at dinner.

Ambassador Lindsay said it was still too early to discuss a definite itinerary for the Duke and Duchess. He indicated only general matters in connection with their trip were taken up with the Acting Secretary of State.

It was learned authoritatively, however, that President Roosevelt had instructed the Protocol Section of the State Dept. assist in making arrangements the Duke desires for inspection of government housing projects.

In fulfilling these orders, George T. Summerling, chief of the Protocol Division, will go to New York to meet the visitors and accompany them to Washington November 11th.

CENT INCREASE SOUGHT IN QUART

J. L. Houck, chairman of the Ontario Milk Board, in conference with the Toronto Board of Control Friday, said definitely his board has prepared a schedule providing for an increase of one cent a quart in the price of milk to Toronto consumers. Price of milk is now 12 cents a quart and seven cents a pint.

He said there was no intention of advancing the price of pints and half pints. The proposed increase, worked out in a number of conferences with producers and distributors, and bearing their approval, was calculated on a basis sufficient to provide an increase in the amount paid to farmers and wage increase to milk drivers, he said.

Toronto Board of Control opposes any increase in the price of milk.

BACHELOR FARMER IS A FREE MAN

Albert Farrar, 34-year-old farmer of the Olds district, 30 miles north of Calgary, went free on Saturday, acquitted by an Assize Court jury of the murder of his father.

When the six-man jury delivered its verdict Friday night after deliberating one hour and twenty minutes, the presiding judge, Mr. Justice W. R. Howson, told them: "I thoroughly agree with your verdict."

Frederick Lester Farr, 57, was shot to death in his farm home last July 28th. His widow testified Farrar was shot during a scuffle for possession of a rifle following a quarrel with Albert, who had accused his father of stealing $40 from him. Albert was arrested July 30th.

QUINTS TO SLEEP

MORE IN WINTER

Like little bears, the Dionne quintuplets need more sleep in winter. So starting October 10th, they went on a new schedule on which they can be seen by visitors only a half-hour each morning.

Announcing the schedule, Dr. Allan Roy Drafco said: "We are making a special effort to build the children up for the coming winter so they won't suffer from those troublesome throat infections which bothered them this summer."

"I know a lot of people will think that if there is to be but one showing daily, it should be in the afternoon, but I have consulted other doctors and the nurses and it is our unanimous opinion that the morning showing is the proper one."

In the afternoon the quintuplets will sleep for longer periods than they have for months.

BOY OF ELEVEN BEST PLOWMAN

With more than $600 in cash and merchandise prizes offered, nearly sixty of the top notch junior and senior plowmen of Western Ontario competed on Wednesday of last week on the Ontario Hospital farms, two miles south of St. Thomas, at the annual match of the Elgin County Plowmen's Association, with the youngest competitor, 11-year-old Roy Cornwall, of Rodney, taking first prize in his class for boys under 16 years, and the oldest competitor, Alex McCormick, of Sheddin, aged well over 75 years, taking second money in his class.

In the open competition, sod plowing, J. R. Hargrave, of Beachville, a plowman of international fame, was winner, with Gordon Carnie of Ridgetown, second. Mr. Hargrave also won the special prizes for the best crown and finish in sod.

The Eckhardt Silver Trophy for the best plowed land by a contestant residing in Elgin, Kent or Essex County, went to Kenneth McIntyre, of Sheddin, first prize winner in the sod class open only to Elgin County plowmen.

Premier M. F. Hepburn was unable to attend the plowing matches, but five-year-old Peter Hepburn was an interested spectator, remaining until the last contest was over.

LIPSTICK IS BLAMED FOR DISFIGURATION

Mrs. Margaret Roemer, 25, of Chicago, values her future kisses at $10,000.

She filed suit for that amount against a cosmetic company and one of its retail distributors because a lipstick she purchased caused her to "suffer the future loss and enjoyment of osculation."

After using the lipstick, Mrs. Roemer charged, her lips became swollen, cracked and discolored, her tongue swollen and dry and nerve centres of the face paralyzed.

UNIQUE SKI CLUB CHARGES NO FEE

What is thought to be the only cooperative ski club in the world has been organized at Jasper National Park. There are no fees and anyone in the Park who wants to join simply does his share of clearing ski-runs and trails and building club quarters. The clubhouse is being built of trees which are cut down to make the trails. The Canadian Government has deeded a large area on the northwest slope of Whistler Mountain for ski-ing purposes. It lies only two miles from the village of Jasper and may be reached by motor road which will be clear of snow in winter. More than 10 miles of trails will be in use in two years, it is expected.

NECK BROKEN IN CRASH FIXED UP IN ANOTHER

William Andrew of Sweet Mo., 40 years old, automobile man, is shaking his head. His second broken neck of medical science was afraid to operate. In 1931 when Andrew came out of an automobile accident he had a broken neck. When he came out of a cast three months later he could not turn his head. Doctors were afraid to operate.

Last spring Andrew was in another crash. His neck was fractured. After three months more in a cast he is able to turn his head normally.

TO PLACE WREATH AT CENOTAPH NOV. 11

The King will attend the Armistice Day observance at the Cenotaph in Whitehall a week from today, it was officially announced, Tuesday. Majesty will place a wreath at foot of the memorial to the Empire war dead.

The Queen, Queen Mary, and other ladies of the Royal Family, will watch the ceremonies from window overlooking the Cenotaph. The observance will be broadcast.

HOUSE IS KEPT IN ORDER BY

Having a place for everything and keeping things in their places are not using them. Every member of the family should help with this. Every member of the family does her share of the work it will be much time for the housekeeper usually has plenty to do without "putting up" for the family.

By doing some cleaning each day. For example, some of the things which will need dusting each day, the bathroom will need to be dusted, and kitchen sink, stove and tables must be washed or scoured daily. In country homes other things such as washing the separating milk cans, may be necessary.

By doing some special cleaning each week. Laundry work is often only once a week, unless there are small children or a baby.

By doing some special cleaning at irregular times during the year. Old-fashioned house-cleaning is used to be an "occasional task" in a housekeeper's schedule, is no longer necessary if special cleaning is at the time it is needed, rather put off until a certain date in spring or fall.

By making every member of the family feel his or her responsibility for the care of the house and its contents.

MILK

Milk is one of the most important foods. When we drink milk we should remember that we are taking real food and not merely something to quench the thirst. Milk is a perfect food for infants and young animals and is good food for grown persons.

Mineral matter in milk is especially important, because it contains calcium more than any other food. Bones and teeth are largely made of calcium. It is particularly necessary that boys and girls have plenty of milk while growing. Milk may be used in custards, scalloped cream-soups, or it may be used to drink. Milk is the only safe milk. Milk comes from clean cows, in clean barns. The milk must be handled by persons with clean hands and clean clothes, and it must be placed in clean pails, bottles and cans.

A bottle of milk is put in the refrigerator. It must be tightly covered. Always wipe the top of the bottle with a clean, damp cloth before pouring the milk from the bottle; always wipe the outside of the milk bottle before putting in the refrigerator.

COOKERY

Snow Pudding (request)

1 tablespoon gelatine
1-4 cup cold water
2-3 cup boiling water
2-3 cup sugar
Thin shavings 1-4 lemon rind
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 whites of eggs

Method — Soften gelatine in cold water; make a syrup of boiling water, sugar and lemon rind; boil five minutes; pour over softened gelatine; stir till dissolved; add lemon juice; strain; chill; stir occasionally; when firmly set beat till foam; add whites of eggs beaten stiff and beat until mixture begins to stiffen; turn into moistened mould or pile lightly in serving dish. Serve with custard sauce.

My Favourite Pudding

1-3 cup brown sugar
1-2 cup milk
1-2 cup raisins
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
Put batter in a well-greased pan and pour over the following sauce:
3-4 cup brown sugar
1 tablespoon butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups boiling water
Bake in a moderate oven for half hour.

WHAT ABOUT TABLE DECORATIONS

Have in mind a definite plan. Consider carefully the artistic height for your table decorations; table decorations that are too high are awkward and those that are too low become monotonous to the eye.

No table decoration should obstruct the guests (although at formal dinners, when the conversation cannot be general anyway, the tall).

All tall decorations should be narrow (candles). Avoid over-decoration and inappropriate decoration. Don't crowd your table or make it look heavy.

Discriminate between a formal party and an informal party and adopt your decorations accordingly.

Keep in mind the colour scheme of your room and the colours of the food on your menu, and harmonize the colour of your table decorations with these.

Adopt your flowers to the type and proportions of your flower-containers.

YVONNE MOST MOTHERLY OF QUINTUPLETS, SAYS PSYCHOLOGIST

Yvonne is the most motherly of the Dionne Quintuplets. Marie is the most sympathetic, Emilie is the most independent, Cecile the most unpredictable and Annette the most aggressive.

So Dr. William E. Blatz, University of Toronto Psychologist, thinks. Dr. Allan Roy Dafeo, their physician and a psychologist but a country doctor, thinks they are "just five smart kids."

The descriptions were given at the urging of reporters as 300 child specialists, psychologists and students concluded a two-day meeting in which they studied the Quints on the basis of reports by Dr. Dafeo and his brother, Dr. W. A. Dafeo of Toronto, and a group of eight University of Toronto psychologists under Dr. Blatz.

The Quint physician who has taken care of them since they were born summed up his attitude to the whole thing when he said much of the scientific discussion was "over my head because, after all, I am only a country doctor."

The scientific meeting was divided into two stages, discussion of the reports in Toronto Saturday and a visit to the children at Callander on Sunday. Those attending the meeting travelled to Callander by special train and peered through glass and wire mesh at the youngsters singing and playing.

Psychologists who had studied graphs and charts all day Saturday forgot them in admiration of the antics of the youngsters who seemed to be even more entertaining than usual. But they forgot their toys when their father, Oliva Dionne, entered their yard. The five rushed to him to be kissed.

Discussion among the scientists brought out the fact that plans are under consideration for the building of a school near the nursery where the five sisters would be educated with a group of other children. At the conference some speakers suggested contacts with other children were desirable.

Dr. Dafeo told a dinner gathering Saturday night that the Quints' guardians are "looking forward hopefully" to the time when the Dionne family will be under one roof again. He could not say just when that would be but it was the goal toward which the guardians were striving.

Dr. Frank N. Freeman of the University of Chicago, said after the conference "my feeling is that if it can be brought about, these children should have more contacts, particularly with other children. They have had unusual physical care but they haven't had other children to set them the pattern of more advanced things they can do."

"As it is they meet only people whose responses they know. They don't have to meet any new people. In that way they're over-protected. It is a good thing for young children to meet strange people."

Sidonie M. Bruenberg, director of the Child Study Association of America, said a major question was: "At what point should they be exposed to life as it is lived." Duncan McArthur, Ontario Deputy Minister of Education, speaking at the dinner Saturday night expressed hope that the proposed school would be built and that other children would be educated with the quintuplets.

Some of those attending the conference thought the question of showing the quints to the public is a problem more immediate than their future schooling. Dr. Dafeo agreed and said the matter is being considered. It is possible their estate will be enlarged and some plan worked under which they could be seen at a distance.

More than 100 persons were believed killed Thursday when a huge waterspout engulfed the village of Dmeir, northeast of Damascus, Syria. Twelve bodies have been recovered.

LARGE EXHIBITION OF CHEESE PLANNED

Arrangements for the Dominion's biggest cheese exhibition which is to be held in Belleville during the two days of November 30 and December 1 are being rapidly completed by officials of the Central Ontario Cheese makers' Association sponsoring the project, being tried for the first time in Canada.

The exhibition which will attract samples of the cheesemakers' art from the British Isles, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and other British possessions as well as from every province in Canada, will be held in conjunction of the Central Ontario Cheesemakers' Association. The exhibit will be open to the public which will be invited to inspect every angle of the show.

At the present time nearly 300 entries of cheese for the exhibit have been received by the officials in charge at the Front street office and are being held in Trenton Cold Storage until needed. Between twenty and thirty other cheese from all over Canada are being received and checked daily at the present time. Among the registrations are a large number of English Cheddars from England's farm homes and factories which were admitted through customs during the latter part of last week.

The exhibition will be held in the City Hall in which work of decorating will be commenced about November 23. Judging of the cheese which will be undertaken by the best experts in Canada, will commence on November 27th.

"Our effort is to make this central district and Belleville the cheese centre of Canada," it was stated by Mr. J. L. Irwin, Dominion Dairy Grader, one of the prime movers in staging the Dominion's largest and most complete dairy event. "This has always been more or less the centre of the industry, and we mean to keep it as such. To this end the exhibition is not being staged merely for those connected with the industry, but for the ordinary citizens who perhaps do not realize or appreciate the extent of the industry in their own section. It will be free and open to everyone. Cheesemakers are not the only ones who will benefit by this show, everyone who attends will learn something of the industry."

It is expected that the exhibits from Canada alone to be judged will exceed 600 in number.

MODERNIZING PLANNED FOR WINDSOR CASTLE

King George and Queen Elizabeth have returned to London to do some mild precedent-breaking of their own.

Windsor Castle, favorite home of Queen Victoria, may see almost as much of the King and Queen as Buckingham Palace. The Palace is likely to be reserved more and more for official functions and audiences.

Two considerations prompted this decision—the accessibility of Windsor and the need for room for the Princesses to play out of the public eye.

The King and Queen have decided to "modernize" the historic castle. The Queen has consulted architects and decorators in a move to make the place more livable.

The work will be carried out under her Majesty's direct supervision. Most of the apartments have not been altered since King Edward VIII's reign and new plumbing, better lighting and more comfortable furniture are needed.

The custom of firing Royal salutes in front of the gates of Windsor Castle discontinued in 1931 on economy grounds, is to be revived. The custom had been followed for several centuries. Arrangements are being made for a salute to be fired on the King's birthday, December 14.

ENGINEER BY CHANCE

How one of Canada's outstanding veteran railway locators, Thomas F. White, was destined for the law and had, in his own words "been made a gentleman by Act of Parliament."

When he met a railway builder and abandoned further thought of law books, to become a railway locating engineer, Mr. White who lives at Vancouver, B. C., is the remaining member of that old force of railway builders who thrust lines of steel through the Canadian Rockies, as risk to their own lives and limbs. On one occasion he was reported killed in a fall, but, like Mark Twain, he later branded the report a gross exaggeration. The railroading life of Thomas White was full of thrilling incidents, which are told in a biographical article in the Canadian National Railways Magazine.

The water in the wake of the spout attained a level of nearly 10 feet and severed highway communications between Damascus and Baghdad.

HALF A LOAF

IS A WHOLE LOT BETTER THAN

NONE

At this time when the year 1936 has passed we make an earnest request to those whose subscriptions are in arrears, and to others whose accounts who have been running for a long time to "render unto Caesar," as the Good Book puts it.

As time passes it becomes more and more evident that the depression has produced a most careless attitude on the part of many people toward obligations that they would have paid promptly in the days previous to 1929.

There is a tendency these days to say: "Well, no one is paying his debts, so why should I?" This is one of the most potent causes of the continued hard times. If you don't pay me, I can't pay the other fellow, and in the end it goes around the circle until he can't pay you. So nobody gets paid and business languishes.

Pay Something on Account

Some people who have let an account run for some time avoid making any payment because they feel obligated to pay the whole thing at once and can't afford the outlay. This is a wrong attitude. People who pay some on account are helping their creditor along and, at the same time, they are reducing their obligation and establishing a reputation for being "good pay."

The Review employs a staff and has a heavy overhead, like all other business concerns of the kind, and it must pay its help in dollar bills. We ask, therefore, that subscribers in arrears give this matter a little bit of thought and meet their obligation either in whole or in part.

The thing to do is pay something on account and keep the wheels of business moving.

Look at Your Label

Your label shows how you stand with The Review. If it reads "1933" that means you owe since 1933 and a few dollars would be most acceptable.

This appeal also applies to accounts for advertising and job printing that have been allowed to slide for some time. Loose credit is the curse of business today. If it could be eliminated, prices of everything could be reduced at least 25 per cent. The trouble is the man who pays promptly for everything, these days, is helping to carry some other fellow who is running a long overdue bill.

Prompt Payment of Accounts
Like Competition, is the Life of Trade.

"PAY AS YOU GO" HAS NEVER BEEN IMPROVED ON AS A MOTTO FOR DOING BUSINESS

The minutes were read and the roll called. It was decided to hold a

INJURIES FATAL TO COE HILL MAN

Thomas Monaghan, 32 year old Coe Hill laborer, sustained fatal injuries when the automobile in which he was riding crashed into the ditch north of his native village on Saturday. Monaghan being thrown out of the vehicle and sustaining a fractured skull when his head struck a large boulder along the side of the road. The injured man was attended by Dr. S. S. Lumb of Bancroft, but died soon after. An inquest will be held on Friday. Coroner Dr. Lumb stated to Provincial Police.

Monaghan was riding in a car driven by Edward Drunn, of Matheson, Ont. Besides Monaghan and Drunn, the latter's sister, Miss Aileen Drunn, and two small children by the name of McAuley, were in the car. Monaghan had solicited a ride with the Drunns as they were proceeding northward out of Coe Hill towards his home.

The accident was investigated by Provincial Constable Palmatier, of Coe Hill, who reported that while endeavoring to negotiate a sharp left hand turn the car left the road on the right side, turning completely over into the ditch. Mr. Monaghan was sitting in the front seat and was thrown clear of the wreckage. His head striking a large boulder and resulting in a basic fracture of the skull. He failed to regain consciousness before succumbing.

Constable Palmatier detained Drunn for questioning, later permitting the driver his liberty to appear at the inquest set for Friday of this week, at which time all evidence pertaining to the fatal accident will be adduced. A preliminary inquest was held Saturday night at which time identification was established following which the body of the deceased was released for burial.

HUNTERS CARRIED OFF ROCK IN ROWBOAT TO MOTORBOAT

Eight hunters suffered from cold and exposure Tuesday after being rescued from a motor launch that grounded on a Georgian Bay reef during a gale that swept the area Monday night.

Darkness and the approaching storm caused the hunters to attempt to guide their 24-foot launch across shoal water to Point Au Baril lighthouse. Half way through the shoal, the boat grounded on a flat rock.

Deer and hunting equipment were jettisoned in an attempt to loose the boat from the rock, and the men slid over the side and tried to push her off. Attempts to free her were unsuccessful.

Finally, one of the hunters, Archie Taylor, and an Indian guide decided to try and make the lighthouse in a canoe, carried on the launch. The storm was increasing in force and ice formed on their clothes as they made way.

Arrival of the canoe at the lighthouse brought two fishermen, Frank Oldfield and Charles Griffey, to the scene in a tourist ferry. However, the ferry was unable to get close enough to the launch to effect a rescue.

A rowboat was then sent to the lighthouse, manned by Jack Vail, the lighthouse keeper, Bill Johnston and Bartley Vankoughnet. They were guided to the stranded launch by gun shots, fired from the launch.

The hunting party was removed from the launch to the motorboat in the smaller craft. The party included Clifford S. Richardson and Archie Taylor, Point Au Baril, Russell Londry, Earl Tucky and David Reid, of Meaford, Jack Kennedy and J. W. Harris of Barrie, and William Jamieson, their Indian guide.

The motor launch was towed to shore early Tuesday.

Britain's foot and mouth disease, newly discovered in a shipment of cattle and pigs at Stowmarket, Suffolk, in England, which resulted in the immediate destruction of 400 cattle and 1,800 pigs, did not come from Canada. Imports of the infected stock were from various European points, it was stated by Dr. O. J. Reed, Dominion Veterinary Surgeon.

Bazaar on the last Saturday afternoon of November also to pack a bale of clothing for the West.

Mrs. George Harris, convener for the month, then took over the meeting. The hymn "God Reveals His Presence" was sung. Mrs. Foster Keene read the devotional leaflet "A Worshipping Church." Mrs. Broad read a selection from the book "Before They Call," by Nellie McClung. A solo, "Do Something for Others" was sung by Mrs. S. Moorcroft. A Thanksgiving prayer was offered by Mrs. Snelgrove. Mrs. Tumelty gave a reading, "The Lost Bible." The singing of "Light of the Lonely Pilgrim's Heart" and benediction closed the meeting.

PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS

On Tuesday evening of last week the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Morrow was the scene of a happy gathering when the River Valley folk tendered Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morrow (nee Mildred Elliott) a surprise party.

Mr. Percy Utman was chairman and Mrs. Clarence Chard gave a sentimental reading. The Rosebush orchestra accompanied with several musical numbers and all enjoyed several rounds of community singing and brief addresses.

An address of appreciation was read to the newlyweds as follows: River Valley, Nov. 2, 1937. Dear Mildred and Harry:

We have seized this opportunity to celebrate your birthday, Harry, with a party in honour of your marriage and in welcoming you, Mildred, to the Valley. We are all of the same spirit of those who formed the charivari party a few nights ago, and we will endeavour to show it in another way.

We have watched you Harry, develop from a lovable baby through the varying degrees of mischief and humility which marked your boyhood. Your love of harmless teasing whether pets, school children, or friends has remained your chief characteristic. You have been willing to help with sports, program or plays when you felt you were needed. We rejoice to see how you have become a man, quiet, dependable, and ambitious and with a very active sense of humor.

Give us a man who sings at his work be his occupation what it may.

Now that you feel prepared to establish a home of your own, we congratulate you on the choice of so clever, charming and gifted a bride. Although a stranger to some of us yet, Mildred, we know Harry has found a mate who will be a real comrade in every sense of the word. We feel he has bided his time and chosen well. Harry has been a model son and guarantees to make you a model husband.

These gifts, we hope, will be a pleasant reminder of our good wishes for you. As you began your married life honeymooning eastward towards the sunrise may you always continue, faces glowing, with only brightness before you.

Signed on behalf of the community, charivari boys and Institute.

The newlyweds were presented with a rocker and occasional chair, walnut end table, runner and book ends.

Both Harry and Mildred suitably replied thanking their friends for the lovely gifts and the happy thought of having the event on Harry's birthday.

A delicious lunch was served at the close and all enjoyed a social hour together.

NO MOTOR ACCIDENTS OVER THE WEEK-END

Peace and tranquility reigned supreme in and around Belleville police circles over the week-end. The ideal weather conditions of Sunday resulted in an increased number of motorists taking full advantage of the ideal Autumn motoring weather when an influx of motor vehicles, being used expressly for pleasure, were seen passing through the city Sunday. No major motor accidents resulted, Traffic Officers stated Monday.

Provincial authorities asked the assistance of police in the possible recovery of a man, who they say is Edward Carr. He escaped from the Ontario Hospital at Toronto early Sunday clad only in institution apparel. He was described as a man of 5 feet 5 inches weighing about 120 pounds and is believed to have boarded a freight train leaving Toronto.

Two motor cars were stolen and reported locally over the week-end. At Cobourg a 1929 Ford bearing Ontario license plates number 796H1 was taken, while at Whitby a 1938 model Chevrolet was stolen. This vehicle is blue in color and carried license plates number 202M.

Eleven transients sought shelter at the police station Sunday night, all being instructed to leave the city upon their release early Monday. The only arrests recorded over the week-end resulted from a minor drinking escapade, that will see the alleged offenders summoned into court this week.

FALL GRAINS APPEAR TO HAVE GOOD START

"While there is not as much 'top' as we would like to see, fall grains are showing promise of being given a good start before winter sets in," Joseph Wilson, Agricultural Representative of Stirling, stated Saturday. "Farmers are sowing a fairly good acreage, and while the early Autumn rains retarded early growth to some extent, I would say the crops look as good as those of other years," Mr. Wilson added.

WOODMAN ACQUITTED OF MURDERING AUBREY SEDORE

Robert Woodman, 23-year-old Flinton miner, charged with murder of Aubrey Sedore, trapper, walked from the Napanee Court House Wednesday a free man after a jury deliberating for two hours and forty-five minutes brought in a verdict of "not guilty". The trial opened on November 3rd.

Following the rendering of the verdict by Jury Foreman George Nichols, Napanee, Mr. J. M. Simpson, defence counsel immediately moved for the discharge of the accused man.

A noisy demonstration on the part of the crowded court room was sternly rebuked by court officials.

NEW FORD FACTORY STARTS PRODUCTION

The $3,330,000 body manufacturing plant recently completed at Windsor by the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Ltd., went into production on Thursday. It is the largest industrial building built in Canada this year, and will provide employment for several hundred workers. The factory covers nearly 14 acres under one roof. It is 1,000 feet long and 571 feet wide. More than 1,000 men were working in construction of the plant.

FIRE DESTROYS HOME IN MARMORA TOWNSHIP

Believed to have originated from chimney sparks falling on a shingled roof, fire which burned out of control recently totally destroyed the residence of Joseph Peever, Marmora Township. Aroused at an early hour by the smell of smoke, the family, with the help of neighbors which formed a bucket brigade attempted to extinguish the blaze, but fought a losing battle. Only a portion of the furniture was saved.

STIRLING MAN INJURED BY COW

Dragged for some distance by a cow which bolted suddenly as he was leading it to the butcher's, Sid. Williams of Stirling, received a badly crushed hand when the rope by which he was leading the animal became entangled around his wrist and fingers. An X-ray was taken to discover if any bones of the hand have been broken.

The open season for deer hunting in this section of Ontario commenced on Friday of last week, November 5, and continues until the night of Saturday, November 20.

HON. J. RAMSAY

MacDONALD DIES

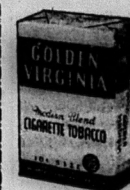

Rt. Hon. J. Ramsay MacDonald, thirteenth Prime Minister of Great Britain, died peacefully Tuesday night as he was travelling by liner to South America in quest of health and "elusive rest" he so much needed. Empire mourns the passing of a great Scot who elevated from fisherman's cottage to the leadership of his country and empire. His body will be brought home to be laid to rest among his "ain folk" at Lossiemouth, Scotland. He declined an earldom, his retirement from public life a long ago for the sake of his son who he wished to see unhampered in a career in the service of his country. Ex-Prime Minister MacDonald was Britain's great Labor leader and a standing figure in the cause of international peace and understanding.

HAZZARDS THANK

OFFERING SERVICE

The anniversary and thank offering services of Hazzards United Church held on Sunday, November 7th, were well attended. The day was dedicated to the Rev. A. W. Harding of Springbrook delivered two impressive and inspiring sermons. He chose for his morning text "Beloved, now are we sons of God," and for the evening the Disciples' invitation to Jesus, "Abide with us, for it is toward evening and the day is far spent." The services by the choir added much to the beauty and dignity of the service. The finances of the day were very gratifying, exceeding the amount of the objective.

LARGE WOLF SHOT NEAR MILLBRIDGE

Engaged on a deer hunt with other companions from the village in the vicinity of Millbridge last week, Wm. McCoy of Madoc, experienced the thrill of shooting one of the largest wolves seen in that section in some time. The animal, luxuriously pelted, was classified as a timber wolf, evidently from the northern part of the county.

GUEST SPEAKERS AT SILVER JUBILEE

Rev. G. W. Rivers and Mrs. Rivers attended a Silver Jubilee Anniversary of the W. M. S. near Ripley, on Thursday, November 4th. The Auxiliary was organized when Mr. Rivers was pastor at Ripley, and he was invited to return for the Silver Anniversary as guest speaker. Mrs. Rivers also addressed the large gathering, and lighted the candles on the birthday cake. Such anniversaries are a source of great pleasure and profit to all who attend, and the happy reunion with old friends and co-workers is a real joy.—Bolton Enterprise.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES OF BEULAH CHURCH

Beulah United Church held their anniversary service on Sunday, November 7th. Extra large congregations attended both morning and evening services which were in charge of a former pastor, Rev. Harry Mellow, of Gore's Landing. Special music was furnished by the choir which was assisted in the evening by the Fuller male quartette composed of Messrs. Frank Palmer, George and Arthur Brough and Lloyd McCauley.

On Monday evening a fowl supper was served in the town hall, and afterwards a concert was given with Rev. Lackey as chairman. Violin selections were given by the Blakely brothers, reading by Miss Broad of Madoc, brief addresses by Rev. W. R. Tristram, solo by Reg. Haggerty, also a solo by little Miss Jean Haggerty.

The Thankoffering of all services was nearly $200.

A UNIQUE EVENT

On Sunday, November 7th, the family of Mr. and Mrs. George Lee, of Huntingdon township, gathered at their parents' home to honour them on the occasion of their birthdays, which this year fell on Saturday and Sunday respectively. Mr. Lee is 90 years of age and is still quite hearty except that his sight is failing, and Mrs. Lee is 83, but unfortunately she is bothered with rheumatism which makes it difficult for her to get around. The day was also the anniversary of their wedding and the party was a happy occasion.

About forty-six were present, all except two or three being members of Mr. and Mrs. Lee's family with their families, and included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lee, of Marmora Village; Mr. and Mrs. George Lee, Jr., and family of Madoc Township; Mr. and Mrs. William Davidson, of Marmora Township; Mr. Ben Lee, who resides at the old homestead; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bronson and family of Rawdon; Mr. and Mrs. C. Burridge and family, of Belleville; Mrs. Fred Ethier and three sons, Belleville; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bronson and family, of Rawdon; Mr. and Mrs. J. Matthews, and family, of Belleville; Mrs. Joe Lee and family, of Marmora township; and Miss Foley of Rawdon township. Mr. Joe Lee was the only one of the family of the old couple who was unable to be present, being confined to his home through illness.

DEATHS

McKINNON—In Madoc Village on Wednesday, November 17, 1937, Donald McKinnon, aged 81 years, 5 months.

HEAD IS CRUSHED BY WAGON WHEEL ON FLINTON ROAD

Everton Sedore, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sedore, farmers residing on the River Road, one mile east of Flinton, was instantly killed a few minutes before four o'clock Friday afternoon when the left rear wheel of a loaded gravel wagon from which he had fallen passed over his head.

The dead child, one of a family of four, was riding with three playmates Carl Hasler, 7, Gordon Hasler, 8, and Gordon Earl on the wagon driven by W. H. Spicer, 25, employee of Howard Hasler, farmer of the district, when he slipped from the vehicle and rolled beneath the wheels. Death was instantaneous with part of the head and face being terribly disfigured.

Chief Coroner Dr. G. F. Wilson, of Napanee, conducted an investigation of the circumstances surrounding the death of the child and stated no inquest would be held, the tragedy being of a purely accidental nature.

Spicer, driver of the wagon, stated to Sgt. Harry Thompson, Provincial Police, that he had warned the children about the danger of falling off a few minutes previous to the accident. "I did not know a thing had happened until I heard one of the boys scream and shout 'Look at Everton.'"

I turned around and saw the body of the Sedore boy lying in the left-hand wagon track," he told police.

Visibly moved, Spicer related how he had immediately rushed to Flinton to notify Dr. G. W. Davis, local physician, and finding him out left word for him to come immediately upon his return. The body of the dead child lay in the road until the arrival of police and coroner.

Dr. Wilson issued a release for the body which was taken to the Stone Undertaking Parlor in Flinton.

STIRLING MAN HURT UNCOUPLING TRAILER

Engaged in loading wood for an order in Belleville in Stirling on Tuesday of last week, Frank Woods, employee of Alton Hadley, Stirling coal and wood merchant, received a fractured collar bone when crushed between a trailer and truck. The victim had uncoupled the trailer from the truck when the former, loaded with wood, ran forward, pinning him between trailer and truck.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES AT ST. PETER'S CHURCH

On Sunday, November 14th, St. Peter's Presbyterian Church celebrated the sixty-third anniversary of the erection of their beautiful stone Church. Large congregations were present at both the morning and evening Diets of worship. The Rev. S. M. Scott, B.A., of Picton, was the guest speaker. At the morning service Mr. Scott preached from the text Luke 21:26, "Men's hearts failing them for fear and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth; for the powers of Heaven shall be shaken." At the evening service the subject of the discourse was taken from the passage found in the Gospel of Luke, Chapter 12, verses 18-21 with special reference to the words "And He said, this will I do. But God said unto him, Thou fool."

In the morning the choir under the leadership of the organist, Mrs. B. V. Alexander, sang the beautiful anthem "The Evergreen Pastures of God." For the first time as a church soloist Master William Hawthorne, Jr., sang the song "My Nearest Neighbour." The young man possesses a fine tenor voice, and gives promise of becoming a singer of real merit. At the evening service two anthems were rendered by the choir. The first anthem entitled "Sing to the Lord, with Thanksgiving," in which Mrs. Irene Crawford, as leading soprano, took the solo parts, while the second anthem, "Pilot Me," was sung at the offertory.

The Moderator and Session of St. Peter's Church takes this opportunity of thanking the Rev. S. M. Scott, B.A., for his inspiring messages, and the choir for their very fine contributions to the service of praise. We also wish to express our appreciation of the courtesy of the Rev. I. E. Kennedy B.A., and his people of Trinity United Church for withdrawing their evening service, and joining with us in the fellowship of the evening worship. Contributed.

ARMISTICE SERVICES AT MADOC ARMOURIES

At 10.30 on November 11th the citizens of Madoc attended an Armistice Day service in the Armouries. On the platform were the clergymen of the village, Rev. Mr. Hunter, Rev. Father Hyland, Rev. I. E. Kennedy, and Rev. W. G. Hope Swayne and Mr. William Hart, president of the local Legion. Service was opened with singing "O God Our Help in Ages Past" with Rev. Mr. Kennedy reading the short scripture passages, followed by prayer by Rev. Mr. Hunter. Rev. Hope Swayne was the speaker and gave a very inspiring address on Remembrance Day. Little Miss Colleen Haggerty gave a recitation "In Flanders Field," and this was followed by the song "When the Poppies Bloom Again" by Master Glen Haggerty. After the singing of the National Anthem the Veterans marched to the Cenotaph in the Thompson Memorial Park. The Last Post and Reveille was played by Mr. James Aylesworth. Wreaths of the different organizations and churches were placed on the Cenotaph by the following:

CAMPBELLFORD HUNTER SHOOTS 250 LB. BEAR

Elmer Hawkins, Campbellford, may have missed getting his annual deer this year, but the family will dine on thick bear steaks instead, taken from an animal shot by him about 20 miles north of Marmora while he was about to return home from the fall hunt. The large animal, killed with two well placed shots, was encountered in the woods just previous to the breaking up of camp, and weighed 250 pounds.

HUNTERS GET MOOSE. DEER, BEAR, FISH, DISLOCATED ELBOW

Two Guelph physicians ran up something of a record on a hunting trip in the Algoma District, 150 miles north of Sault Ste. Marie, it was learned recently. The successful nimrods were Dr. L. H. Leggett and Dr. Charles Pinch and their bag was a deer, a moose, a bear, and a thirty-eight-pound fish. Although successful in hunting sense, a mishap befell the party when Dr. Pinch fell going through the bush, dislocating his elbow.

WOMAN KNOCKED OUT OF CHAIR BY LIGHTNING

Word was received at Wlarton on Friday last of the experience of Mrs. Alexander Hepburn, Hope Bay, during an electrical storm. Mr. Hepburn saw a flash of lightning come under the kitchen door, cross in zig-zag fashion to where his wife was sitting, and disappear under the floor mat. Mrs. Hepburn was knocked from her chair and doubled up from the shock which left her in a dazed condition. All that she knows of the incident is the blinding light and terrific crash.

IN MEMORIAM

GLENNIE—In sad and loving memory of my dear husband, William Glennie, who passed peacefully away November 21, 1936.

My husband is sleeping so free from all pain

O wake him not sweet spirit, to suffer again.

He slumbers so soundly O let him sleep on.

His sickness is ended his troubles are gone.

Just think how he suffered and moaned with pain.

Till God in His mercy sent down from above,

An angel that whispered a message of love.

Sadly missed and fondly remembered by his wife.

HERE AND THERE

The next event of national interest will be the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto. The growing interest in it and the increasing exhibits will quite likely put it over the top this year.

One good lesson to drunken drivers is reported from a Western city where the magistrate sentenced a gentleman who had been convicted of being "under the influence" while operating his auto, to a nominal fine, but the requirement to report personally to the police every day at six o'clock p.m. for the ensuing month. "But, your honor," said the gentleman "I may be out of town for a day." "Oh, no, you won't," replied His Honor; "we'll see to that for this month, and if you are not strictly sober every day at six, you lose your license."—Nova Scotia Spectator.

ABSENT-MINDED DRIVERS

A news note recently reported the fact that in a survey of the American Automobile Association garages it was disclosed that 1,500,000 motorists ran out of gas on the roads in the United States last year, in spite of the fact that there is a service station at frequent intervals on all the highways. The significance of this is that it shows that there must be a considerable amount of carelessness and absent-mindedness on the part of motor drivers. The picture of 1,500,000 drivers on the roads making frantic effort to obtain gas is a striking comment on their mentality. Perhaps this neglect may seem innocent enough in itself, but the question that arises is as to its relation to serious disregard of the rules of traffic. The inference is inescapable that such inattention as failure to observe the gasoline gauges in their cars is almost certain to reflect itself in more serious directions. Absent-mindedness at any time or place is something to be strenuously counteracted, and especially in the driving of automobiles. At any rate the fact is worth pondering by those who are concerned about the increasing number of accidents on the highways.—Brantford Exporter.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING BEST

Many forms of advertising have sprung into being in recent years, but they have not all been the brain child of some advertising expert but rather the outcome of more recent inventions and the desire of those interested to put them to commercial use in the advertising field. Hence we see and hear advertising from the air, advertising from sound trucks, moving apparatus in display windows and other forms that have deviated from the old reliable handbill or space in the newspapers where the printed word comes up close to the reader and gains more than a mere glance or the echoes of a fragment of sound.

Arthur A. Fisk, President of the Insurance Advertising Conference of the United States who knows whereof he speaks, comes forward with the following in support of newspaper advertising:

"The newspaper will continue to be the great medium for quick conveyance of news to all the people—not only news of the world and of the neighbourhood, but news of new merchandise in the stores and new products offered by the manufacturer. The daily newspaper never grows old or grows stale, because every 24 hours the doings of a mad and merry world full of people provides the fresh fuel of war and romance and crime and intrigue and drama and achievement for a new satisfied reading public."

HOW CANADA IS HANDICAPPED IN AUTOMOTIVE POWER

The most widely significant annual event in this city is now rapidly approaching.

It is the annual Automobile Show. The automobile! What a place that occupies in the lives of us all! What a tremendous asset it is in the building of the whole structure on which our place in the economic picture of today depends!

The automobile has largely built our age.

Our goods are moved by it, the business of cities is founded on it, our great new tourist industry exists because of it, great industries have grown from it, millions find employment because of it.

It takes us on pleasure bent, and our defence forces move on wheels driven by motors.

The whole of the modern world has been conditioned and developed by this simple and ingenious piece of mechanism.

Yes, the automobile today is the mightiest achievement of man in revolutionizing our whole economic and social life.

And yet in comparison with our great neighbour to the South, we as a nation are mightily handicapped in the use of the automobile.

Handicapped because with us it is a far more costly instrument to use than it is with the people of the United States.

We cannot ride in an automobile anything like as cheaply as our American friends can.

We cannot use it in business anything like as cheaply as Americans can use it.

We cannot without added capital investment, and therefore added cost and added depreciation, equip ourselves or our business with automotive power.

And why? Because for some reason, never adequately explained, the price of automobiles is far higher in Canada than it is in the United States.

Automobile manufacture is one of the most highly protected industries in Canada.

The Canadian plants have the full benefit of all the costly research and engineering departments of the American plants. They have the advantage of all their forms of labor saving equipment in manufacture.

Yet an American plant situated only a few miles from a Canadian plant can produce an automobile to sell at about two-thirds of the price charged for the same model as made in Canada.

It is astonishing how exactly the extra cost in Canada can be calculated.

Just take the customs duty on an American car imported into Canada, add the cost of freight for that car in transporting it to Canada, and the two together represent the added cost of a similar car made in Canada.

Another remarkable way in which this works out is this. If an American firm makes, say, two models, one a cheap model and one bigger and better, then it will be found that the cheap model in Canada costs approximately what the bigger and better model costs in the United States.

Automobile authorities, in dealing with the retail trade in automobiles, say there are three factors which guide automobile buyers.

They are appearance, performance and cost.

Note the last factor, "and cost." Transportation is the lifeblood of trade and industry. And if you sum up all of the automotive power in Canada, as the essential equipment of a nation in this age, think what a mighty bill for added cost Canada has to meet to put itself on a par with the people of the United States.

The Tariff Board in Canada has had the matter under study for a long time.

Its report is expected to be presented at the next session of Parliament, shortly to open.

Will that report mean a lowering in the cost of automobiles—not a picaresque one or two per cent, but a lowering to the American level?

Buyers will be waiting anxiously to see.—Montreal Daily Herald.

GRAND SECRETARY OF MASONS DIES

A dispatch to the New York Times on Saturday announced the death in England of Sir Philip Colville Smith, for twenty years Grand Secretary of the United Lodge of Freemasons. He was 75.

Apart from the Duke of Connaught Sir Colville Smith was probably the best known figure in the Masonic world. He visited many foreign countries in the interests of Masonry and always was in the closest touch with Masonic leaders in the Dominions and the United States.

He was the pivotal official at Masonic headquarters which had control of nearly 5,000 lodges and 1,700 Royal Arch chapters. During his career he consecrated some 650 lodges and chapters and was instrumental in raising large sums of money for such institutions as the Royal Masonic Institute for girls.

Sir Colville resigned his post as Grand Secretary only a few weeks ago but had been ill for more than a year.

THREAT LETTER

SCARES FAMILY

POLICE AS GUARD

Another note purporting to be from the Streetsville ghouls who stole a body from a grave there a few weeks ago sent provincial and local police on the hunt for the ghouls with renewed zeal on Saturday.

Pinned to the door at the home of Mrs. A. J. Crawford Friday night was a note in an envelope. It told Mrs. Crawford to take her children from school and to leave the town or else . . . Mrs. Crawford said the rest of the note was undecipherable.

Town Constable Roy Elderfield guarded three Crawford children on their way to school Friday. The eldest child, Mary, is ill at home. The Crawford family said several threatening notes were received by their daughter at high school, arising, they allege, from jealousies among the students.

Inspector G. McKay, Criminal Investigation Department, Provincial Police, joined local police authorities Saturday. Local police authorities said: "We think we're close to the end now."

Ever since these notes have been passing, the whole town has lived in fear," said Mrs. Crawford. "You are afraid to go out on the streets at night, not knowing who might jump out at you from dark places."

STAMP BRINGS

ABOUT REUNION

Mrs. H. Doguet of Toronto, had a three-cent stamp to thank Monday for her reunion with a father she had not seen for seventeen years.

Back in 1920 in Flint, Mich., the then four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Brown was placed in custody of her mother by order of the court when her parents were divorced. But when the girl grew older she started a search for her father.

Letters mailed to hundreds of O. Browns were always returned without the wanted information, while a personal search of many cities and towns brought no results. Radio appeals, too, added nothing.

But last week, Mrs. Doguet read at her Toronto home of a Brown being buried in Belleville, Ont. She sent a letter, and this time word reached her it had been forwarded.

The reply came back. It was a note from her father, working as an electrician in a Nepheline Mine 40 miles north of Peterborough. Her father, remarried now, was almost overcome when he described their meeting and how he, in turn, had searched for his daughter without success.

SMALL TRAILER

HOUSES EIGHT

A family of eight, crowded into a horse-drawn trailer, reached Winnipeg last week after a twenty-four-day journey from Watrous, Sask., where they left their drought-area farm. They hope to establish themselves on a small farm outside Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stewart and their six children, Francis 9, Jim 7, Rita 6, Amos and Andy, 4-year-old twins, and Anita 2, manage to live in their trailer built on an old automobile chassis.

Mrs. Stewart said she wouldn't consider changing it for the farm, 65 miles southwest of Saskatoon, where they didn't get a crop in eight of their nine years on the land.

"I'd much sooner travel, anyway," said Mrs. Stewart. "It's something I've always wanted to do." Stewart hopes to trade his two horses for an old car to make the rest of the journey to Montreal.

PLAYHOUSE AT BROCKVILLE IS

GUTTED BY FIRE

Fire of unknown origin early Saturday gutted the New Theatre, long established Brockville playhouse that has been dark for years. Roof of the structure collapsed before the blaze was brought under control. Loss was estimated between $35,000 and $50,000.

Smelling smoke as she passed the theatre on her way home from work, Mrs. William Alberry summoned her husband and they investigated. They found the interior of the building filled with smoke.

Fire-fighting equipment fought strenuously to save the building and was successful in checking the progress of the blaze in the new stage portion. The auditorium and two galleries were gutted and the roof collapsed. The theatre was converted from the former town hall in 1910-1911 and was well known by road companies, until one night stands went out of favor. It had one of the largest stages in Canada and was owned by the Municipal Corporation who leased it a number of years ago to J. A. Dobbie, and F. I. Ritchie of Brekville. The theatre was the last used during the provincial election campaign when Hon. Earl Rowe, the Conservative leader, spoke.

Johnny Hartley, Chief of the Fire Department and President of the Dominion Fire Chiefs Association, was overcome by smoke while directing the efforts of the brigade and was removed to hospital for treatment.

EAR OF MOTORIST

FASTER THAN EYE

The ear of an automobile driver is quicker than his eye in responding to a safety warning.

An auto horn, or a policeman's whistle, puts the driver's foot on the brake faster than the light of a red light.

These findings on safe driving were announced Saturday at Indiana University. They were the first tests to compare a driver's reaction time to sound and sight. They were made by Dr. Frank R. Elliott and Professor C. M. Louttit of the Psychology Department.

Sever hundred drivers were tested. Each one sat in the driver's seat, with one foot pressing the accelerator half way to the floor. The time required to lift this foot to the brake and press the pedal all the way down was taken.

The signal to put on the brake was either a red light directly in front, or an automobile horn. All groups, whether men or women, young or old, responded more quickly to the horn than to the light.

The average advantage of the ear over the eye was one-hundredth of a second. The fastest braking time for the red light was three-tenths of a second; the quickest for the horn a little more than two-fifths of a second.

Men were a little faster than women in responding to either light or horn.

ARROW IS USED

TO SHOOT DEER

A bow and arrow hunter, who revised the technic of approach to suit his form of arms, claimed Michigan's first deer kill of the season by that method Monday.

Coming home with a six-point buck, William van Vorst, who works in a bank, proudly reported shooting the deer from "about 15 feet" in Northern Newago County.

Most bow and arrow hunters who invaded the area reported no luck, but van Vorst explained he adopted the method of crawling on hands and knees toward potential prey.

"I tried to hunt as I would with a rifle," he said, "but that didn't work. I never could get close enough. So I tried crawling tactics. I'd crawl anywhere from 100 yards to a quarter-mile to get near a deer. I saw this one coming toward me. When it saw me it turned and ran through a poplar grove, but I shot and down he went."

MOTORCYCLE RIDERS

HURT ON HIGHWAY

The slippery road of No. 7 highway was, it is said, the cause of an accident that occurred on Saturday morning. Mr. Wesley Richardson and Mr. Thomas Foley of Deloro, were travelling along the highway on a motorcycle at quite a fast rate. When the motorcycle struck a more slippery spot, the motor swerved and slid to the roadside spilling the riders. They were both shaken up and terribly bruised. Mr. Richardson's face was cut and several stitches were placed in his face.

HON. J. G. GARDINER

ENDORSES NATIONAL

CHEESE WEEK

"It has always seemed remarkably strange to me that notwithstanding the fact that it is generally conceded that Canada makes the best Cheddar cheese in the world, yet Canadians eat less cheese than the people of any other country," said Hon. James G. Gardiner, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, when speaking on behalf of National Cheese Week to be held from October 29th to November 6th. The per capita consumption of cheese in Canada is only 3 3/4 lb. compared with 9 1/2 lb. in Great Britain, where practically all Canadian cheese that is exported finds a ready market.

"National Cheese Week is promoted by the National Dairy Council of Canada for the purpose of encouraging Canadians to become more familiar with cheese as a product notably high in food value, and so low in price as to be within the reach of the most modest purse. We are so convinced that cheese can properly form a much greater place in the diet of the West" continued Mr. Gardiner, "that we are sending 2,000,000 lbs. to the area suffering from drought, to be distributed with the double purpose of providing those presently in need and at the same time encouraging greater consumption of cheese in times when the people of the area can purchase."

NEWS AND INFORMATION FOR THE BUSY FARMER

Fruit Crop Report

The apple crop in Ontario is now estimated at 735,500 barrels, representing a slight increase over the 703,500 barrels harvested in 1936. In Eastern Ontario production is down 23 per cent from last year, and in Western Ontario up 28 per cent. In Eastern Ontario, Spys and Starkas are extremely light, while McIntosh, Snow, Wealthy and Blenheim have an average yield. In Western Ontario, Spys show a 38 per cent decline from last year, Starkas 7 per cent increase, Greenings 22 per cent increase, Baldwins and McIntosh a 35 per cent increase and other late varieties a gain of 12 per cent.

Size and color of apples are considerably better this season than last, but the percentage of "domestics" is much higher in Eastern Ontario due to the prevalence of scab and sideworm injury in a large number of orchards. In commercial orchards in Western Ontario insect pests and fungus diseases were fairly well controlled. Movement to storages has been heavy as harvesting has been rushed and prices are not quite as firm as a month ago.

Estimated production of peaches, plums and pears has been raised somewhat since the September report. The peach crop is now estimated at 523,000 bushels, or 30 per cent greater than in 1936, and plums at 56,900 bushels which is 38 per cent higher. Pears are now estimated at 157,400 bushels as a month ago, and 196,800 bushels in 1936. Later varieties of plums, peaches and pears were generally of better size and quality than the earlier varieties. The grape crop is reported at 31,378,000 pounds which is 45 per cent greater than the exceptionally small crop of 21,640,000 pounds harvested last year. Grapes were generally of good size with the bunches compact. While there was some poorly colored fruit, the average was very good.

Present prices of fruits are generally below last year, particularly for pears, apples and plums, although pears exported to Great Britain brought satisfactory returns. Prices for basket grapes have been usually variable and following the frost damage grapes in bulk tumbled from $45.00 per ton to as low as $20.00. Growers in Hastings, Northumberland and Prince Edward counties will receive large cash returns from the canning factories for their crop of tomatoes which was the largest on record. The yield in this district was double that of last season, approximating 375 bushels to the acre. The factories in Eastern Ontario were not able to handle all the supplies and large quantities were shipped to plants in Western Ontario where the average yield on a greatly increased acreage, was only 175 bushels per acre.

Increase of Corn Borers

General observation during the cutting and harvesting of the corn crop of Kent and Essex Counties has shown that an alarming increase in the number of corn borers has occurred, according to Dr. G. M. Sturtevant, in charge of the Dominion entomological laboratory at Chatham. "It is apparent that the infestation is as severe as in the years 1927 and 1928," said Dr. Sturtevant. "Greater application of clean-up methods will be required of farmers to insure success to next year's crop." Weather conditions were favorable to increase of borers this year. Abundance of moisture during planting was a feature noted during the heavy infestations of ten years ago, and similar conditions were prevalent this year. Essex, it is said, was particularly hard hit, both by the borer and poor weather for growing.

How Best to Finish Poultry for Market

In crate or pen fattening poultry for market the greatest gains in weight are made on the thinner, under-developed birds that ordinarily grade "C" for fleshing and fat if sold straight off the range. Such birds should make steady gain up to three weeks feeding if the birds are in good shape and reasonably fat when placed in the crates a shorter finishing period may be used.

The average increase in weight in normal crate feeding should more than pay for the feed. The increased returns from improvement in grade is additional profit. Some ground gains, such as corn and wheat, are better than others but any gains the farmer may have are suitable. Small and unmarketable potatoes, cooked and mashed, are economical and add palatability to any ration. They also help to produce white fat. Milk in any form is desirable; they may be used if milk is not available. The addition of mutton tallow or any animal fat to the ration will increase the proportion of fat on the finished carcass.

In experiments at the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa, the addition of five per cent ground oyster shells increased both feed consumption and gain by ten per cent. Crate feedings of capons was also found to be definitely superior to pen fattening.

Storing Potatoes

For best results with stored potatoes keep the bin temperature between 35 and 40 degrees. During the first eight or ten days of storage, however, allow a fairly high temperature, from 65 to 70 degrees, to hasten the formation of wound cork, which is important in healing bruised and cut potatoes and preventing rot. To reduce shrinkage, keep the bin fairly moist. Store only fully matured and sound potatoes. Be sure there is adequate ventilation. A slatted floor is useful for this purpose.

Handling of Poultry

The pre-cooling and proper handling of poultry killed on the farm or at a packing plant is particularly important because the bloom will be quickly lost if the birds are not pre-cooled without delay and also handled properly.

Poultry killed on the farm and sold dressed through local buyers or poultry pools where no pre-cooling facilities are available frequently lose their bloom, with the consequent depreciation in the sales appearance of the birds and the failure to get the best price on the market.

Poultry meat is a perishable product which will deteriorate rapidly unless properly handled. The market demand is for properly packed poultry with good bloom and bright appearance. Good bloom is first secured by proper finishing but is held after killing by proper handling and holding in correct temperature.

Some of the chief essentials in handling dressed poultry are:

1. See that all birds are bled and plucked properly and that the feet and mouth are washed clean.
2. Birds should be hung up by both feet and allowed to pre-cool for twenty-four hours. The temperature for pre-cooling should be as close to 32 degrees as possible.
3. The temperatures should be checked frequently with a thermometer.
4. In transporting poultry to assembling of selling points it should be held at the same temperature at which it was pre-cooled.

BOMB IS MAILED TO TRIAL WITNESS BURSTS IN YARD

Every detective in Hamilton Police Department engaged Saturday in an effort to trace the origin of a bomb that was mailed to Mrs. Maude Roberts, crown witness in a court case in Hamilton, and burned her about the face and hands when she opened the parcel.

Police said the bomb, contained in a cardboard box, would have killed the woman had she not stood clear of it when cutting the heavy twine about the box. She was a crown witness in the hearing of Phillip Durso, committed for trial on a charge of assaulting and wounding.

The parcel, according to post office authorities, was delivered to her house Friday morning but there was no one in when the messenger called. It was thrown back in the delivery truck and returned to headquarters and not delivered until afternoon.

Prior to opening the parcel, Mrs. Roberts had testified in police court she was in Durso's home when he and Sydney Lawrence, 45-year-old taxi driver, were arguing the night Lawrence was found dying on a street. Lawrence, brother of Sam Lawrence,

IF PEACE EFFORT FAILS, KING SEES DISASTER TO RACE

Canada this week is observing Remembrance Day with a warning before it from the Prime Minister that failure of efforts to bring about world peace may bring unparalleled disaster to mankind.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King on Monday night issued his annual Armistice message to the nation and called for development of "an interested and enlightened public opinion on matters affecting international friendship and good will."

To his appeal, linking the annual Remembrance service November 11th with the "peace action week" instituted by the League of Nations Society in Canada, three provincial premiers joined theirs.

Premiers Macdonald of Nova Scotia, Dymally of New Brunswick, and Patterson of Saskatchewan, added their pleas to Mr. Mackenzie King's that Canada's war time sacrifice be remembered as a pledge to work for elimination of armed conflict.

Coupling peace action week with the annual poppy day campaign for relief of indigent, unpensioned war veterans, the Prime Minister said:

"Peace action week seems to develop in Canada an interested and enlightened public opinion on matters affecting international friendship and good-will. It aims at uniting all who desire peace in an effort to bring into being a world at peace. That surely was the supreme aim of those who served and suffered and of those whose lives were sacrificed in the great war."

A world at peace is obviously the great need today. As to the future, it must be apparent that early failure of efforts to effect this end is fraught with possibilities of unparalleled disaster to mankind.

"The suffering and destruction which we are at present witnessing on two continents as a part of the very nature of war serve the more vividly to recall the sacrifice of the four long years of struggle and the ideals of peace and security for which those sacrifices were so valiantly made."

PACKS OF WOLVES MENACE LIVES

Hundreds of wolves which have menaced the lives of residents in the Camp Borden district, near Barrie, and have caused loss to farmers by killing sheep, cattle, and fowl will be hounded from the bush today by a posse of hunters.

Game Warden Gordon D. Buie, Sunnidale Corners, and other game wardens have received permission from the Department of National Defence to lead the hunt against the wolves. It was estimated about 150 wolves were in the bush around Camp Borden, an air base, and farmers have been forced to lock livestock in at night.

A farmer's son near Lisle was attacked by a pack. His dog came to his rescue and drove the pack off until the boy's father arrived with a shot gun. Another man was chased up a tree and kept there until a passing motorist discovered his plight and drove the wolves away.

A local legend has been revived by the wolves latest depredations. It is: A man was treed by the wolves. He tried their patience for hours. Finally two of the wolves left and returned with two beavers whom they set to work felling the tree. As the tree fell a moose happened along and the man fell astride the moose and was carried to safety.

who formerly represented Hamilton East in the Ontario Legislature, died in hospital.

Magistrate H. A. Burbridge, committed Durso, 20, for trial after commenting: "A jury would like to hear the evidence of Maud Roberts." She testified: "I thought there was going to be a fight (between Durso and Lawrence) and I decided to get out before the law arrived."

Police said as far as they knew the explosion victim, has been threatened. She was suspicious, however, of the attractively marked package, mailed from Toronto, and held it at arms length in the backyard of her home as she cut the cord.

A burst of flames followed the explosion as she opened the package. She was hurled to the ground, stunned, and her sight was impaired. Hospital authorities described her condition as "fair."

Police said the bomb, loaded with gunpowder fired by a spark from a dry cell battery and wire coil, was cleverly made and not the work of an amateur. Examination of the shattered box provided no finger print clues, authorities said.

EXPECT RISE IN CANCER RATE UNTIL RESEARCH BRINGS CURE

Dr. Henry D. Chadwick, Director of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health, on Monday said that, despite attempts of science to check the ravages of cancer, "the death rate from it may be expected to go even higher," unless research yielded a cure.

A lengthening of the span of life, he added, also meant deaths from heart disease must increase.

Dr. Chadwick, discussing the ten chief causes of death, noted that cancer today ranked second among diseases from which men died, being topped only by heart complications.

Eighty years ago it was not in the first ten and heart disease was ninth in order.

Increased longevity, he observed, meant that more and more people eventually would die from such diseases as cancer and heart trouble.

Dr. Chadwick based his observations of Massachusetts mortality tables of today and those of eighty years ago.

The tables, he said in an interview, indicated "medical practice is gradually changing from treatment of the young to treatment of the middle-aged and elderly."

The ten chief causes of death for the five-year period 1856-60 the tables indicated were:

Tuberculosis, diarrhoea and enteritis, infantile deaths, scarlet fever, pneumonia, old age, typhus, accidents, heart disease, diphtheria and croup.

In the five-year period 1931-35, the order had shifted to:

Heart disease, cancer, cerebral hemorrhage, pneumonia, nephritis, accidents, tuberculosis, diseases of early infancy, arteriosclerosis.

LIVELY WOMAN GETS HER MOUNTIE; HUSBAND "SHOTS" HIM

"I want a Mountie," shrieked a woman as she dived from a Florida-licensed automobile in Regina recently and grasped the arm of a startled constable, H. E. P. Mann of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

"Shoot!" she cried. The advice was to her husband, busy getting his camera into action before the constable could grasp the meaning of the hold-up.

"Bye-Bye," chirped the woman, rushing for the car. "We've been hunting for days for a Mountie for a picture for our trip. I hope your wife won't mind—if you have a wife." Constable Mann hopes his wife won't mind either.

ONLY THREE APPLY FOR FARM COURSE

Only three youths have availed themselves of the opportunity to be placed on farms so far under the Dominion-Provincial Youths Training program sponsored by Provincial and Federal Governments, Joseph Wilson, Agricultural Representative, Stirling, stated Monday.

"The plan is one that should appeal to boys between the ages of eighteen and twenty-five," Mr. Wilson added. "They are paid a monthly salary of ten dollars during the six months' course, and learn valuable knowledge pertaining to things agricultural. None, but the most responsible farmers have been chosen to give these courses and it is to be hoped that more boys take advantage of these fine courses before it is too late."

MARKETING BOARD IS ESSENTIAL

Hon. P. M. Dewar, Ontario Minister of Agriculture, told 200 district cheese producers at Kemptville Thursday night the provincial government planned to develop an efficient provincial marketing board, make a close study of marketing conditions and give fullest co-operation in assisting the farmer to obtain a good price for his products.

He said that while he was not definitely committed to any specific policy he believed farming in general, as the years passed, was going to become more and more competitive with narrower margins of profit for the producer.

The accent would have to be on still higher quality of products and improved marketing methods. In connection with this problem the Department of Agriculture would exert itself to the fullest degree in an attempt to assist the producer, he said.

'MODERN' BIBLE FREELY BOUGHT

When it was announced in London the Bible was to be modernized there went up a great cry of dissension. Rectors cried "shame" and letters poured into the editor denouncing any "tinkering with the greatest book in the world."

But the new one—"The Bible as Literature"—has not only been published but its first edition has been sold out. Moreover, book critics of the British Press reviewed it with considerable favor.

The Dean of St. Paul's publicly approved both the need of such a book and the manner in which this "popularization" was done. He intimated there should be no comparison of the new work with the Bible but said good would be served if the new work reached a broader field and in turn increased interest in the Bible itself.

DAFOE NAMED CONSULTANT IN CHILD HYGIENE BY OHIO

Ohio extended a "job" last week to Dr. Allan Roy Dafeo, the Dionne Quintuplets' physician.

The office of Governor Martin L. Davey announced that Dr. Dafeo would be commissioned as honorary member of the staff of the Ohio Bureau of Child Hygiene as consultant in child hygiene.

The commission will be given to the Callender, Ont., physician when he appears as guest of the Obstetric Society and Medical Women's Club in Cincinnati.

York City. "It's the biggest thrill of my life—since the birth of the quintuplets," he said, his eyes a twinkle, as he stepped from a newspaper plane after viewing Manhattan's skyscrapers from an elevation of 4,000 feet. "If it weren't for Elsie and the children back in Ontario I would have liked to have gone on, right across the Atlantic."

Dionne has a corner of his hotel room stacked with Christmas gifts for his wife and their ample family. He intends to return to Callender some time this week.

BELLEVILLE PRESBYTERY MEETS AT FOXBORO UNITED CHURCH

The November meeting of the Belleville Presbytery of the United Church of Canada was held in Foxboro United Church on Tuesday, Nov. 9th. Rev. W. F. Fletcher of Odessa, chairman, presided over the meeting which was attended by ninety ministers and laymen representing congregations in all parts of the Presbytery.

Among the items of business passed by the Presbytery were: permission granted to John Street United Church property trustees to sell the church property in the city of Belleville; permission was also granted Rev. Morris Wootton of Eldorado, to take charge of Fenmore pastoral charge in Montreal-Ottawa Conference. Presbytery also agreed to the appointment of Mr. Oscar Wagar to the Flinton - Cloyne Mission and the reception of Mr. Wesley Mercier of Roslin, as a candidate for the ministry of the United Church of Canada.

The Laymen's Hour was conducted by the President, Mr. E. L. Fraser of Trenton and the subject, chosen by the association was Temperance. The main speaker on this far reaching topic was Mrs. Douglas W. Bewis, of Belleville, who in a carefully prepared address outlined reasons for people drinking. Economic and social distress, worry, poor housing conditions and lack of mental health. The true value of home life is lost to individuals forced by economic conditions to abide under the existing poor housing in certain slum areas of our cities and people patronize the beverage rooms as a means of escape from it all.

The duty of the Christian church is to combat these existing conditions and this can only be brought about by scientific and systematic education. We cannot place too much value in legislative measures to bring about a solution to the problem when society is damning people faster than the church can save them declared the speaker. Mr. H. D. Williams of Picton, also spoke on the subject of Temperance, setting forth methods and plans for temperance instruction.

The speaker of the afternoon was Rev. J. R. Mutchmore of Toronto, who spoke on the subject of Evangelism. "The great cry of the church today is Evangelism; the cry of Evangelism always echoes forth in the time of crisis and in the time of crisis something creative always comes forth. Christ alone will meet the present crisis and He is to be presented through His church to the community in which the gospel is preached. The speaker urged the ministers to be specific in their statements and use the courageous technique of David in his fight with the giant Goliath.

The reports on Western relief conveyed the startling facts that 821 cars of vegetables have been sent to Western Canada, 151 cars from British Columbia Conference, 106 from Alberta Conference, 189 from Manitoba Conference, 67 from the Maritime Conference, 35 from Montreal and Ottawa Conferences, 288 from the Ontario Conferences of Hamilton, London, Toronto and Bay of Quinte Conference and from Belleville Presbytery. The total value of these vegetables was estimated at a half a million dollars. It cost the railroads, which handled these cars free, the sum of $175,000.

The Evangelism and Social Service Committee report on temperance was very challenging. It reads as follows: That we appeal to all our people to practice total abstinence. That heads of families be urged to so exercise their hospitality as to exclude alcoholic beverages from their homes. That we urge cooperation with all socially minded citizens in support of all legislative enactments that will most effectually control the operations of the liquor traffic, ever keeping in mind the ultimate object of the church—a nation and a world free from the love of drink. Ministers were urged to present in their pulpits more frequently the findings of the General Council on the drink evil.

At the noon hour a real country dinner was served by the ladies of the Foxboro United Church. At 4.30 p.m. Presbytery adjourned. The next meeting will be held in Bridge Street United Church, Belleville, on the second Tuesday in February.

Ernest Hopkins, farmer near Dundas, Ont., died of lockjaw in Orillia Hospital on Monday, according to word received at Dundas. It was presumed an injury to the thumb about a week ago caused infection.

Hopkins tore the nail on his thumb while fixing the door on a motor car. The injury was attended to by a doctor and Saturday Hopkins left with a hunting party for the Huntsville-Muskoka district. He was taken suddenly ill at camp.

CHEESE EXHIBITION TO BE ONE OF MOST INTERESTING HELD IN CANADA

"The Farmer," a national magazine devoted to the interests of agriculture in the Dominion, and published at Toronto, has the following to say of the coming Dominion-wide cheese exhibition which will be held in Belleville during the two days of November 30th and December 1st.

"At the end of this month—November 30th and December 1st, to be exact—the Central Ontario Cheesemakers' Association will stage one of the most interesting cheese exhibitions ever held in this country.

"Factories from all over Ontario are making entries of the best cheese from this summer's production, and they will be in competition with upwards of 200 cheese from the best factories in the province of Quebec, and smaller entries by the best cheesemakers in New Brunswick and Manitoba, Alberta and British Columbia. After these have been scored, and over $1,000 awarded in prizes, they will be compared with twenty of the finest and best English and Scotch cheddars that could be bought in the United Kingdom which are being brought to Belleville especially for this exhibition.

"Those attending the exhibition will be given the opportunity of making comparisons and tasting both the Old Country and the Canadian cheese so they can form their own opinions as to the relative quality of the two. Cheesemakers in particular will have a fine opportunity to make comparisons of their own make with the finest cheese that is sold on the British market."

"The cheesemakers have done their part in bringing this fine exhibit of cheese together at Belleville for their own examination and study. Are the Dominion and Provincial ministers of agriculture through their respective dairy branches content to end it there? At Belleville some three or four thousand people at the most will see this outstanding display. It will not be enough to cause even a ripple of interest among the general public who might consume Canadian cheese."

"If the Ontario Cheese Patrons' Association wish to create public interest in their cheese they will make sure that a portion of this exhibit is well displayed in three of four of the largest consuming centres of Canada, even if it means renting a display window in one of the downtown store windows in order to do so."

"That will be making good use of the exhibit assembled by the cheesemakers, but it will still be only the first step in the creating of a demand for good cheese. It will tempt the public to buy but it won't make it possible for them to buy—that can only be done by enlisting the co-operation of grocery stores, hotels and restaurants."

"Can this co-operation be obtained? We believe it can if the proprietors of these places can be approached in the right spirit."

"A few weeks ago we stopped for dinner at a hotel in Belleville. On the menu for dessert was 'Apple pie and cheese.' We like apple pie and cheese, if it is good cheese."

"What kind of cheese do you serve?" we asked the head waiter.

"Cheese," he replied, mentioning a certain brand of processed cheese we do not particularly favor. He appeared doubtful, however, and called the waitress to the table. She immediately stated that it was cheddar cheese.

"Made in Belleville?" we asked, knowing that a good brand of cheddar cheese is produced in Belleville. She didn't know but brought us a sample of the cheese in question. It was the cheese we wanted, and we enjoyed the dessert."

"Isn't it logical to believe that if a cheese producer, or a representative of a cheese producer's association approached that proprietor, drew his attention to the fact that fine cheddar cheese was one of the major farm products produced in the Belleville area, and that by featuring it as a special attraction on his menu he could build a reputation for his hotel and assist the sale of a local product, he would be interested?"

"Belleville is the centre of a large tourist trade. Tourists when travelling are constantly looking for something different than they have at home. Hotel or restaurant proprietors in Belleville or in any other tourist centre in Eastern Canada can cater to that demand by featuring special Canadian products on their menus."

"If the product is good and well displayed, or otherwise drawn to the attention of the tourist, it will enhance the reputation of the hotel as well as the product. Have cheese producers made any effort to enlist the aid of hotel owners in featuring cheese? Have they made any arrangement to insure a supply if the hotel

SECOND CAR LOAD OF SUPPLIES ARRIVES IN DROUGHT SECTION

A second carload of supplies sent from Stirling recently arrived at its destination and the following letter has been received by Rev. S. E. Beckel, who was in charge of the shipping from Stirling Station:

Spy Hill, Sask.,
November 9, 1937.

Dear Sir:

A car load of fruit and vegetables arrived in Spy Hill the night of October 26th, and was unloaded on the 27th and 28th. The local committee who superintend the distribution of the good things to all parts of the municipality of Spy Hill have asked me to write you as Secretary of the Central Hastings Ministerial Association to express our thanks on behalf of the 200 families who benefited.

Will you please therefore do your best to convey our appreciation to those folks in Stirling, Madoc, Roslin, Tweed and possibly elsewhere, who so kindly donated the fruit and vegetables, etc., which reached us in good condition. It must have taken a lot of time and effort to load the car to the brim and the many gifts were a God-send to many families here.

Last spring there seemed a promise of a bumper crop and good gardens. Everything grew so well at first, but then later there was the shortage of rain, accompanied by hot, dry winds and the gardens and crops suffered. For several years now crops and gardens have been far from normal, but this year seemed to be worse than ever, because of the potato crop failure. However, the need is now not so great, thanks to the big hearts down east.

In the Bavelaw School District of Spy Hill municipality, the school children wrote individual letters and these have been sent to some of the addresses which were found in the car. Other parents have also promised to write those whose names were found in the goods they received. We hope these individual letters will reach some of our Eastern friends, but in case they do not, perhaps you would be kind enough to send word to the local newspaper how grateful we are for the kindness shown. Perhaps some day we will be able to reciprocate in some way.

Thanking you all once again.

Yours sincerely,

FLORENCE H. T. BARKER.
(Mrs. George Barker).

TRAVEL 1,000 MILES BY DOG SLED TO PROBE SUPPOSED MURDER

Murders are somewhat rare among Eskimos of Canada's Arctic coastline but when they occur the great distances and the slow transport methods make for methods of investigation which would seem strange in more settled districts.

Last winter, according to the annual report of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, two suspects accompanied a police patrol on a 200-mile journey to investigate a supposed murder and in the course of the journey were released.

The patrol in charge of Acting Sergeant Makinson set out from Cambridge Bay on the south shore on Victoria Island for King William Island. One of the objects of the tour was to investigate the supposed murder of an Eskimo named "Koppa" two years before.

Koppa's wife, "Heevogal," had gone to live with an Eskimo named "Kayachloo" after her husband's death. The two were in custody at Cambridge Bay and went along with the police patrol.

When the patrol reached Sherman Inlet an inland trip was made to the scene of Koppa's death in the hope the body might be found. It was not and the two suspects continued with the patrol to Peterson Bay where they were released.

The round trip by dog team covered more than 1,000 miles and took 52 days.

men did feature it? If so we haven't heard of it, but the brewery interests are not so modest, nor are the producers of some other products. Here is a quotation found on the menu card of one of the large hotels of the United States:

"Ham! Dream of Delight!"

"In speaking of the superiority of and essential difference of our hams, it is well to remind you of environment influence. Only Wisconsin produces the kind of hogs eligible to become our hams. Their lives are full of delightful sensations, refreshing cleanliness and choice foods and loving care of the proud farmers—and finally they journey to a famous plant where they are scientifically cut and sugar cured, etc."

NO ONE ON EARTH HAS RIGHT TO DEMAND EXPLANATION

Rev. J. L. C. Dart—asked by his superior for information on his rebuff to the Duke of Windsor—said today he probably would answer but "no one on this earth has the ecclesiastical right to demand an explanation of me," neither the Bishop of Fulham, the Archbishop of Canterbury nor anyone else.

The Rt. Rev. Basil Staunton Batty, Bishop of Fulham, wrote from England asking details of the situation created by the Rev. Dart's remarks on the Duke's plan to attend Armistice Day services at St. George's Church.

Mr. Dart had said "I would rather the Duke did not attend the service." The Vicar had also commented on the attitude of the Church of England toward divorce and remarriage, reopening church criticism of the former monarch's marriage to a divorcee.

The rebuff, later the subject of a public apology by Mr. Dart, caused the Duke to cancel his plans to attend the ceremony. Associates said he was "stunned."

The Bishop of Fulham, who supervises all Anglican churches on the continent, said "the matter would appear ended," since the Vicar had apologized.

Rev. Dart said the Bishop's letter was not a demand for a report but more in the nature of a personal note asking for information.

The European edition of the New York Herald Tribune editorially criticized the Vicar, declaring the Duke "already is beginning to appear in the guise of a martyr to his own convictions which are more widely shared than was thought."

"Neither ecclesiastical practice nor Anglican moral theology would sanction any churchman barring a man from church for marriage reasons," the newspaper said.

The Paris Post of the British World War Legion, whose invitation to St. George's Windsor declined at the last minute, was reported planning to invite the former king to its annual dinner on December 3rd.

TIMBERCRAFT AND REFORESTATION BEING TAUGHT

In accordance with the various schemes laid down by the Dominion Provincial Youths' Training Program, twenty youths between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one, fifteen of them from Belleville, and five from Deseronto, left for the district north of Kaladar a few weeks ago where they are being given intensive training in timbercraft and reforestation.

The idea caught on immediately with the youths and glowing reports have been received by parents telling of the progress being made and of the life and work in general. The youths are being trained in various phases of reforestation and work pertaining to timber and lumbering, and those emerging from examinations at the end of the course with the highest marks, besides showing initiative and ability will be given positions with the government.

Under the same plans youths have been placed with reliable farmers to study the many phases of agriculture according to Mr. Joseph Wilson, Agricultural Representative, of Stirling.

In the near future centres for the training of young girls will be opened where they will be trained in household work and domestic science and training. All information pertaining to the many schemes being arranged to alleviate unemployment in the youth of the country can be obtained at the Belleville Employment Bureau.

FATHER SLAYS THREE CHILDREN

Mrs. Robert Paterson returned to her home five miles southwest of Sturgis Saturday to find her oldest child shot to death, her other two children and her 41-year-old husband dying of bullet wounds.

"You just came home in time," Paterson gasped to his wife. "I was the one who did it—they are better off like that."

Gwendolyn, 10, lay dead across her father's knee, Geraldine, seven, died soon after and Angus, nine, and the father died Monday in hospital at Canora, 25 miles south of Sturgis and 175 miles east of Saskatoon. Mrs. Paterson could give police no motive for the slaying.

She and her sister-in-law, Mrs. William Paterson, returned home to find the supper dishes unwashed. None of the family was around but the mother said her husband was hiding.

She urged Mrs. William Paterson to remain for a cup of tea but the latter was anxious to return to her own home on an adjacent farm and drove away.

RUNS ON LAND AND SHIP'S DECK TO AID INTERNATIONAL CAUSE

The London Times recognized with all dignity of an editorial Friday the feat of K. H. H. Bally, a Bournemouth Hampshire, accountant who ran from Bournemouth to the Paris Exhibition.

"My idea was to do something to promote the cause of international friendship," Bally panted when he arrived in Paris on Friday. He explained he was also testing a faith cure he experienced four years ago.

After running to Southampton, Bally boarded the Queen Mary and ran around the liner's deck while crossing the channel, then around the Tender which took him into Cherbourg.

He pranced up and down the platform while customs officers examined his baggage and, after a brief sleep, continued his marathon to Paris.

People often say they will "run" over to Paris but never do, remarks the Times. Here at last the feat is done. Captious critics will be wrong who say this deed does not advance the cause of international friendship "for, judged at its very lowest level, what can be done to injure the cause of international friendship?"

"Nothing at all in an epoch which has seen so many of Europe's oldest values crumble!" the Times declares. "The reaffirmation of the continental axiom, all Englishmen are mad is most timely and will be welcome in France and elsewhere. . . . Finally, Bally proceeded to Paris without complaining either of French railways or of the French customs, in itself a circumstance which helps to cement Franco-British friendship."

LARGE SUMS BEING SPENT ON TRENTON AIR STATION

Further information that the Trenton Air Station will eventually become the greatest training grounds north of the Canada-U. S. boundary came last week with the announcement by the Department of National Defence at Ottawa that one hundred and eighty odd thousand dollars will be paid to the contractors to erect an officers' mess and recreation building at the Trenton base. This recreation building will not be complete in our estimation unless it includes an artificial ice rink of O.H.A. size and with seating capacity for three or four thousand fans.

Of course, we are not building this recreation building, neither have we seen the plans, but as skating is recreation for several months of the year, and the camp is permanent, the Trenton air station will not be complete until it has a modern rink which might be incorporated with quarters for every form of recreation and all built into one building and at less cost than if such buildings were separate and were being built in town, for instance.—Trenton Courier-Advocate.

WEDDINGS

McCONNELL—MOXAM

The home of Mr. John Moxam, of Montegale Township, was the scene of another lovely wedding Wednesday afternoon, November 3, when Miss Sarah Ann Moxam, daughter of Mr. John Moxam and late Mrs. Moxam, was united in marriage to Mr. Douglas McConnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund McConnell of Dungan Township. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. J. Davis.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, looked charming in a gown of blue crepe with blue accessories, a wreath of orange blossoms and bride veil. She carried a bouquet of roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Evelyn Dillabough, cousin of the groom, was dressed in green crepe with black accessories. The groom was attended by Mr. Matthew Moxam, brother of the bride.

After the ceremony and photographs had been taken, a goodly number of relatives, friends and neighbors sat down with the bride and groom to participate in a delightful wedding supper. The bride received many beautiful and useful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. McConnell will make their home in Dungan Township.

Convicted of shooting an eagle, contrary to the Ontario Game Act, Milton Brennan and William Dorey of Gananoque, were assessed the costs of court and given a suspended sentence by Magistrate George Wright of Gananoque. The large bird was shot when both men were engaged in duck hunting after it had swooped to attack one of the wooden decoys.

LEVILLE MARKET

SATURDAY

Prevental rain deluged Belleville Saturday morning driving what vendors braved the elements to produce to Saturday morning markets, to the comfort of the market. At an early hour only produce growers had put in an appearance but this number increased later. However, rain and disagreeable conditions held market conditions down to one of the smallest displays of farm and dairy produce seen in a long while.

Only a few staple vegetables and winter apples featured the farm produce exhibit with prices generally remaining firm. Bushel lots of carrots, turnips and parsnips were offered at from fifty to sixty cents with winter cabbage selling from five cents upwards.

Macintosh Red and Tolman Sweet apples again held the fruit spotlight selling at $2.00 per hamper for rim-packed fruit with ground apples offered at from $1.00 upwards. Hickory and butternuts increasing in quantity since the recent heavy frosts were offered at twenty-five cents per quart and fifteen cents per basket respectively.

Offsetting the meagre display of fruit and vegetables to some extent was a fairly good offering of eggs, butter, ducks and chickens.

"A" select eggs held steady at 45 cents with "mediums" quoted at thirty-seven and forty cents.

Pullet eggs were offered from thirty-two cents per dozen to as high as thirty-seven cents. Farmers' butter marked no change in prices selling generally at sixty-five cents for two-pound rolls although some was available at thirty cents per pound.

Chickens were fairly plentiful with some good quality birds offered at from seventy-five cents up to $1.25. A few ducks were offered at prices ranging from one dollar to $1.25.

Honey quoted at ten cents per pound in various quantities sold to a fairly brisk market with the comb offered at fifteen cents each.

Home cooking booths did a brisk business with lady shoppers availing themselves of the fine edibles, pastry, etc., offered at attractive prices.

Lake herring featured the small fish display selling at four for 25 cents. Mudcats at two pounds for twenty-five cents did a fairly brisk trade.

FRED SMITH DIES SUDDENLY WHILE HUNTING

Frederick Smith, who has operated a trucking business, residing in Belleville, was found dead in his boat on Deer Lake Cashes Township, ten miles east of Gunter, last week, having died as the result of a heart attack. Dr. F. J. Nickle, of Eldorado, announced. No inquest was deemed necessary by the authorities.

Mr. Smith was on a deer hunting expedition and residing at his hunting lodge near Deer Lake. According to the meagre information available Mr. Smith was stationed in his boat on the watch at Deer Lake, while other members of the hunting party were in the woods nearby. The deceased man was found in the boat, which was floating near shore. The body of the deceased man was transported to Gunter by wagon, thence to Belleville for interment.

The late Frederick Smith was born in Crookston and was in his 56th year the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Smith.

Surviving are his widow, four sons, Bruce, Morley, and Kenneth of Belleville, and Clayton of Colborne, and one daughter Marguerite at home.

Mr. Smith established a trucking business in Belleville many years ago and upon the innovation of motorized transportation he was one of the first men in his line of business to use motor trucks in Belleville. His business continued to flourish until he operated a fleet of trucks out of Belleville.

In religion Mr. Smith was a member of the Baptist Church. He was associated with the Masonic and Orange Orders and took an active interest in the latter, being Past Officer in the Orange fraternity.

MEETING OF COOPER Y. P. U.

The regular meeting of the Y. P. U. of Cooper and Remington met on Tuesday, November 16th. The worship period opened with the scripture reading taken from different parts of the Bible by three girls. Matthew, 9:37-38, was taken by Mrs. A. Holmes; Revelation 14:15, by Margaret Gabriel and Matthew 21:29-31 by Doris Fox. The hymn, "Softly and Tenderly Jesus is Calling," followed by a reading "Story of Christ" by Mary Taylor. The topic, "Leadership Training," was well given by Jean Rollins. The hymn "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" was sung. A reading, "Be

YOUNG PEOPLE'S RALLY

Members from Marmora, Tweed, Actinolite, Springbrook, Salem, Ivanhoe, White Lake, Eldorado, Queensboro, Hazards and Cooper attended the Young People's Rally of North and Centre Hastings district held in Trinity United Church, Madoc, on November 5th, afternoon and evening sessions. The president, Mr. Vernon Strebe, presided over both sessions.

The afternoon worship service was conducted by four members from Hazards Union. Rev. I. E. Kennedy welcomed the delegates on behalf of the Madoc Union. Mesdames Ashley and Hulin led the group in a spirited sing-song. Discussion groups were under the leadership of Miss Reta Palliser, Mr. George Lofthouse and Rev. E. Snelgrove.

At the close of the afternoon session a short recreation period in the High School gymnasium was directed by Mr. George Lofthouse, assisted by Misses Grace Robinson and Hilda Kilpatrick.

During the supper hour Misses Beulah Keene and Gladys Martin, who attended the summer school, had charge of the sing-song and Miss Marion Mutton, representative at Leadership Camp, taught a new song, "O Give Thanks." Several members availed themselves of the opportunity to get helpful literature from the Book Department. The new Study Book, "A New Church Faces a New World" and "Come and Let Us Worship," proved to be two of the most popular books on display. Posters on display made by some of the local members were interesting and instructive.

Mr. Don Williams, president of South Hastings, brought greetings from his district and presented the thought-provoking question "Do We Really Live in our Churches?" If not, our Young People's organization has failed. A solo by Miss Flora Sanderson, of Marmora, and the girls' quartette from Tweed were much enjoyed.

Rev. E. Morgan and Mrs. Morgan, guest speakers, at all four rallies of Belleville Presbytery, brought news of their work in Fochow, West China. Slides were shown illustrating Chinese life and scenes.

Rev. A. Harding gave the report of the resolution committee thanking all those who had contributed in any way to the Rally.

The installation service was in charge of Rev. C. Hollingsworth. The following is the list of officers for 1937-38:

President—Mr. Vernon Strebe, of Eldorado.
Secretary-Treasurer—Miss Frances Harris, Hazards.
Convener of Christian Fellowship—Mr. Ernest Hollands, White Lake.
Convener Christian Missions—Miss E. McDermid, Madoc.
Convener Christian Citizenship—Miss M. Ferguson, Madoc.
Convener Christian Culture—Mr. Herb. Bonter, Marmora.
Director of Dramatics and Recreation—Miss Hilda Kilpatrick, Ivanhoe.
Director Leadership Training—Rev. E. Snelgrove, Queensboro.
Representative C.G.I.T.—Miss B. Gordon, Tweed.
Representative Tuxis Boys and Trail Rangers—Mr. John Bristol, Madoc—Secretary.

TONSIL CLINIC AT COE HILL

On Friday, November 12, a tonsil clinic was held at the Red Cross Hospital at Coe Hill when forty-four patients were cared for. Dr. J. A. Faulkner, former Minister of Health, arranged for this clinic, realizing the need, as was shown by the response of those who received the proper attention, free of charge, excepting the hospital daily charge of $1.75.

Dr. Joseph Chant of Belleville, ear, eye, nose and throat specialist, performed the operations, assisted by Dr. J. A. Faulkner, Dr. Kennedy of Belleville, and Dr. Anderson of Bancroft.

The nursing staff was well organized by Miss L. Grover, nurse-in-charge, assisted by Miss Finnemore of Apsley Red Cross Hospital; Mrs. Nick Whitmore, of Coe Hill; Miss Nelson of Trenton; Miss Hamilton of Mountain View, Prince Edward County.

Coe Hill and vicinity feel very grateful to Dr. J. A. Faulkner, who made this clinic possible free of charge, also to Dr. Chant, and his assistants, who performed a record day's operations; to the nurses who gave such splendid service in caring for the patients and to all who in any way assisted to make this a success.—Ontario-Intelligencer.

Yourself," was given by Miss Spencer, followed by a reading entitled "At the Bar," by Mrs. A. Holmes, followed by a geography match. The hymn "Breathe on Me, Breath of God," and the Mizpah benediction were sung. A reading, "Be brought the meeting to a close.

SEVEN CHILDREN ARE INCLUDED IN WEEK-END TOLL

Almost every province was listed Monday in Canada's week-end toll of violent death. Quadruple tragedies in Ontario and Saskatchewan brought the fatality total to 17 including 7 children. Only Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island failed to report a tragedy.

Saskatchewan was hardest hit: 24 lives were lost in that province during the week-end. Robert Paterson, 41, shot and killed his three children then turned the gun upon himself in the Paterson farm home near Sturgis, 175 miles east of Saskatoon. No motive was known for the slaying.

"They are better off like that," Paterson told his wife when she returned home to find the bodies upon the floor. "I was the one who did it." The children, Gwendolyn, 10, Geraldine, 7, and Angus, 9, were killed on Saturday; Paterson died of his wounds Sunday.

Near Rocanville, 150 miles east of Regina, 10-year-old Theres Gagnon and Charles Fox, 13, were killed on Sunday when a motor truck in which they were riding overturned. The two were among a party of young persons returning home from church. Other passengers were bruised and shaken up.

The bodies of four persons, two women and two men, lay for hours at the bottom of the Detroit River at Windsor, Ont. The four, Frank E. Whitaker, 42; Harold Golds, Marjorie Darrah, 27, and Helen Reaume, 40, were trapped in an automobile which tumbled from a dock on Saturday night.

The car and its load of death were lifted from twenty feet of water on Sunday. How the machine fell from the 300-foot-long dock was unknown. The tragedy was discovered Sunday when a fisherman arrived at the dock to fish and noticed the planked floor bore marks of something having passed over it. The car was found 30 feet from the end of the dock.

At Mount Laurier, Quebec, Horace Beaulieu, 25, and George Demers, 18, both of Montreal, were drowned when the heavily-laden truck in which they were riding fell through the flooring of the bridge. Mont Laurier is 120 miles north of Montreal. Mary Bell, 18, was fatally injured near Pekikok, N. B., when a truck her father, Harold Bell, was driving overturned.

Two other tragedies involving children were reported from the west. At Banff, Alberta, three-months old John Bennett was suffocated in deep snow when he fell from the verandah of his parents' mountain cabin home. Two-year-old Joyce Skobylniuk died in Winnipeg after eating rat poison she had found in a garbage can; her brother, Arthur, five, is in serious condition.

The body of William Boiven, well-known guide, was taken from the Elk River near Fernie, B.C., Sunday. A bullet wound was in the head and police said they believed it may have been accidentally inflicted. In Vancouver, Mrs. Stewart Ferguson, 25, was found dead in her gas-filled home. Her two young children are recovering from the effects of the illuminating gas.

OBITUARY

MISS MARY A. WOOD

After an illness which had extended for six years, Miss Mary A. Wood, graduate nurse and former resident of Crookston, died in Gravenhurst on Tuesday. The deceased was well known and highly respected in the community where she was reared and in the hospitals, where she served for many years. The late Miss Wood was born in Crookston, 54 years ago, being the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hector Wood and after acquiring an education in the schools of her district entered Orillia hospital as a probation nurse later graduating and serving for many years in that institution as a nurse. She also served in Toronto for ten years. The deceased was a member of the United Church and leaves to mourn one brother, Hector Wood of Crookston, and one sister, Mrs. Robert Downey, also of Crookston. The funeral will be held in Crookston today.

DONALD MCKINNON

Donald McKinnon, an aged and respected resident of Madoc, died at his home on Tuesday after a short illness. He was born near Queensboro 81 years ago, being the son of the late Laughlin McKinnon and Anne Robertson. He resided in that locality for 58 years, moving to Madoc, where he has spent the remainder of his life. The deceased was a farmer and prospector in later years but has been retired for many years. A member of St. Peter's Presbyterian Church, he leaves to mourn one brother, Angus McKinnon of British Col-

B. WILLIAMS OF DEMORESTVILLE, BURNED TO DEATH

Harley Cole, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Cole, Green Point Ferry, died at three o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Prince Edward County Hospital from injuries received in a motor accident on the Bloomfield-Sandbanks Road Monday night in which Burdette Williams lost his life.

Burdette Williams, 50, resident of Demarestville, Prince Edward County, was burned to death and Harley Cole, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Cole of Green Point Ferry, was critically injured when the car in which they were riding crashed into a tree at the intersection of the Ridge Road and Sandbanks Road six miles south of Bloomfield, and burst into flames, shortly before six o'clock Monday night.

The force of the terrific impact completely wrecked the car, driving the engine back in the front seat while the wheels and wreckage were wrapped around the trunk of the tree.

Cole, who it is believed was driving the car, was driven part way out of the wrecked car, from which place he was extricated by Messrs. Norval Lowder and Fred Hendricks, nearby farmers who raced to the scene of the accident. The car which by this time was a blazing inferno prevented the approach of Hendricks and Lowder. Williams was burned to an unrecognizable mass, with not a shred of clothing left to assist in identification.

COLDER WEATHER

DUE FOR ONTARIO

Ontario buttoned up its overcoat Saturday after reading of gales and snowstorms in Eastern and Western Canada and prepared for wintry weather. Colder weather with possible snow flurries was in prospect for Ontario.

Fifty mile an hour gales swept Quebec and the Nova Scotia coast on Sunday while winter tightened its grip over Western Canada, sending snow to Manitoba and British Columbia. Sub-freezing temperatures were the rule throughout the west, while Ontario's average was a comparatively balmy 40 for the week-end.

Widespread damage was done in Quebec City and district, trees being uprooted and a hockey arena unroofed. Broken branches littered the countryside and the waterside suffered under a lashing gale. Breakwaters and waterfront properties, mackerel nets and buildings were damaged through Nova Scotia.

The three-masted Halifax schooner, Henry H. Chamberlain, was driven ashore at White Point, N. S., and Capt. E. O. Fudge and crew of five were rescued by a fishing boat. Fanned by the gale, fire destroyed five houses in Halifax, causing $12,000 damage and leaving 28 homeless.

Record for mid-November, eight inches of snow blanketed Victoria, 12 inches fell in Kamloops, while the Kootenays felt heavy rain. Automobiles ploughed through 12 inches of snow in west central Manitoba the storm extending from Portage La Prairie westward for 80 miles. Calgary recorded near-zero weather.

WEDDINGS

LAWRENCE—CAMPTON

A quiet wedding was solemnized at St. Andrew's Parsonage, Marmora, on Wednesday afternoon, November 10, when Luta Marguerite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Campton of Marmora Township, was united in marriage to Mr. Wallace Lawrence of Stirling. The bridal couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Goldie McInroy of West Huntingdon.

After the ceremony they left on a short honeymoon to Toronto and points west and on their return will reside in Marmora.

ther overnight, while Edmonton reported 1.6 inches of snow in 24 hours bringing a five days' total to 5.25 inches. Regina and Saskatoon, however, escaped the storm.

STANDARDIZATION OF FERTILIZERS SOUGHT

There exist in Canada several provincial fertilizer boards or councils on which are represented the department of agriculture, the farmer and the fertilizer manufacturer, and they meet annually for the purpose of discussing educational policies, to examine results obtained from experiments carried out during the year and to make recommendations based on the evidence available. Thus, consistently with the advance in knowledge of the subject, improvements in methods and practice are made. The Province of Quebec was the first to establish a fertilizer board, and one of its earliest enactments was the reduction of the number of brands or analyses on the market. There was need for this, and there is still room for improvement, says B. Leslie Emalie; not so much in Quebec, where the number of brands receiving official sanction is sufficiently limited, but more in Ontario. That the latter province should be burdened with so many brands is due partly to the greater diversity of crops grown there. Besides the Ontario Fertilizer Board, there is also the Standing Committee on Tobacco Fertilizers, headed by Dr. N. T. Nelson, Chief of the Tobacco Division, Ottawa, which exercises some measure of authority in that special field.

The multiplicity of brands on the market proved most confusing to the farmer, and many of these were so similar in analysis that it was a toss-up as to which of several would give the best performance in the field. An obstacle to the standardizing of analyses throughout the Dominion is the local popular prejudice in favour of certain long established brands. In British Columbia, for instance, a 3-10-8 is one of the most widely used, yet is not represented in any other province. Similarly in the Maritimes there are 4-8-7, 5-9-8, 4-8-13, and 5-8-12 analyses which are confined strictly to that territory. A 4-8-4 used to be the big seller in Nova Scotia but is now superseded by 5-10-5 containing the same proportions of plant food substances but in more concentrated form. This commendable trend toward higher analyses, without sacrificing any virtue, is noted also in the substitution of 5-9-8 for the 4-8-7, and the higher grade costs less per unit. The Maritime Fertilizer Council, two years ago, showed enterprise and sound judgment in adopting the 2-12-6, so popular in Quebec and Ontario, while the Boards of these two provinces have given greater prominence of late to 2-16-6 and 0-16-6, the latter a very popular fertilizer for fall application to pasture and hay lands.

Members of the Eastern Canada Fertilizer Association, met in Toronto recently and struck from the list no less than 14 brands which were justly considered superfluous. Among those deleted was 2-8-4, the lowest grade permissible under the provisions of the Fertilizers Act, which specifies a minimum of 14 total units and may soon raise it to 16. Under the able administration of G. S. Peart, the Fertilizers Act performs a most useful service to both farmer and manufacturer.

CAR SKIDS OVER RAILWAY CROSSING AHEAD OF TRAIN

Skidding across the C. P. R. tracks at the cemetery crossing, Belleville, an automobile driven by R. B. Nelson, R.R. No. 4, Warkworth, narrowly escaped being struck by a Canadian Pacific Railway express train at noon Monday. After skidding sideways across the tracks the automobile careened towards the north side of the highway, where it collided with a west bound automobile, driven by F. Parr of Windsor. No persons sustained injuries during the hair-raising episode, but both cars were considerably damaged.

Motorcycle Patrolman Sam Ervine received word of the accident, and was also informed that a woman was in urgent need of an ambulance following the accident. Martin's Funeral Home ambulance was rushed to the scene of the trouble, but was not needed.

Mr. Nelson of Warkworth, was following a motor car that was transporting his daughter to the Belleville General Hospital for an emergency operation for appendicitis. As Mr. Nelson's car approached the C. P. R. crossing from the west, the railway wigg-wag at that point commenced to operate. Mr. Nelson suddenly applied the brakes of his car about 50 feet from the crossing. The vehicle turned sideways and skidded in that position over the tracks, where it struck a west bound car driven by Mr. Parr. A brief few seconds later the noon C. P. R. express train roared over the crossing.

The left front fender and wheel of Mr. Parr's car were broken, while the entire left side of Mr. Nelson's motor car was crumpled and damaged. Following subsequent investigations Motorcycle Patrolman John Whitty reported that charges were pending in the matter. The ambulance was not needed as the automobile bearing Miss Nelson to the hospital continued its journey and was in no way implicated in the accident.

MOTORISTS WARNED REGARDING LIGHTS

Without further warning Motorcycle Patrol Officers in this district will summons into court all motorists who persist in the violation of the Highway Traffic laws regarding the operation of their motor vehicles after sundown with defective lights. "This practice of driving at night on the highways with only one headlight is becoming more acute, while the presence of glaring headlights is also a problem. The Department has issued strict orders to alleviate such driving conditions and a thorough check-up of motor vehicle lighting is now under way," Motorcycle Patrolman Sam Ervine revealed recently.

SEARCH ATLANTIC FOR DREDGE, CREW

C. H. Hosterman, Halifax agent of the Federated Department of Transport, Marine Branch, announced on Monday the Halifax Dredge Foundation Scarborough, with four men aboard had been located by the Lockport fishing schooner Howahronah, sixty miles off the eastern Nova Scotia coast.

The schooner radioed to Halifax she had sighted the dredge in Latitude 44:52, Longitude 59:10. Hosterman said, adding that he believed the Oward Donald had taken two of the crew off the Foundation Scarborough.

On the sea and in the air, searchers prepared Monday to resume their scrutiny of the Atlantic off the Nova Scotia coast for the Dredge Foundation Scarborough, adrift since Saturday night with her crew of four.

Two Royal Canadian Air Force planes warmed up at dawn at their temporary base at Guysboro. Two Royal Canadian Mounted Police cutters, the MacDonald and Alachasse, and the Canadian Government steamship Lady Laurier ploughed through seas kicked up by strong winds. Shipping was asked to be on the lookout.

Aboard the dredge, a 100-foot steel craft equipped with a revolving crane, were Captain George Morgan, C. Grover, Daniel Morris and his son, T. Morris, all from Saint John, N.B., and employed by the Foundation Maritime, Limited, owners of the Foundation Scarborough.

The Halifax tug Banscot left that port Friday with the dredge, bound for Montreal. Buffeted by heavy seas at the southern entrance to the Strait of Canso, both tow lines snapped.

COMING WINTER TO BE WORST OF ALL TO DROUGHT AREAS

The winter of 1937-38 will be the most terrible the drought stricken areas of Southern Saskatchewan have yet seen, Clarence Stork, a member of the Saskatchewan Legislature for Shaunavon said in an address at Windsor Thursday night. Mr. Stork asked support for the Saskatchewan Red Cross in its relief work in the barren areas—once known as the "granary of the empire."

There are 9,000,000 acres in Southern Saskatchewan that will not produce a crop, Mr. Stork said. Half the total Saskatchewan population of 960,000 will be receiving relief by Christmas, he predicted.

The drought area has been growing larger since 1929, and now extends into Alberta and Manitoba. Scientific knowledge had not been applied to the problem, Mr. Stork said. Much of the land was semi-arid before cultivation, and its residents are reaping the results of unsound methods of settling land that was never suitable for growing wheat.

Large areas should be evacuated, the speaker said.

Mr. Stork's solution was modified system of irrigation which would make use of the Northern and Southern Saskatchewan Rivers.

The cost of such a system of irrigation would be $400,000,000, Mr. Stork estimated.

WINDSOR'S HOPE FOR EARLY VISIT

A source close to the Duke and Duchess of Windsor said Monday the couple had decided tentatively on February as a possible new date for their postponed trip to the United States.

The Duke and Duchess believe that by that time "the criticism will have subsided," making the tour possible, one of their associates said. Postponement of the tour was announced Friday night. At that time the Duke said there had been "grave misconceptions" over his motives.

The couple expected to remain in Paris at least until Armistice Day, when the Duke may participate in memorial observances "in a completely unofficial capacity," their associates said. Dispatches from Austria were that the Duke and Duchess might return to Vienna or to the Enzesfeld Castle of Baron Eugene de Rothschild for a short stay or to spend the winter.

Circles close to the former King said his plans for the immediate future still are indefinite. "Any departure in the night or any sudden move is out of the question," one of their associates asserted.

It was disclosed Sunday that the Duke had sent a message to President Roosevelt regretting he would be unable to make his scheduled call at the White House.

'BOOTLEGGER OUT AT END OF MY TOE

If any bootlegger is a member of Alton Baptist Church "he is going out on the end of my toe," promises Rev. John Hunter, doughty 31-year-old pastor of the church who now is engaged in a campaign to clean out bootleggers from that Peel County district, 40 miles northwest of Toronto.

Opening his campaign Sunday night he charged that Alton bootleggers had told him to "lay off" them or he would die an orphan.

He also said that in a visit to a bootlegger in the village he had been told that a "member of my church was also a bootlegger and that a wife of another bootlegger belonged to the United Church."

In his sermon, the text of which was "The Christian's Attitude Toward Drink," Mr. Hunter said: "A man who doesn't drink has a clear head. He doesn't get up in the morning with a big head following a night's carousing and then begin to look for another drink to clear his head."

"I know a boy in Alton 16 years of age who has started to drink," Mr. Hunter continued. "I have seen him staggering on the streets of this town. If you ask a man in Alton what kind of a drinker he is, he will reply moderate, but one moderate drinker is worse than half a dozen drunkards as far as the example it sets."

The Baptist minister announced on Saturday he would begin his anti-bootlegger campaign after visits he said he had made to known illicit liquor establishments in the district. With his wife and two children, Mr. Hunter moved to Alton four months ago.

BUREAU SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported Monday a "marked improvement" in Canadian economic conditions in the first nine months of 1937 was indicated by trend of major factors.

The index of the physical volume of business averaged 121.8 a gain of 10.8 per cent over the standing in the same period of 1936.

The business index is based on 46 factors relating to trend in mineral production, manufacturing, construction, electric power and distribution. The factors are individually adjusted for seasonal tendencies and expressed as a percentage of the monthly average for the base year 1926.

Construction industry was active. Amount of new contracts awarded was $178,000,000 compared with $128,000,000. Building permits at $43,000,000 compared with $31,000,000 showed an increase of 39 per cent.

Production of electric power was at a much higher level in the first part of 1937, the demand for firm power showing an important increase over the same period of 1936. Total output reached a new high point at 20.3 billion kilowatt hours as against 18.5 million, a gain of nearly 10 per cent.

Carloadings showed appreciable increase. The total was 1,900,000 cars compared with 1,800,000 a gain of 7.2 per cent. Gross operating revenue of the Canadian National Railways on Canadian lines gained 8.8 per cent at $120,500,000 compared with $110,700,000. The gross revenue from railway operations of the Canadian Pacific Railway at $105,200,000 as against nearly $100,000,000 showed a gain of 5.2 per cent.

sewing machines, houses, telephones and an aquarium with glass fish.

He bought a high-crowned red velvet hat, suede gloves and a suede bag for Mrs. Dionne.

ALBERTA MEASURES IS ULT

An act reducing by 50 per cent interest on provincial securities and another regulation of the Lieutenant-governor to bring court action to a full amount of interest in the court was declared ultra vires Alberta Legislature in a handed down Monday by Mr. A. F. Ewing.

The original interest reduction 50 per cent was ordered by order-in-council in June, 1936, effective from June 1, 1936. The order-in-council was validated by legislation at a special session of the Alberta Legislature in August, 1936.

After it was declared invalid by Mr. Justice Ives and interest awarded the Foresters, the legislature last April passed three substitute acts and it was two of these declared ultra vires in Mr. Justice Ewing's judgment on Monday.

Mr. Justice Ewing awarded the Independent Order of Foresters a writ of execution to collect $5,430 in interest charges from the Lethbridge Northern Irrigation district whose bond interest had been reduced through the Alberta interest reducing legislation.

PETTICOATS ARE MADE FROM CORONATION BUNTING

Tons of flags and bunting used for the Coronation of King George VI have been exported to Hungary and are finding a ready market in that country.

The reason is that in Hungary peasant woman's standing in village society is regulated according to the number of petticoats she wears. Twenty is the minimum for respectability, and the leaders of fashion boast of forty. Cheap supplies of surplus bunting have given the women their great opportunity. The bunting is also used for table covers and curtains.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

By EVELYN WATSON, B. A.

Graduate in Household Science, University of Toronto.

ORDER IN PLACE

Keep articles of a kind together. Conveniently arranged in places set apart for them, these places to be easily accessible. Each housekeeper should make a scheme that suits her needs, but a few suggestions may be helpful.

Bed linen and towels, piled away on shelves, near bedrooms. Put the clean undergarments when they come from laundry. Nothing should be kept in an orderly way by each member of the family. Winter clothing and furs should be cleaned for putting away, protected from moths by wrapping in paper, hanging in bags, putting in cedar chests, or in trunks with some strong-scented substance.

Summer clothing should be washed and put away unstarched and unironed. Linen and silver should be carefully arranged in very definite places. And counted often enough to keep account of loss and breakage.

Broom brushes, dusters and cleaning materials should have a place of their own, well ventilated when possible and all articles put away clean.

WHAT MAKES A PATIENT COMFORTABLE?

A home nurse should wear a clean dress, preferably a white one, which can be boiled in washing. No jewelry should rustle, nor should squeak when the nurse walks. The home nurse must keep her hair in order. A nurse must be cheerful, well poised, and must never give an impression of being hurried.

The home nurse needs to be very systematic in caring for the patient. Because a regular routine gives more comfort than anything else. The program for the daily care of the patient should be worked out to provide for the personal needs of a patient and the execution of the physician's orders.

Meals should be served at regular times. The face, hands and teeth of a patient should be washed and the hair combed before breakfast, and the face and hands washed before other meals. A bath should be given every day since nothing makes a patient more comfortable. However, a bath should not be given until an hour or two after breakfast.

Changing the patient's gown, the sheets and pillow cases every day is desirable and very refreshing to the patient. Put on a clean spread whenever the one in use is mussed or soiled.

The room should be cleaned out and put in order every morning. If the patient desires the furnishings placed in a certain way, arrange them so when possible. Flowers should be arranged attractively and placed where the patient can see them without turning the head. Medicines should be placed where the patient does not have to look at them all the time. Pictures on the walls should be straightened and curtains adjusted.

SUITABLE FOODS FOR SMALL CHILDREN

The basis of a child's diet should be:

1. MILK—1 1/2 pints to 1 quart per day up to the age of 7 years. When meat is used to supply some of the building protein, the smaller amount of milk will be adequate.

2. BREAD—Made from whole-grain cereals.

3. WHOLE-GRAIN CEREALS—Very thoroughly cooked, and strained if for very small children.

4. COOKED VEGETABLES—The finer vegetables should be used. They should be served as purees or as cream soups.

5. MEAT OR EGGS—When meat is used only small quantities of bacon, very tender lamb or scraped beef are given. An extra building protein may be supplied by the use of eggs.

6. FRUITS—Cooked dried fruits are preferred in most cases. Add very little sugar and put through a strainer. Orange juice and tomato juice are given from an early age.

COOKERY

Corned Beef

Wipe meat, tie in shape. Place in kettle, cover with cold water. Heat to boiling water, boil 5 minutes, remove scum. Reduce heat. Cook below boiling point until tender, 3 to 4 hours. Serve hot or cold.

Pressed Tongue

1. Wash tongue thoroughly, trim the root.
2. Cook as corn beef.

3. Cool slightly in the water in which it was cooked, then lift out; remove skin.
4. Press in meat press or crock.
5. Cover and weight down; leave until cold.

Apple Snow

3-4 cup pulp
Sugar
3 whites of eggs
Wipe, quarter, core and pare 4 sour apples. Steam until soft, press through silk; add sugar to taste. Beat white of eggs on a platted; when stiff, add apple pulp gradually. Continue beating until very stiff. Pipe lightly in serving dish; chill; serve with custard sauce.

Plain Muffins

2 cups flour
3 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1-2 teaspoon salt
2 to 3 tablespoons sugar
1 cup milk
1 egg
2 tablespoons butter
Mix and sift flour, baking powder, sugar and salt. Beat egg, add milk. Make a depression in the flour; pour in milk and egg, then melted butter. Stir as little as possible in mixing; turn into well-greased muffin pans. Bake in a moderate oven 25 minutes. Temperature 350 to 400 degrees F.

GUARDS PATROL

MANY CEMETERIES

NEAR WOODBRIDGE

Guards patrolled cemeteries within a radius of twenty miles of Woodbridge Monday as posses of police and residents renewed at daybreak an intensive search for the body of 70-year-old William Thomson, stolen from its grave in Woodbridge graveyard.

Provincial constables kept close watch upon rural mail boxes and at the homes of Thomson's relatives in the hope of unearthing a clue to the perpetrators. It was thought the ghouls, as in the case of the stealing of Haydon Pope's body in Streetsville three weeks ago, might send threatening notes to those who knew the dead man.

The only clue in the macabre mystery, plaster casts of footprints found near the despoiled grave were being studied by authorities. The prints were those of a man weighing apparently more than 200 pounds and wearing a size 12 shoe and of a man of average build.

The 125-pound body of Thomson, buried last Sept. 25 was believed to have been stolen Thursday night. The robbery was discovered Saturday by Kenneth Stevenson when the cemetery superintendent visited the grave. Men who "certainly knew their business" took the body, Stevenson said.

Police believed the crime was linked with the Streetsville case when the wasted, 60-pound body of Pope, 20, was lifted from its two-day-old grave. The "Streetsville ghouls" never have been found and since the robbery October 12th several threatening notes have been sent to newspapers, relatives and friends of the dead youth.

A ransom note demanding $100 for the return of Pope's body was left in the casket but this had not been paid when his corpse was found in a ditch two days later seven miles from Streetsville which is not far from Woodbridge. Buoyed by the hope Thomson's body had similarly been discarded, farmers in the district on Monday were searching all bypaths and ditches.

The ghouls who took the body of Thomson apparently cut a hole in the cemetery's wire fence to carry the body away. The casket was left in the grave and the body apparently lifted by a rope. Stevenson said he believed only experts could have reached into the hole and unscrewed the lid of the casket.

No fingerprints were found on the discarded casket, placed in the vault of the cemetery chapel after the crime was discovered. No prints were found on the coffin of Pope which was lifted partly out of the grave and left on one side. A piece of rope was found beside the despoiled Streetsville grave but nothing was left by those who took Thomson's body.

Motive for the robbery puzzled the police. Though well-to-do, Thomson disliked ornaments and no jewelry had been on the body when it was buried. The man had no known enemies who would have taken the body. He was the descendant of a pioneer Scottish family which settled in Woodbridge more than 100 years ago.

76.6 PER CENT STUDENTS OF ENGLISH ALSO STUDY FRENCH IN CANADA

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics Tuesday reported 76.6 per cent of the high school students studying English in seven Canadian provinces also studied French. "A proportion that must be unique in English-speaking sections of the world." The average compared with 11.9 per cent for the United States.

In a new educational bulletin the Bureau, reporting on linguistic studies in Canadian schools, presented statistics showing the percentages of English students studying other languages in this order:

French 76.6, Latin 50, German slightly less than four, Spanish, offered as a subject in schools in Ontario, Nova Scotia and Quebec, has attracted few students. Only about 500 High School students in the whole country study Greek. Few students avail themselves of courses offered in Gaelic in Nova Scotia, Italian in Ontario, Icelandic and Swedish in Manitoba.

Statistics for the seven provinces of Canada which teach French, other than Quebec, expressed in percentages of English students: Nova Scotia 85.3, New Brunswick 87.5, Ontario 75, Manitoba 68.8, Saskatchewan 87, Alberta 66.6, British Columbia 68.4.

ANIMALS POINT TO

COLD WINTER AND LONG ONE, SAYS INDIAN

Other weather prophets may think otherwise, but aged David Simcoe, full-blooded Indian of the Rama reserve near Orillia, stoutly maintained Friday that a long, cold winter is in prospect.

Simcoe said the fox has a heavy coat of fur this fall, always, he argued, conclusive proof of a severe winter ahead. The muskrat has built his home in deep water, the squirrel has stored up a big supply of food. "Unless old Mother Nature herself has been fooled," Simcoe added, "I think we will have a cold winter all right."

One weather-wise Peterborough resident recently announced that after close study of existing water levels the coming winter would be mild. The Peterborough prophet insisted that low water in lakes and rivers meant there would be no prolonged spell of cold weather.

NO COUNTRY READY

FOR WORLD WAR SAYS BRITISH WRITER

There will not be a world war before 1940, at least, because no country is prepared, H. W. Wells, famous British author, said on his arrival at Detroit Friday as part of a lecture tour.

"A world war at the present time is improbable," he said. "Of course there has been a relaxation of international courtesy—the shooting of ambassadors and that sort of thing," he added with a smile.

"Britain is re-arming at a great rate but even Britain will not be ready until 1939. Germany is not ready and it is highly probable Italy is bluffing."

He said he could not size up the character of the American people and thought they should "get serious and try to grasp what is going on in the world."

"If Americans want to isolate themselves and play ball and poker, they can perhaps last another 20 years before they fall into the melting pot," he said.

BALANCED BUDGET IS IN PROSPECT

The Canadian Government had a surplus of $33,372,600, for the first seven months of the fiscal year, it was reported on Saturday by Watson Sellar, comptroller of the treasury. From April 1 to October 31, receipts totalled $319,757,177 and disbursements, $286,384,577.

At the same date last year, Finance Minister Dunning faced a deficit of $64,003,380. The difference this year represents a turnover of $100,000,000 and increases the hope of treasury officials a balanced budget may be reported at the end of the fiscal year next March.

For biting the hand that fed him, a police dog owned by Arthur Talmadge of Carrying Place, last week was summarily executed.

Mr. Talmadge, the owner of a large turkey farm, raised the dog from puppyhood to the job of assisting in herding the large flock of birds.

The dog, however, apparently grew tired of seeing and hearing nothing but turkeys. Revolt seethed within. He broke into the turkey house and killed 102 birds valued at $350.00.

He was buried in the same grave as the mangled turkeys.

HALF A LOAF

IS A WHOLE LOT BETTER THAN

NONE

At this time when the year 1936 has passed we make an earnest request to those whose subscriptions are in arrears, and to others whose accounts who have been running for a long time to "render unto Caesar," as the Good Book puts it.

As time passes it becomes more and more evident that the depression has produced a most careless attitude on the part of many people toward obligations that they would have paid promptly in the days previous to 1929.

There is a tendency these days to say: "Well, no one is paying his debts, so why should I?" This is one of the most potent causes of the continued hard times. If you don't pay me, I can't pay the other fellow, and in the end it goes around the circle until he can't pay you. So nobody gets paid and business languishes.

Pay Something on Account

Some people who have let an account run for some time avoid making any payment because they feel obligated to pay the whole thing at once and can't afford the outlay. This is a wrong attitude. People who pay some on account are helping their creditor along and, at the same time, they are reducing their obligation and establishing a reputation for being "good pay."

The Review employs a staff and has a heavy overhead, like all other business concerns of the kind, and it must pay its help in dollar bills. We ask, therefore, that subscribers in arrears give this matter a little bit of thought and meet their obligation either in whole or in part.

The thing to do is pay something on account and keep the wheels of business moving.

Look at Your Label

Your label shows how you stand with The Review. If it reads "1933" that means you owe since 1933 and a few dollars would be most acceptable.

This appeal also applies to accounts for advertising and job printing that have been allowed to slide for some time. Loose credit is the curse of business today. If it could be eliminated, prices of everything could be reduced at least 25 per cent. The trouble is the man who pays promptly for everything, these days, is helping to carry some other fellow who is running a long overdue bill.

Prompt Payment of Accounts Like Competition, is the Life of Trade.

YEARS OF SERVICE ARE REWARDED

Sixty-eight years of faithful service to Oddfellowship were rewarded on Wednesday evening of last week when the officers and members of Stirling Lodge No. 239, I.O.O.F., presented Bro. James W. Sarles and Bro. F. T. Ward each with a pen and pencil set in appreciation of their long services to the lodge. Bro. Sarles, who is a Past Noble Grand, has served as treasurer of the Stirling Lodge for the past twenty-five years and Bro. Ward, who is also a Past Grand, has filled the office of Financial Secretary for forty-three years without a break.

The presentation address was given by Bro. H. E. Hulin, D.D.G.M. of Madoc district, and the presentations were made by Bros. W. H. Patterson and J. B. Thompson. Although taken completely by surprise, Bros. Sarles and Ward made appropriate replies, both making reference to the pleasure that was theirs in fulfilling their respective offices.—Stirling News-Argus.

MOTION FORBIDDING PRAYER BOOK SERVICE

On Saturday the Anglican Church Assembly turned down a motion proposing parliamentary legislation to forbid the use of the prayer book service at the marriages of divorced persons whose previous spouse still lives.

Lord Hugh Cecil proposed the motion Friday. It was opposed by the Archbishop of Canterbury, who predicted its defeat if offered in parliament and added that it might lead to a "painful" church-state clash.

The Assembly did, however, adopt a resolution welcoming a recent expression of church convocations condemning use of the marriage service for divorced persons.

COUNTY ROAD WORK

TO END THIS MONTH

Work on the roads of the county will terminate at the end of the month. Road Superintendent Simeon Fox stated Monday morning. While resolutions have been passed authorizing the purchase of additional snow fence for use in the northern parts of the county, there will be sufficient for the needs, Mr. Fox said. "We have had an exceptionally good year, and as yet have not utilized the total amount of the estimate passed in the spring."

DEATHS

CURTIS—In Chicago, Mich., on November 13, 1937, Caleb Curtis, aged 85 years. Funeral services were held from Swank Funeral Home with interment in Evergreen Cemetery, Chicago.

Tom Moffat, student of Tweed High School, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Moffat, had the misfortune to fracture a small bone in his left wrist while playing rugby at the High School on Wednesday afternoon of last week.

MEETING OF MADOC WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The Madoc branch of the Women's Institute met on Friday evening, November 19th, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. C. N. Whytock.

After disposing of the minutes, etc., communications were dealt with. The Institute are planning to hold a cooking class and afternoon tea on December 1st in the Orange Hall. This is being conducted by Mrs. Aitkin of C. F.R.B. fame. We are hoping that every member will assist in this project. Admission 15 cents.

Mrs. Hulin gave the report of the Area convention at Belleville. "Agriculture" and "Canadianization" were the departments of the Women's Institute programme which was given extra prominence.

Current Events were ably given by Mrs. McCarey. The topic for the evening "Changes in the High School Curriculum" was dealt with by Miss West of the High School staff. Comparisons were used to illustrate differences between 1936 and 1937 school year courses of study and the purpose of the Department is to try and give the child who can only have one or two years in High School a good, general, sound education.

Mrs. C. Johnston gave a report of the Local Leaders' Training Class held at Stirling. A Club work course open to girls from 12 to 26 years is soon to start in Madoc and we hope every girl will avail herself of this opportunity.

The National Anthem closed the meeting and the members enjoyed a social time together.

PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Blackburn gathered at their home near Eldorado to tender to Mrs. Blackburn a welcome to the neighborhood and to the church. A very pleasant evening was spent playing games and social conversation and near the close of the evening the crowd was called to order and the presentation of a fernery, a lace bedspread, a rocking chair with a cushion, and two dollies was made and the following address, read by Grace Robinson.

Eldorado, November 19, 1937.
Dear Lois and Gerald:
We, your friends and neighbours, have assembled here to express to you our best wishes for your wedded happiness.

You, Lois, are really not a stranger to us and we anticipate much pleasure in having you live among us. Your sister has been forerunner and no doubt has found us not too bad or she would have warned you against "The Blackburn Boys" and the neighbours.

You, Gerald, have been one of us all your life. We know you to be industrious, thoughtful and kind: qualities that contribute greatly to the making of a good husband.

The establishing of a new home is a lovely and sacred task. May yours be a home where the light of love always shines brightly; a home where each puts the other first, and a home where husband and wife are equal partners, sharing the responsibility of making the home, not four walls, but a place in which to work, play and worship together in happy comradeship.

In 1937 some of us may gather with you, to celebrate your Golden wedding. May the intervening years bring you true happiness.

To tangibly express our best wishes we ask you to accept these gifts. Signed on behalf of your many friends and neighbours: Misses Burnie McCann, and June Strebe, Messrs. George Hurley and Cecil Robinson.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. Durland Adams wishes to thank all the friends who remembered him while a patient in Belleville General Hospital.

WEDDINGS

GRAHAM BAILEY

Miss Gladys Bailey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Bailey of Cooper, was married to Mr. Leonard Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Graham of Cooper, on Saturday, November 20, at 11.30 a.m. at the bride's home. The wedding music was played by Mrs. C. Bailey of Belleville.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a floor length gown of pink taffeta and a hair bandeau of white roses and carried a bouquet of pink tea roses. The matron of honor, Mrs. Lynn Porter of Detroit, sister of the bride, was gowned in powder blue taffeta, and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. Mr. Geo. Graham, brother of the groom, was best man.

The wedding ceremony was conducted by Rev. Mr. Slack of Bloomfield.

Immediately after the ceremony a dinner was served to fifty-seven guests.

The bridal couple left immediately for Niagara Falls, and other western points. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm at Cooper.

GRAHAM-FOX

At the United Church Parsonage, Madoc, the marriage took place on Saturday morning of Norma Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delos Fox, and Mr. George Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Graham, of Cooper, Rev. I. E. Kennedy officiating.

The bride was becomingly attired in hunter's green velvet with matching hat and accessories. Following the ceremony the couple were guests at the Graham-Bailey wedding at Cooper. Mr. George Graham being groomsmen for his brother.

Mr. and Mrs. George Graham left on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and western cities, the bride wearing brown, with brown broad tail wrap and hat to match. Upon their return they will reside at Cooper.

CELEBRATED FIFTY-NINTH ANNIVERSARY

The Review extends congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Hark Rollins of Cooper, who on Saturday last celebrated their 59th anniversary. During the day Mr. and Mrs. Rollins, with their daughter, Mrs. J. N. Lucas, of Hastings, paid a visit to St. Peter's Presbyterian Manse here, where they were married. Although Mr. and Mrs. Rollins are over eighty years of age, Mr. Rollins informed the Review that they were both in fairly good health.

HERE AND THERE

Grandad says, after all is said and done, hay fever victims have something to blow about.

Camels can go a long time without water, but a little drink goes a long way with a giraffe too.

Too many think you can't properly pursue happiness unless you're doing seventy or more miles an hour.

ONTARIO'S OLDEST VOTER?

Mrs. Margaret Hamilton, oldest resident in this district and possibly the oldest person to exercise a franchise on October 6th, made the trip of over two miles to the poll in Elma Township by car. She was quite lively when she visited the polling booth. Her hearing and sight remain almost as good as any normal person and although somewhat feeble she gets around surprisingly well with the aid of a crutch. She was born in England and came to Canada as a child. Her first home in this country was at Lebanon and she has resided in this district since. Mrs. Hamilton celebrated her 102nd birthday anniversary on Saturday, October 9.—Milverton Sun.

AN INTANGIBLE FRIENDLINESS

Weekly newspapers are called all sorts of things by all sorts of people. Sometimes they are not things we would like to print, but the following, written by Stephen Bolles, is a very apt definition:

The community newspaper is an integral part of the family circle, a welcome guest, equally looked for at the kitchen as well as the front door. It is necessary to the family life, like the dog and the cat or the favorite horse or the pet lamb or the Bible or the mail order catalogue. Every copy has a given destination—to a subscriber who is a cash customer. In order to get subscribers the newspaper must have a soul. In order to have a soul it must be something more than a cold recitation of the day's news. There must be something in it like a friendly handshake. Its worth is measured by the news it prints and how it is printed and not by the history it recites, it is true, but the measure also considers an intangible friendliness.—Perth Courier.

RENDERING A REAL SERVICE

Mark well this brief press despatch, just over the wires from Belleville, Ontario: "Fifteen bushels of alfalfa seed from three loads of hay is the record set by Joel Murray, Hillier farmer." Not a great triumph in war or diplomacy, to be sure, not a great record in sport; not one of those achievements that make the front pages—but a record nevertheless, and of far more importance to mankind than all the bluster and sabre-rattling that surrounds the ways of "warlords" today. A new system in bridge; a new service at tennis; a baseball pennant won, or a football kicked so far. A picture to take to the critics by storm. All these things go over big. But that man who has just made two loads of grain grow where only one grew before is deserving of more praise.—Halifax Herald.

CHANGE IN EDUCATION

The trend in teaching today is to teach children to think and find out things for themselves rather than to cramp them with facts to be memorized parrot fashion.

An inspector assigned to give out information on the new system to be adopted in elementary schools, admitted that it was quite a job for teachers, trained under the old system, to adapt themselves to the new and suddenly, as conditions demand.

But, as he pointed out, the old-style schooling, with its pounding in of facts, many of them entirely unrelated to what the student will wish to know in later life, has become obsolete.

Teachers, as a matter of fact, have realized the need of a change for a long time, and many of them, within the limitations of department regulations, have gone no little way in breaking traditions. Now they have a free hand, and there should be a marked change in results within the next few years.—Fort Frances Times.

PEACE ACTION WEEK

Last week was designated as Peace Action Week in Canada, an observance sponsored by the League of Nations, Society of Canada for the purpose of drawing attention to the contribution which this country can make towards achieving permanent world peace. It is particularly fitting that the week in which Remembrance Day falls should be set aside to do whatever is possible to prevent another World War. A mass meeting in Massey Hall, Toronto, on Monday night, November 8th, was addressed by Viscount Cecil of Chelwood, long a leader in League of Nations activities, who spoke on "The Way to Peace." It is hoped that organizations of all kinds throughout Canada will take some part in this observance and thus aid in the monumental task of assuring peace in this troubled world.—Ingersoll Tribune.

GIVE NEWSPAPER NEWS

There has never been a newspaper printed that satisfied everybody. But there is a very simple method by which better newspapers can be produced and that is for those who subscribe to them to take an individual interest in seeing that they get more local and personal news. Not that the subscriber is expected to become a reporter when he becomes a subscriber, but because the newspaper stands as the exponent of all that is good for the community and because civic pride should, therefore, lead to encouragement of such an institution. If the subscriber has visitors, if he has been on a visit or if he or she is going on one, the neighbours are sure to be interested in knowing about it. Tell them through the home town paper. Every little item of a local or personal nature helps just that much getting it to the editor requires very little to make a still better newspaper and little exertion on the part of anyone. That is how the subscriber can help you make the newspaper more interesting, and subscribers are invited to start doing so at once.

BEHIND THE TIMES

In the county of Waterloo is a religious sect whose members still cling to the quaint old beliefs that a man's word is as good as his contract, that one should not borrow more than he intends to repay, and that the simple things of life are the best.

Queer, these people are so far behind the times. They know not the joy of instalment purchases, double dealing, onerous debt. Their beliefs set them entirely apart.

Yet they live in peace and contentment, in fellowship and friendship with their neighbours, unworried by tomorrow's reckoning. And the hurry, biased world might find the utopia it seeks in the life of these fortunate, carefree farmers.—Guelph Mercury.

Henry Ford once said: "The yard is always 36 inches, but when is a dollar a dollar?" The man in the street reads of Wall Street slumps in share prices, of the rocketing franc of the jumpiness of stock exchanges, and the failure of brokers. And the man in the street can be excused for thinking that finance has gone crazy. But the explanation is simple enough—a world nervous and ill at ease, the Mediterranean full of warships, soldiers of four or five nations fighting in Spain. And on top of it Japan's savage war on China. How can trade flourish and the world get on with its job and sharing the abundance that science has made possible? So long as the world is crazy finance will be crazy too.—London Sunday Chronicle.

ACKERMAN GOLD MINES LIMITED

Work is progressing systematically and satisfactorily in the sinking of the shaft on the property of Ackerman Gold Mines Limited, about three miles east of Marmora. The operations are being carried on by experienced hard rock miners from Timmins and the shaft is now down to a depth of about 100 feet. Free gold has been discovered in some places and the ore being taken out is giving highly satisfactory assays.

Investment in any mining property is always a matter of speculation until the ore volume has been thoroughly proved out as to quantity and values and then the purchaser pays a price in accordance with values shown.

The firm handling the stock of the Ackerman mine is very careful in its claims and is apparently complying in every respect with the regulations of the Ontario Securities Commission. Investors are given a fair deal and if the mine develops according to present indications the investment should be a profitable one. Mr. Lloyd D. Thompson is the local agent of Spratt & Co., who are handling a block of the stock.—Marmora Herald.

OBITUARY

MRS. LETITIA M. HEWLETT

Mrs. Letitia Minerva Hewlett, wife of Alfred Hewlett, Deseronto, passed away at the Belleville General Hospital on Wednesday, November 17th. She had been in failing health for some time.

The late Mrs. Hewlett was born in Madoc Township 63 years ago. Her parents being the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thomas. In religion she was a member of the United Church and well esteemed by all who knew her.

Surviving her are her husband, Mr. Alfred Hewlett; one daughter, Mrs. Ralph Cook, Havelock, Ont.; one son, Mr. Fred Hewlett, Deseronto; two brothers, Mr. Robert Thomas, Picton, Ont., and Mr. Sylvester Thomas of Wellington, Ont.; four sisters, Mrs. Edmund Sandford, Eldorado; Mrs. J. Robinson, New Ontario; Mrs. Earhart, Carrying Place and Mrs. John Conley, Wellington, Ont.

The funeral took place on Saturday.

CANNERIES DISTRIBUTE ONE MILLION DOLLARS TO DISTRICT FARMERS

Farmers and produce growers of Prince Edward County during the next two or three weeks will receive an approximate sum of $1,000,000 in payment for vegetable produce sold during the past summer. First payments by the canning companies are expected to begin this week.

During the past season it is estimated that 1,000,000 cases of tomatoes were packed in Prince Edward, and in addition an approximate total of 200,000 bushels were shipped from the county to western canneries where the crop was light. This year's crop set an all time record, it was stated, by both canners and growers. Not only tomatoes but thousands of cases of peas, corn, berries and other produce also were canned.

According to a statement given by an English representative to the Daily Ontario-Intelligencer in Belleville, some weeks ago, it is expected that over 1,000,000 cases of tomatoes from Prince Edward and Hastings County will be imported into the British Isles this year.

YOUR INCOME TAX

Some people find a difficulty in arriving at their income tax, so to facilitate we give a few helpful suggestions:

First, take your income; add wife's income.

Divide by your oldest son's age.

Add your telephone number.

Add electric light bill.

Divide by number of kilowatts.

Multiply by your father's age.

Add number of gold fillings in your teeth.

Add your house number.

Subtract wife's age (approximately).

Divide by number of aunts you have.

Multiply by the number of times you have gone up in an airplane.

Subtract your best golf score.

Add a pinch of salt.

And then go out and borrow the money and pay the tax.

—Boston Record.

Four armed and masked men on Tuesday escaped with a $15,000 payroll from the head office in Toronto of Tip Top Tailors. The robbers fired one shot as they fled from the offices, situated beside Lake Ontario near the International League Baseball Stadium.

BESSIE BOLDRICK

OF LATTI IS WINNER OF ORATORY CONTEST

A twelve-year-old school girl from Latti, by virtue of a sterling performance that brought out to the full a striking platform personality represented the County of Hastings at the District Public Speaking championship held in Brighton Friday night.

Thursday afternoon in Shire Hall, Belleville, little Miss Bessie Boldrick, daughter of Mrs. Ellen Boldrick, of Latti, and a pupil of Mr. C. Holmes, defeated four entrants in the County of Hastings Public Speaking Championships to annex the trophy emblematic of the championship of this county with a splendid oration on "True Canadianism."

Others competing and their subjects were: Hilda Treverton, Latti, "The County of Hastings by Plane"; Irene Lazier, Corbyville, "Florence Nightingale"; Margaret Vandewater, Foxboro, "Canada's Buffalo Herds"; and Frances O'Shaughnessy, Latti, "The Life of H. M. King George VI."

The five girls were the only contestants, Gerald Taylor of Harold, the only boy entrant, failing to put in an appearance.

The Rev. W. J. Walker, prior to presenting the trophy to the winner, congratulated the contestants on their showing, and the splendid ability shown by all. "In public speaking," he said, "children are apt to memorize their speeches. If some way could be arranged so that the knowledge of the subject could be imparted to the children, natural expression and not the mechanical type of speaking would result."

Mr. Joseph Wilson, agricultural representative of Stirling, occupied the chair. In his remarks, Mr. Wilson regretted the fact that there were not more entrants. "Due to the fact that many school fairs were not held this year, a great number of the contests were cancelled," he said.

"However with the consent of the Hastings County Council, who generously donated the medals, officials went ahead with the contest. One object in holding the contest in spite of adverse circumstances was the fact that the county would be represented at the district championships."

At the conclusion of the public-speaking the winners of the 1937 Entrance Examinations for the three Inspectorates of Hastings County were made with Inspector H. J. Clarke presenting Frederick Spencer, of Frankford, winner of the South Hastings Inspectorate with his gold medal. Inspectors McGuire and Cannon of Centre and North Hastings presented Elmer Holmes of Tweed and Joy Harding of Bancroft, with their medals.

Impossibility of securing the winners of the various agricultural projects prevented the presentation of these trophies and prizes. The list of winners was announced and follow:

Championship live stock judging trophy, donated by the Warden—Allan Ketcheson, Madoc.

Championship dairy cattle judging trophy, donated by Mr. P. C. McGuire, Belleville—Ray Danford.

Championship shield, donated by the C. N. E.—Ray Danford.

Championship seed judging trophy donated by Mr. Jas. W. Haggerty, County Treasurer—William Geen, Thomasburg.

Gold medal, donated by Hon. Dr. Faulkner—Wilmott Shortt.

Silver Medal, donated by H. P. Ellis, manager of the Bank of Montreal, Stirling—Arthur McDonnell.

Championship school fair shield, donated by Mr. B. C. Donnan, Belleville—S. S. No. 1, Rawdon, Mrs. Langigan, teacher.

School Fair prizes for Maynooth Fair, donated by the E. Eaton Company, Toronto, won by: First Prize, silver trophy, Francis McAlpine; second prize, book, "Van Loon's Geography," Lorne Lebow; third prize, book, "Salute the King," Unita Douglas.

At the conclusion of the meeting brief addresses were made by Warden Wesley Gray, Robert Woods of the Agricultural Committee of the County Council and the chairman.

ASLEEP IN SHED SIX ARE BURNED

Six persons were burned to death at Fort Collins, Colo., Friday while sleeping in a one-room shed rented for their living quarters after the close of the sugar beet harvesting season.

The dead: Thomas Cebes, 68; Cara Cebes, 51, his wife; Benny Ortiz, 38, their daughter, Carmel Ortiz, 14, daughter of Benny Ortiz; Sara Ortiz, 11, another daughter, Henry Ortiz, 9, a son.

Police Chief Orville P. Kelly said the explosion of an oil stove, possibly from the heat of a nearby coal stove, may have caused the fire.

KIDNAP VICTIM

DIES, AGED 79

Dr. James I. Seder, 79-year-old kidnap victim held ten days in an abandoned coal mine in what federal agents said was a futile $50,000 extortion plot, died early Monday of pneumonia.

Dr. A. K. Kessler said "death was undoubtedly caused by exposure" during the ten days his aged patient was held captive.

Prosecutor E. E. Winters, Jr., announced he would confer with Judge H. Clayworth on the impaneling of a special Grand Jury and that he would ask murder indictments against three suspects arrested by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Winters said he would ask the death penalty.

Lieutenant of Detectives Leslie J. Swann disclosed that 46-year-old Arnett A. Booth, one of the suspects, had been under suspicion from the day Dr. Seder disappeared.

Although Booth was questioned twice, he was released both times, but kept under constant surveillance. The other suspects, John Trivis, 24, and Orville Adkins, 24, were watched but not questioned, Swann said.

Mrs. Eileen Murphy, home service director of a gas association in London, has been doing some figuring and her estimate is that in twelve months the average woman washes an acre of dirty dishes, three miles of clothes, one mile of glass and five miles of floors.

NEWS AND INFORMATION FOR THE BUSY FARMER

Wire Basket for Eggs

One of the requirements for membership in the newly organized Ontario Poultry Farm Egg Producers is that the eggs be gathered in wire baskets. There's a reason. The keeping quality of the egg is greatly improved by rapid cooling. In a test it was found that eggs gathered in wooden pails had a temperature in five hours of 82 degrees and in ten hours of 65 degrees. Eggs gathered at the same time in wire baskets had a five-hour temperature of 67 1-2 degrees and a 10-hour temperature of 56 1-2 degrees.

Wire baskets for egg collection are now in almost universal use on commercial egg plants in the New York and Boston areas. Wire baskets are now manufactured and sold by poultry supply firms. A very satisfactory basket can be made with sides of light lumber and a bottom of wire netting with half inch mesh. Screw a spool under the bottom corners so that the six can always circulate up through the eggs.

Dipping Sheep

Ticks and other external parasites of sheep are serious enough at any time and cause more direct loss than is generally supposed, but during the period when the sheep are in winter quarters it is even more important to rid them of all sources of irritation. It is especially desirable that the flock be clean before and during lambing, otherwise the infestation is sure to be passed along to the lambs which will thus receive a very serious set-back at the most important period of their lives.

Properly dipped in the autumn, on some warm day when the fleeces will dry out quickly, the whole flock will remain clean throughout the winter, unless, of course, other undipped animals are brought to the farm. With the very convenient powder dips, sheep are put through the minimum of bother and at a cost of only a few cents per head. The only thing necessary is to make sure of good dip, diluted to the proper strength, and that every animal is passed through the solution slowly and thoroughly saturated.

International Exposition

Canadian farmers from several provinces of the Dominion have many entries in the 35th International Live Stock Exposition and the 19th International Grain and Hay Show which will be held at Chicago from November 27th to December 4th, 1937, inclusive. Ever since the inauguration of these two shows Canadians have taken a conspicuous part, each year winning a fair share of the blue ribbons. In 1936 exhibitors from the Dominion won 16 grand championships, 10 reserve grand championships, 76 first prizes and 277 other awards. Since the International Grain and Hay Show has been held at Chicago, Canadians have won the championship prize for wheat no less than 14 times and 22 times since the International competition was introduced in 1911 at the New York Land Show. The 1936 winner was Herman Trelle, of Wembley, Peace River, Alberta, who also won the championship in 1930, 1931 and 1932. Every winner from Canada to this coveted award has scored with a variety of wheat developed by the Cereal Division, Experimental Farms Branch, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

The joint international shows held annually at Chicago are among the leaders in agricultural shows. This year it is expected the live stock entries will be between 5,000 and 6,000 principally from the United States and Canada, though there will be some from 13 other countries.

Short Courses

A three months' short course in Agriculture and Home Economics for farm boys and girls, ranging in ages from 16 to 30, has been announced for nine counties by R. S. Duncan, director of agricultural representatives, Ontario Department of Agriculture. There is no fee for those taking the course, which commences November 23rd and ends February 25th with Christmas vacation from December 18th to January 3rd, inclusive.

In addition to the above course, seven one month's courses have been arranged starting November 23rd. More of these courses will be announced later.

Three months' courses are being held at Walkerton in Bruce County; Milton; in Halton; Grimsby, in Lincoln; Alisa Craig, in Middlesex; Bolton; in Peel; Stratford, in Perth; Norwich, in Oxford; Roseville, in Waterloo; Lynden, in Wentworth.

Courses of one month's duration are being held in St. Andrews, Glenora, Read, Hastings; Alice, Renfrew; Hillsdale, North Simcoe; Creemore, South Simcoe; Wareham, Grey; Alford, Prescott and Russell.

Municipalities in which these courses are being held will provide halls for instruction, while the Ontario Department of Agriculture will provide two resident instructors in agriculture. They will be O.A.C. graduates who are practical farmers, and will be assisted by the agricultural representative of the county, and government specialists who will give special lectures. The Home Economics course will be under the direction of the Women's Institute Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture, and will have one resident instructor. She will be assisted by special W. I. speakers from time to time.

It is expected that at least 1,000 boys and girls will receive instruction this winter at these courses.

Guelph Winter Fair Entries Pouring In

Present indications point to a record entry list for the Ontario Winter Fair and Fat Stock Show, states L. E. O'Neill, secretary-treasurer of the fair. Mr. O'Neill and other officials were highly delighted with prospects for a successful show and more than pleased with the number of exhibitors showing at Guelph for the first time. The fair opens on Tuesday, November 30th and concludes December 2nd. There will be an exceptionally fine light horse show each night of the fair in the judging arena.

The steer market class is always a feature at Guelph. There are five classes with eight prizes in each class ranging from $25 to $10. An auction sale of cattle will be held Thursday morning, December 2nd, with buyers present from all over Ontario. This sale has in the past netted exhibitors handsome returns.

The Guelph Fair has always been considered a farmers' show and rightly so. A trip to Guelph can be considered as a pre-Christmas gift to yourself and family. Mr. Farmer. Educational features will include an important soil-testing demonstration by Prof. G. Ruhnke and his Chemistry staff of the Ontario Agricultural College. Every farmer should see this demonstration and make arrangements for a soil test on his own farm more intelligently and profitably in the years to come. There will also be a market potato exhibit by the Hillsdale growers that will be well worth seeing.

Just remember this. Six big shows in one: $20,000 in prizes for cattle, horses, sheep, swine, seeds and poultry. Remember the dates, November 30th, December 1st and 2nd.

SAYS CANADA AND U. S. THREATENED FROM THE ORIENT

Archdeacon F. G. Scott, Canadian war-time Padre, said Wednesday in an interview with the Toronto Daily Star he was "informed on good authority" that Japanese naval officers in disguise are living in "so-called Japanese fishing villages in British Columbia."

Archdeacon Scott said he favored immigration of people from the United States with Democratic ideals "in order to protect the North American bloc."

The war in the Orient and the aggrandizement of Japan threaten Canada and the United States on their western shores," he said. "There now are 40,000 Japanese in Vancouver alone and Japan knows every inch of our western coast, besides owning enormous timber limits in those regions."

"Japan also has large vessels engaged in the salmon industries there. They may belong to the class of mystery ships which England used in the war."

The noted Quebec soldier-preacher said Canada is actually defenceless. "The politicians are throwing dust in our eyes by declaring that before Canada enters another war a special parliament will be summoned and the people will decide whether this country will remain neutral," he asserted.

Every British nation would be a target for the enemy should England become involved in war "and Germany would not wait for Mr. Jones from Halifax and Mr. Smith from Vancouver to arrive at Ottawa for a session of parliament before sending over bombing airplanes."

He added: "Such airplanes, flying the route north of Labrador where there are no anti-air defences, could swoop down on Canadian cities and harbors in four days."

FRIENDS HONOUR MITTS FAMILY

A social evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mitts, Fuller, on Wednesday when about forty people gathered to spend the evening with them on the occasion of their fifth anniversary of their marriage. A magazine rack was presented to Mrs. Mitts and a radio table to Mr. Mitts. Both made suitable replies. The gifts were presented to them by Messrs. Charles Irvin and Arthur Brough. The address was read by Mr. Clayton Rutter. After the presentation, a few remarks were made by some of the neighbours and friends and the chairman, Mr. John M. Geen. All sang "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows." The remainder of the evening was spent in games and cards. Lunch was served by the ladies.

The address was as follows: Fuller, November 3, 1937. Dear Gordon and Georgia:

It is with pleasant anticipation and good wishes for your future welfare that we as friends have gathered here this evening to mark with you, the first five-year lap of your life journey together. As friends in the same community we wish to share with you a measure of your joys and to bear with you a portion of your difficulties.

Since you have established your marital relationship among us during these five years, you have both given unstintingly of your time and energy to our community enterprises whenever the need arose. As someone has said:

"What makes life worth living Is our giving and forgiving, Giving tiny bits of kindness That will leave a joy behind us And forgiving trifles That the right word often stifles For the little things are bigger Than we often stop to figure. What makes life worth living Is the giving and forgiving."

We would ask you to accept these gifts, not for their intrinsic value, but as a token of the good wishes which we all as friends, tender for your future welfare.

Signed: Your friends of Fuller and vicinity.

PRESENTATION AND ADDRESS

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Rollins, Plainfield, was the scene of a large and happy gathering on Monday evening of last week, when over one hundred and fifty folks from the community gathered to tender Mr. and Mrs. Orval Rollins (nee Gladys York) a shower. After a social hour the gathering was called to order and Miss Irene Murphy read an address and Mr. Mick Colton presented them with a beautiful china cabinet. Orval and Gladys thanked their friends for the lovely gift and invited them all to visit them. Lunch was served and the remainder of the evening spent in dancing.

Following is the address: Plainfield, Ont., Nov. 8, 1937.

Dear Gladys and Orval: It is with great pleasure we have gathered here this evening to express to you our congratulations and best wishes for a long and happy wedded life.

Orval, you have lived here among us since childhood, and have won the esteem and respect of all your friends and neighbours, and we have always found you ready to lend a helping hand in time of need.

Gladys, although you have not lived at Plainfield, we feel that you have always been one of us, and welcome you to our community and our wishes are that you both will have a long life of sunshine and happiness.

As a slight token of the esteem in which you are both held and on behalf of the community and the charitable group, we ask you to accept this gift. As you look upon it from day to day, think of the many friends you have at Plainfield and Latta.

"Today to you dear children, These little gifts renew: A home by you made happy, A love by you kept true."

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbours.

SIX KILLED IN CROSSING CRASH NEAR WELLAND

The bodies of six young persons lay in a Beamsville morgue on Thursday toll of one of the worst level crossing accidents in the history of the Niagara Peninsula. Three young men and three young women died when their car was struck by a speeding train.

The dead: James Fisher, 20, driver. Robert Colley, 17. Steven Sutich, 17, all of Welland, Ont. Madge Rita Jordan, 15. Ruth Janetta Wright, 14.

KING LEOPOLD IN GREAT WELLINGTON NATURALIST MAP OF CANADA MUCH IN DEMAND

King Leopold of Belgium received the homage of the City of London on Wednesday after exchanging with King George mutual pledges to strive for peace.

King Leopold was presented with addresses in gold caskets by the city of London, but did not receive the honorary freedom of the city because he is a ruling monarch.

The ceremony took place during a session of the Court of Common Council in the Great Hall of the Guildhall.

The Belgian King's busy schedule included a reception for the Diplomatic Corps, a luncheon at the Guildhall with the Duke of Kent and the Lord Mayor, Sir Harry Twyford, a dinner at the Belgian Embassy attended by King George and Queen Elizabeth, and a state ball in the evening.

Confidence that if the Belgian King were again threatened Great Britain would go to her aid as in 1914, was expressed by the visiting monarch Tuesday night at a banquet given in his honor at Buckingham Palace.

Speaking in English in response to a toast proposed by King George, Leopold said:

"When the hour struck, she (Great Britain) at once and without hesitation made good her word, and we are confident that if ill-fortune should befall us again, we should always find in her that sure support which, joined to our own unshakable determination to defend ourselves, would successfully repel all danger from our soil."

"I am certain," King George had said, "that the future holds the most valuable guarantee of peace, which we believe all nations of the world at heart desire, in the common determination of our two countries to promote the cause of good faith and fair dealing in international affairs."

Sophia Nicol, 15, all of Thorold, Ont.

The girls remained unidentified several hours after the crash. They were believed to have met the young men in Thorold and were on a pleasure drive when their slowly-moving automobile pulled into the path of a 50-mile-an-hour through freight on the Canadian National Railways crossing near Vineland Wednesday night.

Railway and provincial constables joined to investigate the multiple tragedy. Five of the six occupants of young Fisher's car were killed instantly when it was struck broadside and demolished. The sixth died en route to hospital.

An American white-fronted goose, a distinct rarity in these parts, but quite common on the Pacific Coast, wandered into the wild-fowl sanctuary of Dayton Murphy, Wellington's "Jack Miner," the other day. Mr. Murphy, who is an accredited "bird bander," and connected with the Lands, Parks and Forest Branch of the Department of Mines and Resources in this district has established an enviable reputation along these lines.

He has a large wire trap into which all kinds of wild fowl are lured, then released after banding. The American "White-Front" however, displayed an inclination to stay for a while with the result that it has now become quite tame and eats out of its new-found master's hand.

Confirmation of the variety of the bird has been received from the Department of Mines and Resources, Ottawa, by Mr. Murphy.

Whether it is the "way" that Mr. Murphy has with wild fowl or the natural wild environment that characterizes Mr. Murphy's sanctuary which is built along the shores of West Lake near his home in Wellington cannot be ascertained, but on several occasions flocks of wild birds which have been caught and tagged, have returned and wandered into the sanctuary.

For instance, there is a flock of Blue-winged Teal that has made several visits to the Murphy sanctuary this fall. Known as repeaters this flock apparently recognize the sanctuary as a haven of safety and make it their headquarters whenever hungry or danger threatens.

Many and varied are the types of wild-fowl life that have wandered into the sanctuary this year and been banded and released. Besides tagging 110 Blue Teal, Mr. Murphy has banded Black Ducks, Mallards, Florida Gallinules, Snipes, Swallows and other birds.

Commenting on his hobby Mr. Murphy states that the marking of birds which began as far back as 1803, and the studies incident thereto, constitute an important and interesting

The Department of Mines and Resources has issued a third edition of the new map of Canada. This 100-mile-to-the-inch sheet has proved very popular and since it was first published about two years ago over 20,000 copies have been distributed to applicants in all parts of the Dominion and abroad. The new issue of 10,000 copies is to meet the continued demand for this map. The map shows the provinces, districts, railway lines, cities, towns, main rivers and principal lakes and islands. It is 25 inches by 36 inches in size and is suitable for ready reference for general information about Canada's 3,694,863 square miles of territory.

Copies of the map may be obtained from the Surveyor General, Department of Mines and Resources, Ottawa, at 25 cents per copy. A copy will be furnished free to any school upon application of the principal or school board.

CHEESE PRODUCTION

87,889,894 POUNDS

Ontario produced 87,889,894 pounds of cheddar cheese, a large portion of it in this district, during the first ten months of 1937, an increase of 8.1 per cent over last year's production. It is shown in the monthly butter and cheese report issued by the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

October production of cheese showed a drop of 6.1 per cent as compared with the same month last year with a total of 10,816,433 pounds contrasting with 11,519,018 pounds for October, 1936.

The production of creamy butter dropped 6.2 per cent for the same month period, or 71,144,359 pounds for 1937 and 75,885,105 pounds for last year.

field of ornithological research open to the student. In the United States the work is sponsored by the Bureau of Biological Survey, Washington, D. C., while in Canada it is looked after by the Lands, Parks and Forest Branch of the Department of Mines and Resources.

BLAKELY'S SCHOOL LOG

One of the first settlers in S. S. No. 1, Madoc, was a Mr. Conlin who took up land obtained from the Crown. This farm now belongs to Mr. Bert McCarey. A few years later, Mr. Levis Empey came with horses and wagon from Aultville about one hundred miles east of Kingston and settled on a farm across the road from Mr. Conlin. This farm, also obtained from the Crown, has since been divided into three farms owned respectively by Mr. Albert Empey, Messrs. Harry and Bruce Empey, and Mr. Arthur Brownson. Mr. Levis Empey's horses were the third team to come to Madoc Township. As the bridge was at that time being built, he had to be ferried across the Moira (Hog) Lake. Names of other early settlers were: Blakely, Carman, Bateman, Cook, Chambers, Shaw and English.

The first school, a log building, was situated at the north-east corner of the present school yard. The children at that time played on the road as no playground was provided. Inside the building there were no desks like those in the schools of today. On each side of the building extending along the whole length of the room was a long desk with benches for seats. The blackboards were of painted boards and were often shiny. Some of the teachers who taught in this school were Miss Almira Nudell, Mr. McGuire, Mr. Preston, and Mr. McShea. The teachers used to board around in the section, staying about two weeks at a place. The inspector at that time was Mr. Ager of Madoc.

Some time before 1879 Mr. Levis Empey bought the old log school to use for a machine shop and a new school, a frame building, was erected. The school yard was also enlarged. This school was found to be cold in winter and in 1888 it was bricked and repaired by Mr. William Fox for $229.60. This is the same school that is used at present (1937).

The school today, a red brick structure with steel shingles and a belfry, measures approximately 32 feet by 20 feet and faces the east. The school yard consists of one half acre and is shaded on three sides by large maple trees. On entering the building, one would see a school room of medium size with buff painted walls. There are six windows, two on each side and one on each side of the door facing east. Blackboards extend along the entire front of the school and also on each side of the room between the windows. There are four rows of double seats, a teacher's desk and a table and a good library consisting of about four hundred and fifty books. Roller maps are arranged above the blackboards. The school is heated by a large box stove.

Improvements have been added from time to time. A first aid kit has been provided by the Women's Institute. The sink and most of the large pictures were purchased with proceeds from Christmas concerts when Miss A. F. Bell taught. The school board also has purchased a planetarium and in 1936 a well was drilled and a new ceiling put in.

No records of the school are available farther back than 1897. The following items taken from an old minute book show how different the prices were at that time from those of today. In 1888 fence posts were purchased from Mr. Isaac Blakely for 3 1-2 cents each, eleven cords of hardwood from Mr. John Carman at 72 cents per cord, two brooms at 18 cents each, and chalk at 25 cents a box. Fred Blakely built the fires for $2.00 per year.

The name "Blakely's School" was given because the land on which the school was built formerly belonged to Mr. Robert Blakely.

Church services, held by the Methodist and Anglican churches, have taken place in the school. Thus the long, open end of the yard was built for open shed still present at the north-west end of the yard was built for the horses.

The inspectors of this school have been: Mr. William Mackintosh, Mr. J. E. Minns and Mr. A. W. McGuire of Tweed.

The teachers in this school since 1897 are as follows:
1879—Bessie Jackson.
1880-81—Florida Pyne.
1882—Ida Robinson.
1883—Sophia Reid.
1884—Maggie Jackson.

1927-30—Anna F. Bell.
1931-32—Gladys Harper.
1933—Muriel F. Mutton.

The lowest salary on record was paid to A. Miller who received $264. The highest salary, $1,000., was paid in 1930.

The trustees of the school have been: Messrs. Charles Rupert, Robert Blakely, Isaac Blakely, John Empey, Thomas Bateman, Herbert Blakely, Joseph Chambers, Harry Burris, Coll. Carman, John Carman, John Gawley, Joseph Shaw, Will Rupert, John Keene, Fred Chambers, John Blakely, Charles McCann, Clarence Carman, William Boyle, John Post, William Chambers, Harry Blakely, Finley Shaw. The present trustees are: K. Bateman, John Post, and Allan Bronson.

The secretary-treasurers have been: Isaac Blakely, John Conlin, Will Empey, J. M. Rupert, Will Conlin and John Empey, H. R. Blakely, Will Rupert, John Gawley, who is the present secretary-treasurer.

Music as a special subject was introduced in 1929 with Miss Leah Ramsay as supervisor. After her death in July, 1931, Mrs. Alexander of Madoc, took charge. The music was discontinued in 1932.

The Medical Health Officer, Dr. F. J. Nickle, of Eldorado, inoculated the pupils for the prevention of diphtheria in 1936 and for smallpox and scarlet fever in 1937.

Those from this school section who served overseas were: Messrs. Chas. Carman, Beryl Carman, Hector Faulkner, Everett White, Vincent Smith, Sam Robinson, Malcolm Broadworth, Leonard Carman and Will McCarey, the last three of whom lost their lives for their country.

Any corrections or omissions that would make this history more accurate and complete would be gratefully received.

Muriel Mutton, teacher.

TOURISTS SPEND 300 MILLIONS

Canada's tourist traffic this year had a value of $300,000,000. D. Leo Dolan, director of the Dominion Tourist Bureau, told delegates to the sixth annual conference of Tourist Associations and Publicity Bureaus at Ottawa Monday. This represented an influx into Canada of 15,000,000 visitors for the first nine months of the calendar year. If the 1936 rate was maintained then the final figures for the year would be in the neighborhood of 19,000,000 persons, said Mr. Dolan.

Dealing with the Dominion branch, Mr. Dolan said he had had 75,196 enquiries this year, which was an increase of 42.7 per cent over 1936, and of 183.5 per cent over 1935. A questionnaire sent to 42,000 tourists had resulted in nearly 4,000 replies. These indicated the average daily expenditure of motorists entering Canada was $5.40. That of people arriving by train boat and bus was $7.02. The average stay was 13 days.

FALSE TEETH AND GLASSES NOW NO BAR TO BRITISH ARMY

False teeth and glasses are no longer a bar to the British Army. Answering questions in the House of Commons, War Minister Leslie Hore-Bellisha, declared requirements of physique have not been changed, but in teeth, sight and hearing there had been common sense revisions. He had been asked by a member if the increase in recruiting was due to a lowering of the medical standard. "There are certain changes which are in accordance with common sense," he declared. "For instance there was a limitation on the number of false teeth which a recruit was supposed to have. I removed the limitation."

PIONEER DAYS OF ORMSBY

Ormsby in the early pioneer days was mostly forest with trails for roads and a few scattered settlers here and there.

Some of these settlers were Albert and Peter Sweet, the Hewtons, Adam Menzie, Mr. McCoy, Mr. Foster, and later on the Campbells, the Swayne family and the Finnegans.

The first school was held in a log building situated where Mr. Park now has his storehouse. Margaret Foster, Mr. Arthur Swayne's mother, was the first teacher. She boarded at her father's home, which was where Mr. T. Rankin now lives.

There was no school for some time after that, and then an old log house situated where later a cheese factory stood, was used as a school. A middle-aged man, Mr. Fred Bedome, taught here.

In 1872 a school section was formed and a log school was built on the present site. Mr. Ben. MacKillican took the contract for $100. He sawed all the timber with a whip saw.

Miss Chown, who is now Mrs. Jas. Harris of Bannockburn, was the first teacher, followed by Miss Rusk, who later became the wife of Robert Campbell, and is now dead. Miss Kells of Elzevir also taught here, followed by Miss Montgomery (Mrs. Archie Campbell) and then Miss Ida May Roblin, who later became the wife of Dr. John Hardinge of Coe Hill, she, too, having passed on.

Miss Lillian Miller of The Ridge, was the next teacher. She died in British Columbia where she and her husband, Herbert Wayne, resided.

The present teacher of the Ormsby school, Lillian G. Gunter, was named after Miss Miller, who later taught in a school west of Coe Hill and boarded at the home of Chas. Gunter. While there a little baby girl was born to that home and was named after the teacher. In 1889 a frame school was built on the old site. The families attending school were the Menzie's, Monaghan's, Thomas Hewtons, the Jacks, the Martins, Campbells, Malloys, and the Swayne family.

Two stores started up, one by Jim Roy and another by John Bane. This last business was taken over by Caverly & MacKenzie and later by Bonter who sold to Jim Campbell. After several years he sold to William Park who still runs a general store at Ormsby.

The railway ran into Coe Hill through Ormsby in 1884. William Hicks was the first station agent, followed by Ben. Echert, and later by John Collins. Ormsby or Rathburn station was a very busy spot as all business of the north, freight, express, passenger, all centred here. A stage coach now ran daily between Stanlick's hotel and Bancroft. Mr. Sam. Stanlick and Mr. Culbertson kept the two hotels.

Two men, Harry Parsons and John Amens were burned to death in Mr. Culbertson's hotel.

The early settlers got their mail at Thanet but in 1884 the first Post Office was opened by John MacKenzie and called Rathburn.

Mr. Arthur Swayne, retired railway foreman, related this story of the pioneer days of Ormsby to the pupils of Ormsby school recently. Mr. Swayne told of being U. E. Loyalist descent. His grandmother came into Canada from the United States at the time crossing at Morrisburg. He showed the pupils a powder horn which had been dropped by the Fenians, when they crossed into Canada. His grandfather, Mr. Swayne, found it in the old wind mill at Prescott, so it is cherished as a relic of those early days in Canada.

MEETING OF JUNIOR C. G. I. T.

Trinity Junior C.G.I.T. met in the Sunday school rooms on November 23 with seventeen members present. The meeting opened with the singing of carols. The C.G.I.T. Purpose was then repeated followed by the roll call. Hymn No. 133 was then sung. The reading on "Finding God" was read by Margaret White, Sadie Parks, Jean Smythe, Betty Phillips, and Vera Shaw. Elaine Taylor then led in prayer, followed by the Lord's prayer. Hymn No. 79 was sung. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Business matters were brought up and discussed. The Study Book, "Landing Fields," was read by Sadie Parks, Fay Fleming and Iris Roberts. The meeting closed with Taps.

Appropriately to a coronation year, the King has chosen a Christmas card bearing a picture of the Coronation review of the fleet at Spithead, painted by Frank Wood, for his personal use. A painting of Holyrood Palace in Edinburgh, by Frank H. Mason, will adorn the Queen's card.

SUBSTANTIAL SUM IN DAMAGES PAID WINDSOR IN LIBEL SUIT

Settlement of the Duke of Windsor's libel suit against the publishers and author of "Coronation Commentary" for a substantial sum in damages and costs was announced Monday before Lord Chief Justice Hewart.

Sir William Jowitt, K.C., appeared for the Duke and announced that Wm. Heinemann, Ltd., the publishers, and Geoffrey Dennis, author would pay the substantial sum.

He added the Duke would contribute the damages to charities in which he, as King and Prince of Wales, had taken a deep interest.

The book was withdrawn from sale and a letter of apology written after a protest by the Duke last April. It dealt with King Edward's reign and what it termed his "muddling, fuddling and meddling."

The Lord Chief Justice said he agreed to the dismissal reluctantly because the case involved foul, cruel libel which a jury might have thought invited a thoroughly efficient horse whipping.

Sir William Jowitt explained the Duke filed action because the book contained "utterly groundless allegations of fact." He said they could not be allowed to stand unchallenged.

Sir William also indicated the Duke was satisfied he had spiked rumors surrounding his abdication and did not tend to take similar libel action in the future "whatever the circumstances may be."

Sir William stated as the "true facts" of the abdication.

"The then King desired to contract a marriage against which his ministers advised him. As a constitutional monarch he felt he could not disregard that advice; as a man he felt he could not well support the great responsibilities of his office unless he were allowed to marry the woman of his choice."

Apologizing before the court the publishers' counsel said the book published the abdication rumors in order to destroy them and that the book in its objectionable form was withdrawn from circulation.

NOTED INCREASE OF BLACK BEARS

Returning from a hunting expedition in North Hastings, Lionel "Guy" Harris, Russell Smith and "Sandy" Lummiss of Belleville, proudly displayed two fine black bears and two deer on Saturday night. "Our party of ten shot six black bears in all and also shot our quota of deer," stated Mr. Smith. One of the bears brought home was a good size, weighing in the neighborhood of 165 pounds, while the second was a small cub bear. Mr. Harris and Mr. Smith report fine hunting in and around Otter Creek, where they spent last week with success.

Something will soon have to be done by the Department of Game and Fisheries in order to protect the deer in North Hastings, as they are fast becoming depleted by black bears. During our stay in camp at Otter Creek the black bears devoured two of our deer and also ate one of the black bears we had shot the day before. The surprisingly increased numbers of black bears are becoming alarming, said Mr. Lummiss.

FATHER KILLED BY HIS OWN SON

Weeping at times and declaring he was "sorry" for what he had done, Robert C. Miller, husky and intelligent 15 year old high school senior, was held Monday at Freehold, N. J., on a charge of slaying his father when the latter came home drunk and beat the boy's mother. Robert was to be arraigned Monday on a murder charge.

"Back of the whole case," said Assistant Prosecutor Edward Juska, "lies the tremendous affection" of Robert and his younger brother for their mother who has supported the family for three years by baking pies and cakes for the neighbours and a roadside refreshment stand.

The boy was quoted by Juska as confessing that he shot his unemployed father, Robert E. Miller, 41, with a .22 calibre automatic pistol when he came home drunk Sunday night, woke up his wife, Marie, 36, demanded that she prepare supper for him, and scuffled with her when she refused to precede him downstairs.

A-HUNTING THEY GO

A marked increase in the number of sportsmen heading for hunting grounds was noted by the Canadian National Railways. The influx of hunters into territory adjacent to their lines in the Laurentian Mountains for deer, black bear and partridge was particularly heavy when the open season was in full swing.

"MY CAR IS READY FOR ANY EMERGENCY!"

but..... is it?

With your car safely in the garage, seems as though you are prepared for anything that can happen. Don't even need a telephone any more.

BUT... ARE YOU CERTAIN?

Sickness, fire, accident, whatever it may be — and some of these things come occasionally to all of us — is your car quick enough, sure enough? Maybe the roads are blocked. . . . Maybe a tire is flat . . .

In emergency what you need most is a TELEPHONE. Don't wait for something to happen to find that out!

BELLEVILLE MARKET

SATURDAY

The cool tang, with just a hint of frost, typical of Autumn provided a seasonal atmosphere at the Belleville market Saturday where a larger than usual crowd of Saturday morning shoppers availed themselves of a fine display of farm, garden and dairy produce.

Prices generally remained at a steady level, although a slight change was noted in potato quotations. Vegetable and dairy produce maintained a firm tone, with eggs showing no change over quotations of the previous week. Winter apples also remained steady with several varieties being offered and selling briskly in the earlier hours.

Farm and dairy produce in the inside market proved to be one of the most plentiful displays in many weeks. Eggs were exceptionally abundant with "A" selects selling generally at forty-five cents per dozen, although some were offered at a few cents less. Mediums were quoted at forty cents, while pullets' eggs sold briskly at thirty-five and thirty-seven cents per dozen with some quoted at thirty-two cents. Farmers' butter noted no change with the majority of vendors disposing of their stock at sixty-five cents for two-pound rolls.

Honey was offered at ten cents per pound in varying quantities with combs selling at fifteen cents. Lady shoppers thronged around homecooking booths and availed themselves of the many fine articles offered for sale.

Chickens did not lack numerically with some fine birds changing hands at prices ranging from sixty cents to as high as $1.50. Ducks were in evidence in fairly large quantities and were offered at from one dollar to $1.50.

On the vegetable market the only noticeable change marked in prices was a slight decrease in potato quotations. Ninety pound bags dropped five cents to eighty-five cents per bag. No bushel lots were offered.

Staple winter vegetables were plentiful with carrots selling at from 50 to 75 cents; parsnips from 75 to one dollar; beets at 75 cents; turnips at sixty cents, and onions at $1.50 rounding out a fine bushel-lot display. Cabbage and cauliflower were quoted at from five cents upwards. Spinach in hamper lots was offered at sixty-five cents. Celery hearts nice and crisp, were two for twenty-five cents and brussels sprouts at the same price were also offered.

Northern Spies occupied the apple spotlight with tree-picked apples selling at two dollars per hamper. Ground varieties were offered at from one dollar to $1.75. McIntosh Reds and Snows noted a slight decrease selling at $1.75 per bushel. Talman Sweets and Greenings were quoted at $1.75 and $1.50 with Wolf Rivers at $1.25.

Lovers of fish found plenty to enthrall over with several varieties being offered. Whitefish and Lake Trout were quoted at twenty and twenty-five cents per pound respectively, with Pickerel selling at 18 cents. Herring sold at four and six for twenty-five cents; Pike at ten cents per pound and mullets at four for 25 cents completing a fine variety.

ESCAPEE GIVEN

6 MONTHS TERM

Bernard Boomhour, Belleville youth, who was arrested last week on a charge of the theft of scrap iron, was on Monday sentenced to serve six months in the Ontario Reformatory following a plea of guilty entered by the accused on a charge of escaping from the Ontario Reformatory last July.

Appearing on the theft charge, however, Boomhour, pleaded "not guilty." "We are offering no evidence in this case," instructed Crown Attorney B. C. Donnan. "Not guilty, case dismissed," immediately replied His Worship. The same disposition was made of a theft charge laid against Clayton Boomhour, brother of the above accused. The Boomhours appearance in court on the theft charges resulted from the theft of scrap iron from the farm of J. E. Walsh, Tyendinaga. The brothers flatly denied the charges.

Bernard Boomhour, who admitted escaping from the Ontario Reformatory last July at which time he still had fourteen months of an unexpired sentence to serve, asked the court to have his term changed to Burwash Reformatory.

"The sentence will then read six months in addition to the 14 months of unexpired sentence, I presume?" asked Mr. Donnan and the reply was in the affirmative.

WESTERN ONTARIO IS DIGGING OUT AETER SNOW FALL

Western Ontario fought free from the worst snowstorm of the season on Monday as ploughs bucked drifted highways and city streets to clear the way for vehicular traffic.

The heaviest fall of the week-end storm was at Forest, 25 miles east of Sarnia, where 30 inches of snow balked attempts of ploughs to clear roads. The storm was general throughout the western section of the province, swinging northward to include Collingwood and Meaford in the Georgian Bay district.

One death was attributed directly to the storm but minor accidents were numerous in the affected areas. Isabel Arbuthnot, 24-year-old Collingwood Creamery cashier, was killed instantly when the automobile in which she was a passenger went out of control during the storm and crashed into a ditch. George Eastland, driver of the car, suffered minor injuries. Miss Arbuthnot was thrown from the car as it left the road.

The storm started Saturday night and continued all of Sunday, just a month before the first official day of winter. Freezing temperatures were general throughout Ontario but reports indicated snow fell only in Western and Central Ontario. Temperatures hovered at 15 degrees above zero in Northern Ontario while snow threatened the eastern section.

Buses failed to reach Sarnia from outside points Sunday and more than a dozen automobiles were snowbound between that city and London. In the Watford district, 35 miles from Sarnia about fifteen machines were stranded in 18 inches of snow.

Traffic officers in Lambton County said driving conditions were extremely bad with streets covered with ice. Motorists were trapped in two feet of snow at Akrona, heaviest fall in that district in years. Goderich reported 16 inches of snow in 48 hours. The fall was continuous Saturday at Windsor and the temperature dropped to 25 above during the night.

MEETING OF COOPER AND REMINGTON WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The regular meeting of Cooper and Remington Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Fred Holmes on November 17th, with a good attendance. The meeting opened with the president, Mrs. W. Phillips presiding. The Institute Ode and "O Canada" were sung, followed with the Lord's prayer. The roll call, "One Thing About My Home I Would Like to Change," was well responded to. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was given. A short business period was conducted. Letters of thanks were read from several members for dainties.

It was decided to send a donation to the Ontario Society for Crippled Children. It was moved we would apply for the branch grant of $3.00. "Home on the Range," was then sung.

Mrs. Maurice Reynolds and Mrs. W. R. Rollins gave splendid reports on the Belleville Area Convention. Mrs. George Ferguson gave the topic, "Home Atmosphere." Mrs. Frank Reynolds gave a reading "Will Those Days Never Come Back." Mrs. Stan. Rollins gave a very nice Armistice reading. Current Events were given by Mrs. Oscar Taylor. Collection was taken.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem. The hostess and her assistants served a very dainty lunch.

WEDDINGS

PALMATEER-BUSH

A quiet wedding took place at St. Andrew's United Church Parsonage, Marmora, on Tuesday evening, November 9th, when Miss Iva Evelyn Bush and Mr. James Edward Palmateer, both of Gunter, were united in marriage by Rev. C. W. Hollingsworth.

TO BOWMANVILLE WILL TEACH IN NEW ZEALAND

A mother's inability to control her teen-aged son, coupled with the visible indifference shown by the lad in Tuesday's Juvenile Court held before Magistrate E. J. Butler, K.C., resulted in an incorrigible Springbrook lad being committed to the Boys' Training School at Bowmanville by His Worship.

The Bowmanville Training School will afford this boy the proper environment in obedience and education and perhaps straighten him out," commented His Worship as he turned the lad over to Inspector T. D. Ruston of the Children's Aid Society.

The lad was arraigned in court by Mr. Ruston, following his apprehension and conviction on a charge of the theft preferred by the Provincial Police recently, after the boy had robbed a Springbrook store, taking large quantities of cigarettes and candy. "It wasn't the first time this boy had committed such an offence," commented Provincial Constable E. Smith, who investigated.

"I have tried every way I know to make him behave himself, but it seems hopeless. He just won't pay any attention to me," added the boy's mother, as she appeared with tears streaming down her face when faced with the question of losing her boy. The lad was escorted to the Bowmanville Training School by Mr. Ruston on Wednesday.

ALBERT MATTHEWS ASSUMES OFFICE ON NOVEMBER 30

Ontario will have a new Lieutenant-Governor on November 30th, Albert Matthews, well-known Toronto broker but if the provincial government carries out its announced plans the new incumbent will have to provide his own government house.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced Tuesday night that resignation of Dr. Herbert A. Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor since 1932, had been accepted as on November 30th, and that Mr. Matthews would take his place. He had no comment on the proposal of the Ontario government to dispose of Chorley Park, official residence of Ontario's Lieutenant-Governors.

Mr. Matthews is a brother of Hon. R. C. Matthews, Minister of National Revenue in the Bennett Government and of W. E. Matthews, former chairman of the Federal District Commission in Ottawa.

Dr. Bruce's term expired some weeks ago but his resignation was tendered only last week after he had been officially advised by Premier Hepburn that Chorley Park would be sold. His resignation was to be effective December 1st.

SHOWER FOR NEWLYWEDS

On Friday evening last over one hundred and fifty friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Campion in honor of their daughter, Luta, who was united in marriage to Mr. Wallace Lawrence on November 10th. Many beautiful and costly gifts were presented to the happy couple, including a dining room table, chairs and rocker from a number of the neighbors, also many other useful and attractive gifts.

The evening was spent in dancing and social intercourse, and a bountiful lunch was served at midnight. Afterwards the bride and groom were called upon and a short address was read by Mr. L. P. Hughes. Both responded nicely. Before the gathering dispersed all joined in singing, "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

WOULD PRESERVE BAY CONFERENCE

Rev. J. Maxwell Allan of Pembroke President of the Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church of Canada, in session in Belleville on Wednesday, stated in reference to the proposed absorption of the Bay of Quinte Conference territory by the Toronto and Montreal Conferences, that "he thought it was inadvisable to disturb the Bay of Quinte Conference boundaries. The Bay of Quinte has a distinct place in the life of the church."

Belleville, Cobourg, Kingston, Lindsay, Oshawa, Peterborough, and Renfrew Presbytery members of the Bay of Quinte Conference will vote on the question in the near future.

Miss Ruby Rundle of Bloomfield, teacher in the Windsor Public School will spend the next year teaching in New Zealand. Miss Rundle's name appears among the list of forty-four Ontario teachers who will exchange schools with teachers in other parts of the British Commonwealth of Nations. Each year the number of exchanges are arranged among the teachers of the various units in the Empire.

Miss Rundle will go to Huapal School in Auckland, N. Z., and Miss Susan Daines whose place she takes will come to the Windsor school.

MR. ZARA BRISTOL AS CHEESEMAKER AT SHANNONVILLE

The directors of the Shannonville Cheese Company met at the home of the secretary to consider choosing a cheesemaker from the numerous applications received in answer to advertisements. Mr. Zara Bristol received the unanimous support of all directors owing to high qualifications, although regretting the resignation of Mr. J. C. Spencer who was forced to retire through ill-health.

Mr. Bristol and family will receive a hearty welcome from the community.

PETERBORO CHINESE RAISE $5000 FUND

A war fund to the amount of $5,000 gained solely by volunteer subscription has been raised by the Chinese colony of Peterborough and will be forwarded through the Canadian Branch of the Chinese Red Cross to China this week. Chinese Red Cross stamps have also made their appearance in Peterborough and are being sold by proprietors of all Chinese business houses. Richly colored, they portray scenes and characters of present day China, and have been enjoying good sales. Proceeds from the stamps will also be used as an aid toward China's war chest.

HELP BUY PIANO

The members of the Women's Association of Riverview United Church at Dundalk are convinced that Hon. Earl Rowe and Hon. M. F. Hepburn are both pretty good fellows.

Wishing to complete payments on a piano, the association wrote to the two political leaders explaining that they were without funds. Both responded with contributions.

The piano is paid for now and the ladies are all saying: "Thank you, Earl and Mitch."

Our Farm News Letter

FERTILIZATION IS KEY TO GARDENING

In the spring a young man's fancy turned to gardening. To tell the truth, he was not altogether following his fancy when he decided to turn his spacious back yard into a truck farm. Rather, he was coerced into it by his two next-door neighbours, one a Scot, the other a Sassenach, but both ardent gardeners who chewed the rag and the produce of their gardens all winter and cooled their heels while waiting impatiently for the time when they could dig and plant again. Both bestowed much attention and advice on the young man who had come to dwell between them and reminded him that a garden may be made to reflect the character of its owner.

In "The Spell of London," H. V. Morton says, "It seems a rule in certain crowded streets that the front of a house must be as glum as the face of a poker player. You must never be able to tell from the front of a house what is going on inside. But the back of the same house casts off all restraint. The back windows and the back gardens are allowed to tell you almost as much as an old matron who has had ten children will tell you over her third glass of gin."

If he was to dwell between his two gardener neighbours in amity and retain his self respect, the young man, who may be named Legg for short, resolved to have a garden. Some time before the frost was out of the ground the two veterans sowed seeds of lettuce, cabbage and tomatoes in the starting boxes, the Scot not forgetting to plant some kale, and in the art of this preliminary process Legg was duly instructed. Later on he learned how to transfer the seedlings to the hot-bed, finally, to the cold frame for hardening before they were placed in the garden beds. By this time spring had definitely arrived and work in the three gardens proceeded apace. Unfortunately, said Legg, as he related his experience to B. Leslie Emslie, the advice of the two experts was conflicting and confusing, the Scot telling him that he was watering too liberally and cultivating too deeply, the Englishman that he was erring in the other direction.

His methods being approved by neither and anxious to avoid the rebukes flung across the fence, Legg tended his garden furtively, or after his neighbours had retired to sleep off the effects of their toil. Soon he ceased to cultivate his garden at all, as the demands of business left little time for his new hobby.

Spring turned to summer, and Legg's garden stuff flourished to the wonder of the experts who gazed across it at each other, with sweat be-dimmed eyes, and perhaps with a wild surmise. The Leggs had enjoyed crisp lettuce and radishes of the choicest and peas of the earliest and sweetest. Now as summer merged into autumn table corn, tomatoes and cucumbers graced their board. Legg had no cause now to avoid his neighbours. "How is it," asked one, "that we seldom saw you working in your garden, and yet your stuff beats ours? I've never seen better tomatoes or bigger ears of sweet corn than yours. How do you explain it?" Recognizing the debt he owed these men for having forced him into gardening, Legg did not longer conceal the secret from them. "I have proved," said he, "that cultivation during the season of growth can be overdone; but the chief reason for my success as a gardener is that one night in spring, while you fellows were asleep, I applied fertilizers."

FLIERS BREAK

FIVE RECORDS

Flying Officer A. E. Clouston and Mrs. Betty Kirby-Green on Saturday broke the London-Cape Town-London air record, landing at Croydon at 3:22 p.m. (10:22 E.S.T.).

Covering the 6,000 miles from the Cape in 57 hours, 22 minutes, they bettered the Cape Town-London record set by H. L. Brook in May by nearly 39 hours and lowered the round trip record held by Mrs. Amy Johnson Mollison by three days, 16 hours.

The New Zealand Royal Air Force officer and Mrs. Kirby-Green completed the 12,000-mile round trip in four days, six hours, 27 minutes. Mrs. Mollison last year took seven days, 22 hours, 40 minutes in setting the record that stood until Saturday. These times do not include the stopovers at the Cape.

All together Clouston and his companion broke five records—London-Cairo, London-Johannesburg, London and the London-Cape Town-London Cape Town round trip.

The fliers made the trip in the same De Havilland Comet in which C. W. A. Scott and the late Campbell Black won the England to Australia air derby in 1934.

RAT BITES CAT

BEFORE CAMERA

Marvella, a member of the Siamese cat family was treated for painful paw injuries at New York Friday, after Minnie, a fancy rat, had bitten her at the first combined, Rat, Cat and Mouse Show ever held in the United States.

The accident occurred when photographers attempted to make a picture of the couple together. Just as the camera was ready to click, Marvella reached out a timid paw and Minnie bit it. The cat cried out but made no attempt to retaliate.

Her mistress protested against subjecting well-bred cats to the danger of being exhibited with rats and mice. But Rev. R. W. Ferrier who organized the American Mouse Fanciers' Club, came to Minnie's defence, insisting that the rat acted in self defence.

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION COUNCIL CONVENES AT BEULAH CHURCH

Huntingdon Township had the honor privilege this year of entertaining the Centre Hastings Religious Education Council Convention. The convention church was Beulah United Church. After noon and evening sessions were held on Wednesday, November 17th.

Mr. Irvine Bateman of Thomasburg, President of the Association presided over both sessions. The weather was ideal and large representations from every township in Centre Hastings were present.

Centre Hastings comprises the townships of Rawdon, Huntingdon, Hungerford, Marmora, Madoc and Elzevir. Rev. A. W. Harding of Springbrook, conducted the worship period for the first session, and Rev. H. H. Lackey, pastor of the convention church, gave an address of welcome. Mr. Irvine Bateman then took charge and gave a resume of the year's work. The Department Superintendents then gave their reports. The secretary-treasurer's report by Mr. H. M. Wood was held over until the evening session. Mr. Wood being unable to be present on account of the death of his sister, Miss Mary Wood.

The convention was fortunate in having as the O. R. E. C. representative the Children's Work Secretary, for the Province of Ontario in the person of Miss Tetannis Semmons of Toronto. Those in attendance were treated to the best round table conference they had ever witnessed led by Miss Semmons.

The principal subject under discussion was the Temperance question. The appointing of committees and benediction closed this session.

The ladies of Beulah church served an excellent supper in the dining hall of the Town Hall for all delegates remaining over for the evening service. Prior to the opening of the evening service, Miss Semmons conducted a helpful song service of children's hymns that have just recently been published.

Rev. W. A. Hunter of St. Peter's Presbyterian Church, Madoc, conducted the worship period for the evening session. Rev. James Beckel of Stirling read the report of the nominating committee and Canon W. G. Swayne of Bonarlaw installed the following officers for 1937-38:

President—Mr. Irvine Bateman, of Thomasburg.

First Vice-President—Mr. Harold Varty, Tweed.

Second Vice-President—Mr. Willet, Madoc.

Third Vice-President—Mrs. Fred McCauley, Fuller.

Fourth Vice-President—Mr. Wm. Johnston, Rawdon.

Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. M. Wood, Crookston.

Assistant Secretary-Treasurer—Mr. J. F. Baker, Bonarlaw.

Department Superintendents: Children's Work, Mrs. (Rev.) Herrington, Thomasburg.

Girls' Work—Miss Bessie Fleming, Ivanhoe.

Boys' Work—Mr. Fred Elgie, Stirling.

Young People's Work—Mr. H. V. Hoover, Rawdon.

Adult Department—Miss Ida McCaw, Madoc.

Home Religion—Mrs. W. S. Swayne, West Huntingdon.

Leadership Training—Rev. W. R. Tristram.

Missionary—Miss Frances Keene, Madoc.

Temperance—Mrs. J. McCaffrey, of Madoc.

An invitation was received from Springbrook to have the next convention there. The invitation was accepted.

Mr. Fred Elgie outlined the details of the East Hastings Boys' Election. Nine junior girls from the Ivanhoe Public School sang in a most impressive manner "Listening to the Voice of Jesus." Mrs. J. C. Sills gave the report of the Resolutions Committee. Mr. J. F. Baker gave the secretary's report in the form of an address stressing the importance of duties of various officers. Miss Tetannis Semmons gave the closing address and left a lasting impression on all present. Her subject was "Do our children need religion?" Miss Semmons' wide experience and her ability as a public speaker brought out many thoughts on the present day problems confronting the leaders of the youth in this day and age.

Today is different from yesterday and tomorrow will be different from today. The world today she compared to a small neighborhood. The responsibility of the child, she stated, is first the home; second, the church, third, the state. The greatest need of the day is not lessons but leaders. The child does not remember much about the lessons taught in early childhood, but he does remember his teachers. More dangers surround our children today

BUSINESS BOOMS AT NORTH BAY

"Depression, huh, they don't know the meaning of the word," Constable M. Williams of the Sudbury Police Force said recently referring to labor conditions in the northern city. "The mines and other industries are running full blast, people have plenty of money and generally conditions are much better than they have been for years."

"The foreign population as a rule is quiet, law-abiding and hardworking, although occasionally they break out and cause trouble. We have several nationalities living in the city. In fact the force engaged the services of an interpreter who speaks seven different languages recently to facilitate matters."

Constable Williams stated that the section of the province was one of the best. "I have been there a year and I have grown to like both the country and the people," he said, but it does make a fellow feel good to come back to the "Banana Belt" occasionally to see the old home town and the boys.

Constable Williams who left Belleville Saturday morning for Sudbury made a flying trip to Demorestville to attend the funeral of his brother, the late Burdette Williams, who was burned to death last week in a motor accident near Bloomfield, that also claimed the life of Harley Cole, of Picton.

CANADIANS FAILING

TO PULL TOGETHER

Sir Evelyn Wrench, founder of the English-Speaking Union and the Overseas League, says that Canadians are "not pulling together."

Sir Evelyn, in Toronto after a tour of the Dominion, addressed the Union there. He is winding up a honeymoon that took him and Lady Wrench through the China war zone and put them on the same ship as hundreds of refugees and five murderers.

Sir Evelyn says that if he came to Canada to live he would start a unity league. "That spirit of optimism I knew when I was here in 1908—where has it gone? Everywhere I go I heard people grumbling about sectional grievances. You're not pulling together. I know I rave about unity; but isn't that the one thing that means peace?"

than ever before.

In Toronto thirty Atheistic Sunday schools are teaching 3,000 children that there is no God. The story of the Blind Indian Boy made a fitting climax to this outstanding address.

Rev. Beckel closed the convention with the benediction.

INTERNATIONAL FORCE FOR PEACE

Two Nobel Peace Prize winners, Viscount Cecil of Chelwood, and Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, believe some international force must be established if wars are to be prevented.

Their advocacy of what Dr. Butler described as a world police force was before the League of Nations Association, the World Alliance for International Friendship and the World Peace Union, gathered in joint session at New York Saturday.

Lord Cecil, who said the supremacy of law was the chief secret of civilization, prescribed several means of attaining peace. The "great thing" among these means was a force of some kind to uphold the law of nations.

Besides pleading for establishment of an authoritative international law, with restoration of the sanctity of treaties, Lord Cecil advocated establishment of machinery to enable nations to review and alter treaties. He said reduction and limitation of armaments, an establishment of a tribunal or assembly, to which nations can submit their differences, were necessary.

MEETING OF HUNTINGDON CONSERVATIVE ASSOC.

The Huntingdon Conservative Association held their annual meeting at the Ivanhoe Town Hall on Wednesday evening of last week. The president, Mr. David Thompson, presided over the meeting. After the business period was concluded the following officers were duly elected:

Honorary President—Mr. David Thompson.

President—Mr. Robert Downey.

First Vice-President—Mr. Samuel Donnan.

Second Vice-President—Mr. A. R. Jones.

Secretary—Mr. M. English.

Treasurer—Mr. Albert Duggan.

DEATH SENTENCE IS COMMUTED

William Labadie, 17-year-old boy from Sarnia, Ont., under sentence to be hanged December 13th for the murder of John Luckins, seven-year-old son of his employer, will spend the rest of his life in the penitentiary.

The death sentence has been commuted to life imprisonment by the government on the recommendation of Justice Minister Lapointe. Labadie was sentenced October 1, 1937. Labadie was convicted by an Ontario Supreme Court jury at Sarnia on September 30th of the murder of 7-year-old John Luckins March 12th. The jury recommended mercy.

The 17-year-old farm hand was sentenced the following day by Mr. Justice John Kellar MacKay to be hanged December 13th. The youth merely gulped once or twice as he heard the sentence, maintaining the composure he had shown throughout his three-day trial.

Labadie was not immediately advised he had been granted executive clemency. Sheriff Johnston said he planned to tell the youth some time Saturday.

PEDESTRIAN INJURED

Painful injuries were sustained by Mrs. G. Howell, Trenton, a pedestrian when she collided with a car driven by George Kellar, Trenton, last Saturday night. Mr. Kellar was going east on Dundas street and turning into a service station when the mishap occurred. Dr. E. A. McQuade treated Mrs. Howell for a number of lacerations and bruises.

The above officers were installed by Mr. Henry Wallace.

A vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. David Thompson for his efficient leadership as president for the past number of years.

44 ESTATES OWE FIFTY MILLIONS TO ONTARIO GOVERNMENT

Special session of the Ontario Legislature opening December 1 will pass additional legislation to enable collection of duties from estates of millionaires, "flagrantly defrauding" the province, according to Premier Hepburn.

Investigation showed 44 estates owed the province $50,000,000, he said, and added: "We'll pass legislation at this special session to make it possible to collect the money. After all the courts only interpret the laws passed by the people's representatives."

COOKERY

Cabbage Salad Combinations

1. Cabbage and bean.
2. Cabbage and beet.
3. 1 1-2 cups cabbage, 1-4 cup apple, 2 tablespoons celery, 1-2 cup pineapple.
4. Cabbage and peanuts.
5. 1 1-2 cups cabbage, 1-4 cup chopped onion, 1-4 cup pimento.
6. Half cup cabbage, half cup of shredded lettuce, half cup of celery, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 2 tablespoons minced parsley.

Shower Salad

- 1 package strawberry gelatine
 - 1 pint boiling water
 - Pinch of salt
 - 1 cup canned pineapple
 - 1 cup apple
 - 3 large cherries (candied).
- Dissolve gelatine in boiling water, add salt, cool until slightly thickened, stir in pineapple which has been diced before measuring, add apple pared and diced, and cherries finely chopped. Turn into mould and chill until firm, unmould on lettuce, garnish with mayonnaise and cherries.

WHAT MAKES A PATIENT COMFORTABLE?

Thinking of things to do for the patient before he asks for them is part of the work of the nurse. Bring fresh drinking water to the patient several times a day unless the doctor has prohibited it. Change the position of the pillow. Keep tiresome visitors out of the sick room. Never whisper to others in the sick room or elsewhere if the patient can hear the whispering. Do not sit on the bed, lean against it or bump it.

The patient should never be asked how he feels or what he wants to eat. Talk about pleasant, interesting things. Reading aloud sometimes helps to amuse the patient. Children will need toys to play with which are easily held and which can be destroyed or washed and boiled after being used for this purpose.

The home nurse may be the home maker and have many other duties besides those of a nurse. She may need to leave undone some of the housekeeping tasks in order to have time to care for the patient. She must take care of her own health as well as that of the patient. "A good nurse is one who can guard her own health and take care of her patient at the same time."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

1. Instead of using a mat to kneel on when scrubbing or waxing the floors, use two rubber sponges. Fasten them about the knees with an elastic garter.
2. White enamelware may be cleaned of stains by making a strong solution of baking soda and rain water. Put the utensils in it and boil them hard; they will be as white as snow.
3. To polish nickel, rub a damp cloth over soap until a thick lather is formed, then dip in salt and apply to the nickel. After it is dry polish with a soft cloth.
4. To remove rain spots from satin felt and similar materials, use a soft ball of tissue paper. Rub the affected parts with a circular movement.

OVEN TEMPERATURES AND TESTS

The temperature of the oven can be determined most accurately by the use of a thermometer. When no thermometer is available the oven temperature can be tested by the use of flour. Spread a teaspoonful of flour or less, about one-quarter inch deep on a pan or sheet of paper. When the colour of flour shows that the temperature has reached the desired point, hold the hand in the middle of the oven and count slowly until the heat becomes unbearable. Record the count. With experience the hand will serve to test the temperature.

Type of oven—Slow: Temperature, 250 to 350 degrees F.; Test with flour five minutes, Light Brown.

Type of Oven, Moderate: Temperature 350 to 400 degrees F.; Test with flour 5 minutes, Golden Brown.

Type of Oven, Hot: Temperature, 400 to 450 degrees F.; Test with flour 5 minutes, Dark Brown.

Type of Oven, Very Hot: 450 to 550 degrees F.; Test with flour 5 minutes, Very Dark Brown.

EDEN RESIGNATION TALK CALLED RIDICULOUS

Reports that Foreign Secretary Eden had tendered his resignation to Prime Minister Chamberlain as a protest against the forthcoming visit of Viscount Halifax to Germany were described as "perfectly ridiculous" in official circles in London Monday.

Privy Council officials formally denied press reports that the Berlin visit of the Lord President of the Council had been cancelled.

Mr. Chamberlain, Lord Halifax and Mr. Eden were understood to have discussed the questions which will be submitted to Chancellor Hitler at Berlin later this week.

In his conversations with Hitler, Lord Halifax is expected to seek, without entering into negotiations to explore the Fuehrer's point of view of six cardinal problems—Spain, the Far East, the Anti-Comintern Pact, the proposed Western European Pact, Central Europe and the Reich's colonial demands.

Great Britain's position in regard to Spain, calling for withdrawal of foreign fighters and maintenance of the nation's territorial integrity, is well known.

In regard to the Sino-Japanese conflict, it appears London would not object to Hitler's appearance in the role of mediator.

As to the Anti-Comintern Pact, Great Britain has long been opposed to ideological struggles.

Hitherto conclusions of an Eastern European Pact embracing both the Soviet Union and Germany has been held essential. British diplomats are now believed in some quarters to feel this condition can be omitted if an arrangement in regard to Central Europe is reached. It is hoped in London a conciliatory attitude on the Anti-Comintern Pact will moderate German demands in regard to Austria and Czechoslovakia. These countries present problems which London urgently desires to see settled without territorial changes, although a section of the London Press is in favor of a plebiscite in Austria.

The last problem is that of colonies. It is believed in London that Berlin does not regard this as urgently as may appear, and that Nazi leaders are prepared to fall in with the British idea that settlement of this matter should be reserved for the last, as the keynote of the edifice of European peace.

WATER POLLUTION KILLS MANY FISH

Inspector Willard E. Tillman of the State Conservative Department Saturday was directing search for a source of pollution that Friday killed countless fish in the Niagara River.

He described the river as being "white with dead fish" from bank to bank.

Tillman warned people against gathering in the fish and eating them.

Samples of water were taken from the river for analysis to determine the exact nature of the poison. He said source of the pollution was believed to be near the head of the river.

The fish, floating on swift river waters, could be seen as far north as Tonawanda. Many were washed ashore on river banks.

Fishermen said the fish deaths was serious as this season, due to international re-stocking activities in the Great Lakes, was the best in a decade.

Inspector Tillman announced that a heavy penalty would be imposed if the source of the poisoning could be located. New York State law alone provides for a minimum fine of $500 per day.

TWO WINDSOR HOTELS ARE TO FACE CHARGES

A charge of breach of the Liquor Control Act was laid against two Windsor hotels on Monday after week-end police raids. The hotels were alleged to have been selling beer after the midnight hour closing law.

At the Frontier Hotel, licensed in the name of Edsel Meretsky, Windsor, approximately fifty persons were present when a raiding squad entered. Approximately twenty-five customers

FOUR DROWN AS CAR PLUNGES OFF END OF WINDSOR DOCK

Drowning of four persons when trapped in an automobile that plunged 20 feet off a 300-foot dock into the Detroit River at Windsor was investigated Monday by police who sought to determine how long they remained in the water.

The four, two men and two women, were believed to have drowned Saturday when the automobile toppled into the water. The tragedy was discovered Sunday when a fisherman saw signs of something having passed over the end of the dock.

The dead are: Frank Whitaker, 45, superintendent of Gar Wood Industries, Limited, Windsor; Harold Golds, Timmins, Ont.; Marjorie Darragh, 27, Windsor; Mrs. Helen Reaume, 40, of Windsor.

It was not definitely known what time the sedan toppled off the end of the dock which reached into the river from a little-used street in the west end of the city. Movements of the quartet for several hours before they were drowned were unknown.

James Garrick of Windsor, noticed the plank dock bore marks that indicated a heavy vehicle scraped the boards when he went fishing Sunday. Police were notified and firemen were called to the scene. After a few minutes grappling the automobile was found in about 20 feet of water about 30 feet from the end of the dock.

The car was hoisted to the dock and the four bodies found inside. Whitaker was identified almost immediately by means of the license plates and later the names of the other occupants were learned.

Golds was in Windsor to purchase truck bodies from the company with which company Whitaker was connected. He represented the Feldman Timber Company, Timmins. Whitaker was superintendent of an automotive industry owned by Phil Wood, brother of Gar Wood, well known motorboat racer.

CANCER CAUSE IN SECRETIONS GIVEN OFF BY INJURED CELLS

Tracing ten years of experiments, Dr. George Spertl, internationally known scientist and director of the Institutum Divi Tomae, published on Monday in the Institution's journal results of researches showing a direct cause of cancer lies in secretions given off by injured body cells.

"Quite definitely, we have no cure for cancer," said Dr. Spertl. "But, of course, that is a goal toward which we and many other scientists are working."

"It may be a year, ten years, or a century, before any cure for cancer is found, although we believe our discovery is a step toward that end."

Dr. Spertl, at 37, is a member of the Pontifical Academy of Sciences.

Dr. Spertl modestly credited the find to two members of his staff, Dr. John R. Loofbourov and Sister Cecilia Marie Dwyer, S.C.

Dr. Loofbourov asserted the secretions given off by injured cells were found to stimulate cell proliferation such as occurs in healing and that "cancer resembles an over-enthusiastically healing injury."

Dead cells, he said, do not expel the cancer hormone. Wounds, such as cuts or burns, kill most of the injured cells and malignancy does not result, but if large volumes of cells are injured over long periods of time the production of stimulating products may be sufficient to cause malignancy.

Dr. Loofbourov said secretions given off by the injured cells caused nearby cells to multiply. Such growth uncontrolled, he believes to result in cancer.

SAWDUST USED TO WRAP DYNAMITE

Eight pounds of sawdust were in the infernal machine that failed to go off in the plant of the north American Cyanamid Company at Niagara Falls, Ont., Saturday, it was revealed Monday as Sergt. Corless, Royal Canadian Mounted Police, joined local police in the investigation.

The dynamite was in a tin lunch box and was covered with sawdust. Two detonators were arranged to be set off by a rat trap attachment when the box was opened. This mechanism didn't work when Steve Phillips, 47, Cyanamid employee, opened the box and spilled its contents on the floor.

Authorities are divided in opinion. Some believe it was an attempt on Phillips' life. Others think it was designed to damage the factory.

HALF A LOAF

IS A WHOLE LOT BETTER THAN

NONE

At this time when the year 1936 has passed we make an earnest request to those whose subscriptions are in arrears, and to others whose accounts who have been running for a long time to "render unto Caesar," as the Good Book puts it.

As time passes it becomes more and more evident that the depression has produced a most careless attitude on the part of many people toward obligations that they would have paid promptly in the days previous to 1929.

There is a tendency these days to say: "Well, no one is paying his debts, so why should I?" This is one of the most potent causes of the continued hard times. If you don't pay me, I can't pay the other fellow, and in the end it goes around the circle until he can't pay you. So nobody gets paid, and business languishes.

Pay Something on Account

Some people who have let an account run for some time avoid making any payment because they feel obligated to pay the whole thing at once and can't afford the outlay. This is a wrong attitude. People who pay some on account are helping their creditor along and, at the same time, they are reducing their obligation and establishing a reputation for being "good pay."

The Review employs a staff and has a heavy overhead, like all other business concerns of the kind, and it must pay its help in dollar bills. We ask, therefore, that subscribers in arrears give this matter a little bit of thought and meet their obligation either in whole or in part.

The thing to do is pay something on account and keep the wheels of business moving.

Look at Your Label

Your label shows how you stand with The Review. If it reads "1933" that means you owe since 1933 and a few dollars would be most acceptable.

This appeal also applies to accounts for advertising and job printing that have been allowed to slide for some time. Loose credit is the curse of business today. If it could be eliminated, prices of everything could be reduced at least 25 per cent. The trouble is the man who pays promptly for everything, these days, is helping to carry some other fellow who is running a long overdue bill.

Prompt Payment of Accounts Like Competition, is the Life of Trade.

CONVICT MINISTER OF HAMMER SLAYING

Rev. E. C. Newton was convicted Tuesday of slaying a loyal church worker and the jury fixed his punishment at life imprisonment.

The Missouri country preacher had pleaded he was the victim of circumstances in the brutal hammer slaying last July of Mrs. Dennis Kelly, 45-year-old of Paris, Mo.

"I'm not surprised at the verdict because of prejudice in this case," said the 51-year-old minister when his fate was declared. "I intend to ask for a new trial."

Merrill Johnston, youthful state's attorney who read to the jury Newton's purported "confession" to slaying his former Sunday school teacher "with something, I think a hammer," the night of last July 12, said:

"I'm well satisfied with the decision."

TWO MEN KILLED AS ENGINE PLUNGES

Brakeman W. E. Moore, 46, and Bridgeman John Collins, 59, were killed Tuesday when the locomotive and one car of a westbound Canadian Pacific Railway freight train crashed through a bridge into the Coquihalla River near Princeton, B. C., 150 miles east of Vancouver.

Engineer, fireman and other members at the last end of the bridge when the train approached and proceeded on the timber bridge at a speed officials estimated at three miles an hour. It had just started across when the bridge collapsed, carrying the engine and the first metal-laden car into the river.

RUTH SMITH GIVES SPLENDID LESSON IN CONQUERING HANDICAPS

Lovely little Ruth Smith of Detlor, Ont., is 15, and has no use of her arms or legs. But who would guess it to look at her laughing eyes, the Christmas cards she makes? Ruth was only seven when infantile paralysis left her arms and legs limp. Things looked black for little Ruth but one day she got the idea of trying to write a letter with a pencil clutched between her teeth. After a good deal of patient trying she began to write legibly that way, and from there it was a step to painting, with the brush held the same way. She paints a portrait of the heroine of every one of the many books she reads, but best of all she likes painting landscapes. She has made more than $100 from Christmas card painting in the same way.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGES LAID

Manslaughter charges were laid against Archie Crossen, 32, Marmora, and Martin Murray, 21, Barry's Bay, following an inquest into the death of Michael Billings, 42, of Barry's Bay, who was fatally injured in an automobile accident near Wilno on the night of Sept. 14th last.

Billings was a passenger in an automobile with Murray, which collided with a truck driven by Crossen and the inquest jury found both drivers at fault.

The evidence before the coroner's jury indicated that the two machines met on a curve and that both were on the wrong side of the road. Crossen attempted to get back to the right side of the highway and the machines collided. Billings was almost instantly killed while both Murray and Crossen received minor injuries.

Subsequently reckless driving charges were laid against both drivers and the more serious charges were laid following the investigation. Both men were admitted to bail.

BELLEVILLE CHEESE BOARD SALES OVER $1,000,000

Some indication of the extent of a season's trading on the Belleville Cheese Board is given through an announcement made Tuesday by Secretary-Treasurer Fred Mallory of the local Board that during the past summer almost one million dollars, to the cent, had been paid by buyers to cheese factories of the district during the regular Saturday tradings.

All deals were cash ones, made directly across the Board.

"This year has been the biggest and best year for trading we have had since the war," stated Mr. Mallory, "and we have one more year to go, which will raise the total to well over one million dollars for the season's buying."

PETERBOROUGH GIRL WANTS TO BE PROSPECTOR

In Peterborough to instruct those wishing a short course in prospecting, Dr. H. Norwood of the Department of Mines, received a decided surprise during the enrollment Tuesday afternoon.

Busy entering the names of about thirty applicants, the doctor saw a tall blonde girl enter the room. Thinking she had got into the room in error, he said jokingly: "You're not interested in the classes by any chance?" The quick reply assured him of something novel in the class, for the blonde answered: "You bet I am. In fact I have already bought some of the equipment and can hardly wait until spring."

This is the first time that the doctor has had a member of the weaker sex in his classes and he is somewhat puzzled at her interest.

HUNTERS GET DEER NEAR BANNOCKBURN

Four buck red deer, two of which weigh well over 200 pounds each, and three does, shot in the district by a party of seven headed by Stanley Kerr, Belleville, including Roy Anderson, also of Belleville, and Charles Biggs of Picton, remain in the woods at the hunting camp owing to the uncertainty of getting them out over the muddy and treacherous roads. It is expected that another trip will be made into the camp where the animals have been safely hung in trees.

"Road conditions through that district are terrible," it was stated by the party which returned last week.

Prince Edward County apple growers served advance notice to growers of the province that they will be a force to be reckoned with in the future, when Alva Collier, South Bay, Robert Weese and Robert Dempsey, Albury, made practically a clean sweep in all classes at the Ottawa Winter Fair.

THREE FATALITIES RESULTED FROM TRAFFIC MISHAPS

Ontario counted a week-end death toll of five on Monday, the lightest in weeks, but numerous near-fatal highway accidents were reported as the result of unfavorable motoring weather. Three of the fatalities were the result of traffic mishaps, one man died in the crash of an airplane and another died by poisoning, taken in mistake for medicine.

The direct result of the heaviest snowstorm in five years which swept Western Ontario during the week-end Isabel Arbuthnot, 24, was killed on Sunday night when an automobile got out of control on a highway near Collingwood made slippery by deep snow. The car overturned into a ditch. The driver, George Eastland, escaped with minor injuries.

Joshua Thompson, 56, was killed on a Whitby street Saturday when hit by a car driven by George R. Sproat. Thompson was knocked into the path of another machine, driven by Norman Hoffer, neither driver was held. At Markham, near Toronto, Herbert Johnson, 42, was struck and killed by a car while driving a cow along a highway. Karl Cowie, driver of the automobile, was arrested on a charge of manslaughter.

Flight-Lieut. L. F. J. Taylor, 28, on exchange duty at the Royal Canadian Air Force base at Trenton, from New Zealand, was drowned Saturday when the land training plane he was flying somersaulted into the Bay of Quinte near the seaplane hangar. Officers stated Lieut. Taylor apparently misjudged his height above the glassy surface of the water.

An official board of inquiry met Saturday afternoon but its findings were not made public. The personnel of the board was not divulged. Coroner Dr. J. W. Farley of Trenton, said an inquest would not be held. It was the fifth fatal accident to R.C.A.F. officers since last August 4th.

Sidney Milliner, 22, died in a Galt hospital Saturday after swallowing poison in mistake for a household remedy at his home in Hespeler. No inquest will be held.

Fifteen persons were injured, nine of them seriously, in two traffic accidents in the Brantford area. Six were hurt in one crash near the village of St. George and taken to Brantford hospital where the condition of four was considered serious. Nine others were injured near Alberton when three automobiles and a truck collided. Five were seriously hurt.
